RUSSIAN BREAK UPSETS WORLD POLICE SCHEME

Breach Chills Ardor for U. S. Entry.

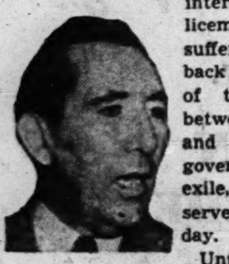
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 2.—Schemes to turn Uncle Sam into an international policeman have suffered a setback as a result of the rupture between Russia and the Polish government in exile, capital observers said today.



Sen. Claude Pepper.

Until last week some congressional leaders had expressed willingness to inquire further into proposals of various persons and groups who want America to join in policing the world after the war. But, observers said, the Polish-Russian diplomatic strife has chilled the ardor of the congressmen. Even such an ardent interventionist as Sen. Claude Pepper [D., Fla.] has seen fit to pull in his horns.

The congressional attitude was best expressed by a member of the senate foreign relations committee, who has been giving considerable time and thought to proposals for post-war international action.

Allied Tension Cited.

"This is no time to talk about forcing peace on the world with international police when we can't even keep peace among the allied nations," he said, commenting on the Polish-Russian break. "Squabbles such as Poland's with Russia will prevent our giving too much time for planning for post-war peace until the war is won."

There are half a dozen or so plans advocating an international police force pending before the senate foreign relations committee. The Ball-Burton-Hatch-Hill amendment has attracted the most comment because it is tied closely with the global thinking of Wendell L. Willkie and was submitted by some of his more ardent supporters.

Members of the committee said the Russian-Polish break makes it "most inappropriate" even to consider a resolution of this nature at this time and went so far as to tell reporters they could be assured the Ball-Burton-Hatch-Hill resolution would not be reported out by the committee at this time.

Trend Held More Pronounced.

The attitude of the senate two weeks ago, as shown in an Associated Press poll of opinion on United States participation in an international police force, was 32 to 24 against the plan. But the Russian-Polish dispute over German reports that Russia had slain captive Polish officers quickly turned many others against the proposal, it was learned.

Sen. Pepper, an advocate of full international coöperation who voted in favor of such a police plan in the Associated Press poll, said that after giving these plans considerable study he is convinced the wisest policy would be not to go too deeply into post-war peace proposals at this time.

"I don't know that we want to specify now that we are willing to participate in an international force to police the world," he told reporters. "I am leaning more and more to the idea that we must lay the groundwork for world-wide good will on which a just peace can be founded and maintained."

Effort to Be Discussed.

One effort of advocates of the world police force will be made in Chicago this week at a meeting of the Republican Post-War Policy association.

Sen. Joseph H. Ball [R., Minn.], one of the sponsors of the Ball-Burton-Hatch-Hill resolution, will appear as principal speaker with Rep. Everett M. Dirksen [R., Ill.] at the meeting.

The association was created by Deneen A. Watson, president of the University of Illinois Alumni association, and he acts as its chairman. Watson had been on the fringe of the Republican party organization in earlier campaigns and took an active part in the 1938 and 1940 campaigns.

EXPECT TRANSIT PLAN VETO, 8c FARE O.K. TODAY

ICC Slated to File Its Decision.

Forecasts were current last night that the Illinois commerce commission not only would rule today in favor of the retention permanently of an 8 cent surface lines fare, but also would make a final and rather blunt denial of the request for approval of the 179 million dollar Chicago traction unification scheme.

Those familiar with the commerce commissioners' work, said that while they had given no intimation of what the decisions would be, it was virtually certain they would hold the unification contrary to public interest. The commissioners are expected to decide that the fare raise of 1 cent granted temporarily in April, 1942, is still needed if there is to be no deterioration of service.

Consider Fare Big Issue.

Both decisions normally would be based on the welfare of the car riding public rather than on that of the investors in the present companies. It could well be, it was reasoned, that the commission was impressed with the argument of surface lines attorneys that a return to a 7 cent fare—after the lines' union employés had received a 9 cent an hour increase in pay—would put the company's operation in the red and make virtually impossible any betterment of service.

There has been greater public interest in unification than in the fare case. It became a football of politics last fall when members of the city council asserted that the commission, composed of five Republican appointees, should act immediately and without an extensive investigation.

Later, during his campaign for reelection, Mayor Kelly asserted that there was a plot to hold up the decision until after the election. John D. Biggs, chairman of the regulatory body, and his colleagues, have believed the criticisms were unjust; that they could not be expected to pass on a matter so fraught with public interest until they had fully complied with the state laws governing the consolidation of public utilities.

Stress Improvement Plans.

During long hearings before Fred Kleinman and Leslie E. Salter, commission examiners, witnesses for the proposed company laid much stress on the point that 102 million dollars probably would be spent over an eight year period for improvements for the benefit of the riding public.

It is reported that the commission looked on the proposal as too vague to have real meaning, and that failure of the proponents to commit themselves definitely to a betterment program was a fatal weakness of the whole plan. Another point on which the commission is said to have balked was the lack of provision for taking into the merger the Chicago Motor Coach company and Chicago Junction railroad—a separate corporation which owns the structure operated by the elevated lines and constituting the Kenwood-Stockyards branch lines.

Duration of Franchise Issue.

Still another objectionable feature, it was assumed, was the fact that by granting the new company the right to acquire the surface and elevated lines with a new issue of securities, the commission would approve a virtually interminable franchise to dominate the local transportation field.

The commission is believed to have considered this power too much to pass over to a new and untried management unless there were firm guarantees that the money for improvements actually would be ready at the end of the war; and unless there were provisions to make sure that 20 millions of cash in the surface lines treasury, put aside for renewals, is not dipped into for other purposes such as reorganization expense and attorneys' fees.

It has been reported that the uni-

51 JAP PLANES RAID AUSTRALIA

3 Foes Downed; Allied Losses Heavy.

A large force of Australian and British manned Spitfires intercepted the 51 invading planes but suffered heavy losses.

Of the invading force of 21 bombers and 30 Zero fighters, three fighters were destroyed and one bomber and nine fighters were damaged.

Strafe Japs at Mubo.

The admission in the communique for the first time in a year of aerial warfare that our losses were heavy was indicative of the ferocity of this air battle.

The Spitfires lost some of their prestige shortly after they went into action this year when, during one of their first battles with Japanese planes, they suffered a higher proportion of losses than was customary with allied pilots.

Along other fronts yesterday the 5th air force struck out at the Japanese with punishing effect, especially in the Mubo sector on New Guinea, where allied ground forces again were supported by a series of strafing runs.

Force Ship Ashore.

Medium bombers came upon a small enemy cargo ship in the Kai Island sector, 500 miles north of Darwin, and began bombing and strafing it. The ship, maneuvering wildly to escape the falling bombs, ran aground on a reef.

A heavy reconnaissance plane routed seven Japanese Zeros which attempted to intercept it over Gasmata, New Britain. Two of the enemy fighters were damaged.

2 Boy Fishermen Drown, 5 Safe as Boat Capsizes

Two of seven Joliet boys fishing in the Du Page river at Channahon, Ill., were drowned yesterday when their small motorboat capsized. Those drowned were Victor Molaschi, 18 years old, of 452 Cherry street, and Joseph Terdick, 11, of 424 Bridge street, both of Joliet. Robert Nash, 21, of 7421 Cornell street, Chicago, who with his mother, Mrs. John Nash, was fishing on a nearby bank of the river, pulled two of the boys from the cold waters. The other three made their way to shore.

Yanks Gain Slowly in Drive; Planes Drop Food, Munitions

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, May 2 (AP).—Fighting thru razorback hills so steep that advanced units were supplied with food and ammunition dropped from planes, American and French troops have pushed closer to Mateur and Bizerte. The Yanks and Frenchmen took 600 prisoners in their advance.

Ground action along the Tunisian front, now shrunk from 140 to about 125 miles as a result of the allied offensive, was described as in a "slight lull" by the allied communique.

A headquarters spokesman said the troops made a "slight improvement in all positions without much interference from the enemy," but the brunt of the offensive action was carried by the United States 2d army corps of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton Jr., in the Sidi N'sir area, where the southern branch of the American drive has reached to within 16 miles of Mateur, which is 18 miles southwest of Bizerte.

Finish Conquest of Hill.

Assisted by Moroccan Goums [native troops] and the French volunteer corps, the Americans also attacked and gained the western slopes of Djebel Hazemat, on the Mediterranean flank 14 miles northwest of Mateur and just to the northwest of Lake Achkel. [This mountain apparently is about 22 miles west of Bizerte.]

They failed to reach the summit, but they inflicted heavy casualties and took most of their 600 prisoners there.

Mop Up in Costal Area.

French units mopping up the northern coastal areas have reached the region of Marsa Douiba, a French communique said, and southeast of Pont du Fahs have thrown back a "violent German counterattack" with "severe loss to the enemy."

On the right flank of the American sector Patton's forces also held against a fierce and grim enemy counter-attack directed at hill 476, eight miles north of Mejez el Bab. The Americans had taken the position in a bayonet attack on Friday.

In this sector to the south of Sidi N'sir the Germans still hold a mountain salient on the north flank of the British 1st army which has driven down the Medjerda river valley to Djebel Bou Aoukaz, 20 miles west of Tunis.

For strategic reasons the Americans voluntarily withdrew from two hills, but occupied another in the "mousetrap" region of this area—so named because the Germans had attempted to draw Patton's men into a small plain surrounded by hills from which a murderous fire could be directed.

Sees Victory in May

ALGIERS, May 2 (AP).—Gen. Henri Giraud predicted today that all Tunisia would be liberated this month and that the war would be ended victoriously next year.

The French military and civil commander in chief remarked, in presenting diplomas to workers whose war efforts have been exceptional:

"May will see the complete defeat of the Boche in Tunisia. The 30 years war which began in 1914 will be ended victoriously in 1944."

The Americans suffered some in German bombing attacks, but their artillery, tucked in the hills about 15 miles from its target, continued to toss shells into the important road, railway and supply center of Mateur. The guns for the first time also shelled the Sidi Salem road, which skirts the western shore of Lake Achkel and provides a secondary line of communications between Mateur and Bizerte.

British Gain and Lose.

The British 1st army of Lt. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson improved its position slightly in the Mejez-el-Bab area, but to the southeast had to drop back about a mile in bitter fighting which took place four miles east of Goubellat on Friday.

The British 8th army made a renewed attack in the hills six miles north of Enfidaville yesterday where the Nazis had made some slight gains and flung the enemy back for a second time, but there was nothing official to confirm axis broadcasts of yesterday that Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery had begun anything like a second general assault.

British sea forces, in conjunction with airplanes, were searching out the hiding places of every enemy craft venturing into Tunisian waters. The communique said the allied sailors "operating around the coast of Cope Bon peninsula" on Wednesday rendered useless two Italian minesweepers and a German R-boat and sank a large motor vessel, while other naval forces sank a ship, a merchantman, off the south coast of Sicily.

[The German high command said the day had passed quietly in Tunisia, aside from "minor local fighting activity." The Germans claimed they had hit four freighters in a night attack on an allied convoy off Bengazi, Libya.]

PITS REOPEN TOMORROW; 'NO U. S. PROMISES MADE'

STRIKE GAMBLES WITH U. S. LIVES, SAYS PRESIDENT

Washington, D. C., May 2.—President Roosevelt, speaking 22 minutes after announcement of a 15 day truce in the coal strike, declared tonight—"coal will be mined no matter what any individual thinks about it" and expressed hope that every man will be at work tomorrow as the mines resume operations under government control.

He followed the text of the speech he had prepared before John L. Lewis' New York announcement.

"We have not yet won this war," he said in a radio address. "We will win this war only as we produce and deliver our total American effort on the high seas and on the battle fronts. That requires unrelenting, uninterrupted effort here on the home front."

Emphatically, the chief executive declared that the production of coal "will not be stopped."

"Such a stoppage, even for a short time, would involve a gamble with the lives of American soldiers and sailors and the future security of our whole people," he asserted.

No Strike Pledge Cited.

Directing his words, he said, to the "essential patriotism of the miners," Mr. Roosevelt called attention to the no-strike pledge of the major labor organizations. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, who had said his union members would not trespass on coal company property after a labor contract expired Friday night, was a party to that pledge.

The United Mine workers were a party, the President said, to a request for creation of the war labor board to settle any disputes which could not be adjusted thru collective bargaining. But he asserted that the national officers of the UMW had declined to have anything to do with the board's fact finding in the miner-operator dispute over a wage increase and other issues.

Critical Phase Now.

Mr. Roosevelt declared that the war had reached a new critical phase in which we have moved into "active and continuing battle with our enemies," after years of preparation. Reporting on recent inspection tour of the nation's war facilities, he said he had seen thousands of workers on production lines and men being trained for battle, and everywhere he found "great eagerness to get on with the war."

"The American people," he said, "have accomplished a miracle."

"This tremendous forward movement of the United States and the united nations cannot be stopped by our enemies.

"Equally, it must not be hampered by any one individual or by the leaders of any one group here back home."

That the President himself had had no direct word from Lewis on the truce was indicated before midnight by Presidential Secretary Stephen Early, who told reporters the President had "heard nothing official."

Report 6 Day Week Discussed at Ickes Parley.

(Pictures on pages 10 and 12.)

New York, May 2 (AP).—John L. Lewis tonight ordered the nation's 480,000 coal miners back to the pits, timing his announcement of a 15 day truce with the government now operating the mines just 22 minutes before President Roosevelt went on the air in an appeal to the miners to return to their jobs.

Lewis, early in the day, held a conference at Washington with Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes, boss of the government operated mines, and John R. Steelman, head of the United States conciliation service. Then followed his calling of his policy committee of the United Mine Workers here and the announcement of the truce. Lewis said the agreement was reached at the Washington conference. He said he had not seen the President.

Mines Reopen Tomorrow.

Lewis said that while some of the miners might return to their work on the night shift tomorrow, Tuesday had been set for the official reopening because of the necessity of informing the miners of the action taken.

Principal issues in both anthracite and bituminous controversies are for $2 per day wage increases and pay for all time spent in the mines, including travel time, and unionization of minor supervisory employes. The basic daily pay in the bituminous fields is $7 a day.

U. S. Orders Still Stand.

Negotiations between operators and miners in the anthracite controversy are to be resumed tomorrow morning. It was not stated when negotiations would be resumed by the miners with the coal operators over the bituminous situation.

Officials of the fuel administration said Lewis' announcement that the truce would begin Tuesday did not affect government plans for a Monday reopening of the mines. They said telegrams to all the operators calling for operation tomorrow "still stand," and Mr. Roosevelt specifically invited the miners to work tomorrow, many of whom were reported ready to do so.

Claims No Promises Made.

Reliable informants reported that a universal six day week for the coal mining industry was one of the matters Lewis discussed with Ickes in their two hour conference this morning. Ickes has been one of the principal proponents of the six day week for the industry, while the union has declared that many operators have failed to operate on the sixth day, paying premium pay, despite an adjustment in coal prices by OPA designed to compensate for this extra pay.

But Secretary of Labor Perkins told reporters that the truce included no promises to the mine workers' leadership. She added that Ickes will "try to work out something" while the miners

YANKS' JOB EACH DAY—ONE MORE HILL TO ATTACK

Fight Over Rough Ground in Northern Tunisia.

BY DREW MIDDLETON.
[New York Times Correspondent.]

WITH AN AMERICAN INFANTRY DIVISION ON THE TUNISIAN FRONT, May 1 [Delayed].—Each morning field guns start to bark, bombers to unload with their rolling roar on enemy positions, machine guns to chatter, and soldiers of this division sift forward to attack one more hill. Generally that hill is taken by nightfall.

In a little more than a week the Yanks have smashed 13 miles over the roughest kind of country north of Mejez el Bab, driving the troops of a crack German infantry division before them. They have been fighting steadily since January. They are confident, skilled, and "professional."

It does not seem like much, does it?—13 miles!

Hand to Hand Fighting.

You should see the country. The hills vary. At one point there is a rock ridge rising 180 feet from the top of a steep hill—a saw toothed position from which the Germans could not be driven by shellfire. It had to be taken by hand fighting. Grim, bitter fighting in which boys who a couple of years ago probably were having a "coke" with you at the corner drugstore fought like madmen to drive the Germans down into the valley beyond.

There are other hills less forbidding but just as hard to take. Thru field glasses they look almost gentle—green, symmetrical, and quiet in the sun. Then as something moves on the little valley in front they suddenly break out with spots of fire. Each spot is some sort of gun—an 88 or 105 mm. or heavy machine guns.

Then our own guns begin anew. If you are close the sound hits you like a clout on the ear. The roar bounces back off the hills and rolls down the valleys. Sometimes you can see shells bursting on the hills.

Move on Foe's First Line.

Then the infantry moves forward again going steadily but heavily toward the first line of German defenses at the bottom of a hill. Machine gun teams manhandle their guns into position. A man drops here and there. They go forward with a simple, steady courage until they reach the first German line and the real fighting and dying begin.

This is done in the daytime with the sun very hot in the little valleys. Often if they have been beaten off in the day these troops come back at night to attack again. It is that kind of division.

They go in silently at night, surprising the weary Germans with a line of yelling men and bayonets agleam in the starlight.

Get Hot Food at Night.

Mines explode and the whole hill bursts into fire with red tracer bullets etching a pattern against the black bulk of the hill and with rifle fire rippling from flank to flank.

Because there are men who would drive a truck thru hell, food gets up. Sometimes the front line troops get hot food only late at night when the cook truck heaves its way over the bumpy tracks. During the day they munch field rations whenever they have a chance and drink sparingly from their canteens.

COMMAND POST NERVE CENTER OF BATTLE ACTIVITY

Filters Information and Directs Fire.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH U. S. FORCES IN TUNISIA, April 28 [Delayed].—Thru the field telephone at a command post crackled queries, orders and reports. The tough, out-of-sight action of a battle a few ridges away was being skilfully directed from here. A captain from Illinois was at the telephone coördinating the data coursing thru the miles of carefully laid wire.

An artillery unit near the northern ridge of the famous horseshoe position [southwest of Mateur] reported:

"The enemy is shelling us from somewhere to the southeast. We can't locate them exactly to knock them out."

Activity Around Farmhouse.

Almost immediately the captain had another message from an infantry detail which reported suspicious activitiy around a farmhouse in the southern bend of the hills at the closed end of the horseshoe which was held by the Germans.

"I bet that's the same spot," the captain told me. "I'll find out fast."

He phoned a reconnaissance patrol in the valley between the sides of the horseshoe.

"Do you want us to shell that farmhouse?" he asked.

"You're damned right we do," the answer was snapped back over the telephone. "But be careful. There are two batteries of guns around there. Those west of the farmhouse are Jerry's [German]; those away to the east are ours."

Gives Battery Location.

The captain consulted his maps, obtained the coördinates of the farmhouse and a further reading to the west of the structure. Quickly he got in touch with the artillery battery which had made the original report.

"You are being shelled from west of the farmhouse," he said. "Your firing range should be . . . yards; your direction, . . .. Get that battery out of action. Be sure you don't drop your stuff farther east because our guns are . . . yards away from the Germans."

It was a few minutes later that we heard our artillery banging away in the indicated line. Some time after that the reconnaissance patrol reported laconically," "You got them that time. Fine work."

Rain Dispels Famine Fear in Honan Province

CHUNGKING, China, May 2 (AP).—Honan dispatches today said fears of another ruined crop in this famine ridden province, where millions of lives depend on the next harvest, were allayed by a rain which followed a long dry spell.

FOUR BANDITS ROB GARAGE.

HOW YANKS WON HILL NO. 609 IN FOUR DAY FIGHT

Assault Foe's Gun Posts on Steep Slopes.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH U. S. 2D CORPS IN TUNISIA, April 30 [Delayed].—As dawn rose over Tunisia today American tanks and infantry with artillery support struck at Hill 609—Djebel Tahent—where for three days the enemy had beaten off our assaults.

Four hours later the tide of battle was definitely setting our way and by midafternoon the last pocket of German resistance had been destroyed or repulsed and we possessed this strategic height which commands a wide area northeast of Sidi N'sir and along the road to Mateur.

Last night too the Germans had a further taste of things to come when American long range rifles shelled Mateur for the first time.

Sides Almost Straight Up.

Hill 609 is one of the highest points between Beja and Mateur and is approximately 15 miles southwest of Mateur. It has sheer, almost perpendicular sides and the top is a sheet of rock as flat as a table. The enemy had pitted the hill's sides with machine gun nests, smashed out emplacements for anti-tank guns, and on the summit had established observation posts.

It was 5 a. m. when the Americans opened their attack. Thru the valley the infantry moved, while artillery and mortars blasted from behind.

As infantrymen pointed out German machine gun nests and anti-tank positions, the field guns directed their steady, searing fire that way. One after another the enemy posts on the mountain side were knocked out.

Charge Across Plain.

Then the infantry charged across the remaining plain. Clinging to small and precarious footholds, the doughboys fought their way up the cliff and with bayonets fixed, plunged into the foxholes and cave pits to kill or captur the Germans.

From a hilltop less than two miles away I watched during the afternoon. Artillery and mortars blasted the last observation posts from the summit and silenced the remaining anti-tank guns.

The Germans counter-attacked with artillery, but our superiority in big guns cut short their thrust and the last of the German infantry in the immediate vicinity fled under a smoke screen.

Bomb Yanks on Hills.

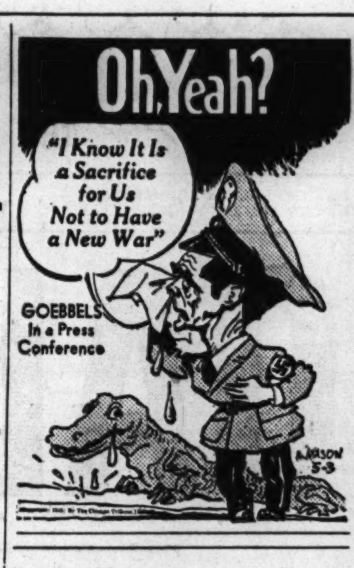
Then, as I watched, a dozen Focke-Wulf 190s came on a bombing attack on one of two neighboring hills the Americans had taken earlier today. Two of the Focke-Wulfs were shot down by anti-aircraft fire, while a few others jettisoned their bombs harmlessly. But some others did drop explosives on the hill. Tonight it was still American ground as are Hill 609 and the other height in the vicinity.



Oh, Yeah?
"I Know It Is a Sacrifice for Us Not to Have a New War"
GOEBBELS In a Press Conference
A. JOLSON 5-3

Two companies distinguished themselves particularly in the capture of Hill 609. Among those in the companies were Capt. Harold Doyle, Roy Mangenio, Robert Hentges, Sam Kueper, and John Meyers, Others included Capt. Amos Churchill and Sergt. George Frode.

Altho they had had a long march the night before—their Virginian battalion commander, Lt. Col. Carley L. Marshall, believes with Stonewall Jackson: "Sweat your men today and save their blood tomorrow!"—they performed as if they were going straight thru to Tunis.

Against Crack Nazi Troops.

They had been directed to stop short of the hilltop, but kept on going and swarmed over the table-like summit and down the farther side to add to the German casualties and take 21 prisoners. The prisoners and slain defenders were not ersatz soldiers either, like some of the third rate German troops that have been encountered on some other areas of the front, but were members of the crack air borne infantry.

Most of the units fought to the last man. Other Germans, when taken alive after they had realized their position was hopeless, paid great tribute to the American artillery by wanting to know, "Where do you get your automatic artillery guns?" A few prisoners still believed in Adolf Hitler's ultimate victory, but others did not give him more than another six months.

26 Medal Winners on Way Home from Guinea

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, April 24 [Delayed].—Twenty-six American fighter pilots, all carrying medals won in combat against the Japanese, were on their way home today after long service in the Southwest Pacific. Under orders to report to stations in the United States, the airmen will receive leave before taking up new duties. Among them are Capt. William A. Brown, Mancelona, Mich., air medal to add to silver star won previously; Capt. Clayton L. Peterson, Pontiac, Ill., D. F. C. [already holds air medals], and Lt. Glenn J. Schaffer, Milwaukee, oak leaf cluster to air medal [already holds D. F. C.]

HOW WE BOMBED TOKIO: RAIDERS TURN TO BIBLE

Slowly Regain Strength Under Chinese Care.

Influence of Religion

BY LT. CHARLES L. M'CLURE.
As told to William Shinnick.

[Copyright: 1943: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Sacramento, Cal., May 2.—Medical science and religion combined to aid us at least a little way along the road to recovery while we were in this tiny hospital [in China].

We were a sorry crew; we looked like animated scarecrows and none of us except Corp. Thatcher felt any better than we looked.

Lt. Lawson [now captain] was in a terrible state. His broken teeth prevented him from eating any but the mushiest foods. His face wounds had not healed much and his shattered knee cap was infected. He was in constant torment, and up till now there had been no drugs or medicines available to treat him. The first aid kits were lost with the plane.

Sufferings of Author.

My miseries were not so scattered, but they were always with me. Both my shoulders were dislocated and broken and I had not been able—and never was able until we got back to the United States—to stretch out and sleep. My right foot abrasion had become infected.

My usual position for sleeping in the hospital was with my face on one knee, and of course I could sleep that way only if I was completely exhausted and then only for a few hours at a time. Later we discovered that by piling pillows up to a 45 degree angle I could endure sitting for a few minutes. But the pain never seemed to leave me.

Lt. Clever and Lt. Davenport were both weak from loss of blood, and Davenport was limping with a out foot. Ted Lawson had also lost a great deal of blood. His condition was so alarming that he was put in a room by himself, just off the one in which the other two officers and I slept. From our positions we could not see him, but could get a glimpse of the foot of his bed.

Surgeon Arrives!

Into this house of suffering a few days later came a real samaritan: Lt. J. R. White, the flight surgeon. He had been in the plane piloted by Donald G. Smith, which also had crashed off the coast.

The army has reported that "at great risk of his life and with exemplary courage" he remained in the sinking plane in order to save his surgical instruments and medical kit. Then he had to swim ashore after a rubber life raft had been punctured. He came to help us and there never was a finer guy.

He gave Ted Lawson everything he had, but eventually had to amputate his infected leg.

After that Lt. Lawson's chances for life grew dim. We were all feeling low one night when a helper around the place went into his room with a Bible. We recognized the Bible because we had used it ourselves. After a long wait we asked how Ted was.

We were told, "He is very sick; maybe he won't be here long."

We were all solemn and silent, hoping that he would come thru.

More Chinese Help.

Doc White decided that there was only one thing that could help him. He had one sulfa drug, but needed another—sulfathiazol, I believe. He sent a message to another town and found there was some of the drug there. In the morning, the unfailing Chinese aid was forthcoming. A runner had brought in 12 tiny bottles of the preparation.

Doc administered the drug and in three days we were overjoyed to learn that Ted was much better.

What those Chinese did for us! The government, we found out, had seen to it that we had carriers at every point needed. They presented us each with the equivalent of $50 for spending money and eased our hardships in every possible way.

Some of us were churchgoers, but not very enthusiastic ones. In our circumstances, however, we had real comfort out of religion; not surprising when you realize how miraculously we had escaped death and the Japs.

Hold Services Every Sunday.

We got so that every Sunday we held a meeting in the big room—we officers and the corporal—and read from the Bible.

On one occasion, I remember, I was feeling utterly miserable when the meeting started. After a few passages had been read from Psalms I actually felt that I would be able to get up from my bed and walk. It was, for a time, the best medicine I could have taken.

During our stay there was just one suspicious event. A young Chinese, impeccably dressed and apparently a person of consequence, entered and identified himself as a Chinese general. He asked about the crash, where it had happened, etc.

We played safe and told him nothing. I sincerely hope that he was as represented, but we were taking no chances.

Among these peoples were odd mixtures of kindness and cruelty unfathomable to me. I have seen a soldier use his bayonet on a beggar who followed us—not to kill, but with force enough to hurt. Their military system also was a mystery. We saw few sizable bodies of troops, but the roads were full of men who seemed to be on furlough.

Soldiers with Umbrellas.

These men carried arms, usually rifles. They also carried umbrellas, a custom much frowned on in our army. Logically, why shouldn't a Chinese on leave from military service be sensible and keep himself dry?

We were to find out later, when we got deeper into the country, that the Chinese were not as a rule good mechanics. Nor did they seem to know how to handle automotive equipment. It may have been, of course, that my observations were too limited to judge of this.

Strength Comes Back.

Little by little we got stronger in the hospital and eventually were able to get out of ourselves enough to seek a bit of amusement now and then. This was after Lawson and Davenport could hobble on crutches made by a local carpenter.

We even went out on the porch one afternoon and had our picture taken. It shows me with a blanket around me, holding some flowers, and it is one of my most prized possessions.

Also, strange as it may seem, we got more of the news of the world than you might suspect. Marco Polo went to China to get his news. We got ours in that land by air. The place was equipped with a radio set.

FLYING ACE FOSS STOPS IN CITY ON WAY TO HOME

Plans for Return Visit to Chicago May 11.

(Picture on page 12.)

Capt. Joseph J. Foss, the great marine ace of World War II., visited Chicago yesterday for the first time in more than a year. "I'll be back," he promised as he left for his home at Sioux Falls, S. D., where thousands will march today in one of the greatest civic welcomes in the city's history.

Lt. George Treptow.

Accompanied by his wife, the former June Shakstad of Sioux Falls, Capt. Foss yesterday paid a brief visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Levi D. Lacey, 29 East Division street.

Lacey is Foss' uncle and the father of Margaret Lacey, former Tribune nurse who is serving now with the army nurse corps in North Africa. Her sister, Ida, is similarly serving.

Foss was disappointed when he found his Uncle Levi had departed for Sioux Falls, S. D. The uncle in taking his departure had stated, "I'm going out to see the old home town put on a show for Joe."

Joe then called up George R. Treptow, 1616 West 107th street, the father of one of his squadron mates, Lt. George A. Treptow, who has been listed as missing in action since Oct. 2.

Foss could give the father little actual information about his son, explaining, "I wasn't on that hop with him, but the boys told me they saw his plane going down in a dive." Foss said the body was never recovered.

Downed 26 Jap Planes.

Lt. Treptow while in Foss' squadron, was a member of a different flight commanded by Maj. Leonard [Duke] Davis, a former Chicagoan, now of Coronado, Cal.

The marine ace of aces, whose 26 aerial victories over Japanese planes in the Guadalcanal fighting tied him with Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker for all time American honors, will return to Chicago May 11 and remain two days.

Col. Chester Fordney, officer in charge of the central marine recruiting division, gave details of tentative plans for the visit. Capt. Foss will speak at Navy pier before marines stationed at the pier and also those brought from the advanced naval mechanics' school at 87th street and Anthony avenue.

Will Return to Chicago.

A luncheon for marine officers of the Chicago area also is planned. The captain will make no appearance before the Union League club as had been tentatively scheduled.

Col. Fordney said the definite program for Foss' stay here would be announced by midweek. "We want to be as easy on him as possible so as not to tire him," the colonel said.

Storm Troopers' Chief Hurt in Auto Accident

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Viktor Lutze, chief of staff of the German storm troops, was injured seriously in an automobile accident yesterday near Potsdam, the Berlin radio said yesterday. He was returning from an inspection tour, the broadcast said. Hitler was said to have telegraphed Lutze his "best wishes for recovery."

YANKS RESUME RAIDS ON KISKA IN STORMY FOG

Chicago Flyer Active in Solomon's Bombing.

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—Flying thru stormy weather American flyers have hit twice again at the Japanese base on Kiska in the Aleutians.

The assaults, first in three days on the rocky island, were made by Lightning fighters, the navy reported today. Hits definitely were scored, but the fogs and storms made it impossible for the flyers to observe results.

Carried out on Friday the attacks broke a lull in the Aleutians which had continued since other groups of the army's Lightning fighters roared over the island in the 143d raid since March 31.

In the South Pacific Avenger torpedo bombers, Dauntless dive bombers, and Corsair fighters joined in an attack on Munda. Results of the raid—the 114th on that enemy air base on New Georgia Island—were not reported.

Chicagoan Bombs Kieta.

GUADALCANAL, April 30 [Delayed]—(AP).—Strong aerial attacks on five Japanese bases in the northern Solomons were carried out last night and today by army, navy, and marine corps planes.

The heaviest attack was made on Kieta on Bougainville Island, where Liberators started five large fires. One of the fires resulted in a big explosion.

Coördinated attacks by navy and marine corps flyers were made on Pelpeli, Gatere, and Munda, torpedo bombers and dive bombers participating.

Lieutenant Commended.

Lt. Stanley M. Foster of Paradise, Cal., was commended by Col. William A. Matheny of Spokane, Wash., for breaking thru bad weather to bomb Numa Numa on the northeast coast of Bougainville Island, where the Japanese have a base.

Lieutenants Girard Bourgeois of La Fouche, La.; John Stores of Spokane, and Harold McNeese of Chicago reported success in the attack on Kieta. McNeese, who recently returned to duty after a 19 day trek thru the jungles following a forced landing, said he observed numerous bomb hits in the vicinity of a bivouac area and Chinatown. The Japanese have piles of stores scattered thruout that area.

Stores said that direct hits were scored on several buildings in the town of Kieta. One large fire was observed in the Japanese bivouac area south of the mission and several smaller fires were seen thruout the locality.

U. S. BOMBS JUNK ITALIAN WARSHIP IN 15 MINUTES

AN ADVANCED U. S. BOMBER BASE IN NORTHERN TUNISIA, May 1 [Delayed]—(AP).—How to blast enemy destroyers out of the sea was told today by the young leader of a flight of 18 B-25 Mitchell bombers which in less than 15 minutes turned an Italian warship into a water logged junk pile.

A great flight of desert air force P-40 Warhawks which followed the Mitchells dive bombed and sunk a smaller destroyer after the bombers left.

Several bombers got shots at enemy fighters trying to save the ships. At least one Nazi plane dropped with smoke trailing from it, and several others were damaged. Among the gunners who got shots believed to have hit the mark were: Sergt. N. R. Arve of Detroit, Mich., and Tech. Sergt. T. R. T. Curtis of Mount Vernon, Ind.

Back in Action

(Story in adjoining column.)

Lt. Harold McNeese, Chicago pilot who recently spent 19 days in jungle after a forced landing, is reported back in action by news dispatches of bombing in the Pacific war area.

HONOR 2 FLYERS FOR RESCUE OF BOMBER'S CREW

ALLIED HDQ. IN AUSTRALIA, May 2 (AP).—A pilot and his co-pilot, both of whom fought valiantly to rescue their trapped crewmen from a sinking plane off New Guinea, were awarded the soldiers' medal today.

Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of the allied air forces in the Southwest Pacific, presented the medals to 1st Lts. Harry Patteson of Midlothian, Va., and Dale Davis of Owensboro, Ky. They were the pilot and co-pilot of a B-25 which attacked a Japanese convoy off Buna Aug. 13 and fought off eight to ten Japanese fighters. The plane was forced to land in shallow water and its bottom was ripped off, causing the navigator, bombardier and radioman to be sucked under thru the hole. The engineer and turret gunner were trapped.

Patteson escaped from the plane and carried the navigator ashore. Patteson and Davis then cut and kicked a hole in the top of the plane, large enough to get the trapped men out just before the tide covered the plane.

Chicago Airman Wins Air Medal in Egypt

CAIRO, Egypt, May 1 [Delayed]—(AP).—Staff Sergt. Jerry J. Jeswick of Chicago, was among six American airmen awarded medals yesterday. He received the air medal from Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton in a ceremony at United States air forces headquarters.

Medals Awarded Ten Commanders.

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—American submarines patroling the Pacific have sunk more than 125,000 tons of Japanese shipping, the navy disclosed today in announcing decoration of 10 submarine commanders.

Warships, transports, cargo ships, merchantmen, and an enemy submarine were included in the destroyed shipping. In addition, damage was inflicted on many other enemy craft, including a large submarine which probably was sunk.

Navy spokesmen said they believed most of the destruction had been reported previously, altho never before totaled.

Biggest Bag 24,052 Tons.

The biggest bag, 24,052 tons sunk and another 27,500 tons severely damaged, was reported for the submarine commanded by Lt. Comm. Arthur H. Taylor of Narberth, Pa. He was awarded a gold star in lieu of a second navy cross.

One Japanese submarine definitely was sunk by a submarine commanded by Lt. Comm. William F. Farrell of Crafton, Pa. He was awarded the silver star medal. His submarine also sank a 6,000 ton freighter and damaged a 4,800 ton freighter.

Another enemy submarine, the navy reported, probably was sunk by a submarine commanded by Lt. Comm. Edward C. Stephan of Westgate, Md. Awarded a gold star in lieu of a second silver star medal, Stephan also was credited with sinking two medium sized Japanese transports, a medium sized cargo ship, four troop landing barges, and possibly damaging a large unidentified vessel.

Another Sinks 16,810 Tons.

Lt. Comm. Frederick B. Warder of Grafton, W. Va., was awarded a gold star in lieu of a second navy cross, for sinking 16,810 tons of enemy shipping and damaging 5,000 tons more.

A gold star in lieu of a second navy cross also was awarded Lt. Comm. Thomas Klakring of Annapolis, Md., for sinking 15,400 tons of shipping and severely damaging a 7,200 ton freighter.

Destruction of a 19,000 ton airplane ferry and sinking of an armed cargo ship of unspecified tonnage were credited to the submarine commanded by Lt. Comm. John A. Bole Jr. of Wallkill, N. Y. Awarded the navy cross, Bole also was credited with damaging a 7,000 ton freighter.

A Japanese heavy cruiser was one of the ships credited to the submarine commanded by Lt. Comm. John Raymond Moore. Awarded the navy cross, Moore also was credited with sinking two enemy merchant vessels weighing 5,000 and 2,500 tons.

Others Honored.

Other lieutenant commanders awarded the silver star, with the bag credited to their submarines, were:

Rob R. McGregor, New Orleans, La., two merchantmen totaling 12,000 tons sunk and one 4,000 ton ship damaged.

Eugene B. McKinney, Eugene, Ore., two ships totaling 6,100 tons sunk and three totaling 18,000 tons damaged.

Darwin Bombed

WOUNDED NAZI PRISONERS WANT TO COME TO U. S.

AN ADVANCED AMERICAN EVACUATION HOSPITAL, April 30 [Delayed]—(AP).—The first thing that most wounded German prisoners brought to this hospital want to know is whether they will be sent to the United States.

"And they all want to go there," said Lt. Bedford T. Otey, Memphis, Tenn., an orthopedic surgeon. "They say they are worn out with fighting and are glad to be captured. One soldier told me he had been in a German concentration camp and finally was put in the army after being told that no food would be given to his wife and children unless he fought.

"Our own boys tell us that German troops are getting so jittery and jumpy now that they lay down a barrage on anything that moves—sometimes even shooting up cattle in the fields at night so fearful are they of being attacked."

British Sink 1, Damage 2 Nazi Craft Off Holland

LONDON, May 2 (AP).—Light British naval forces sank one of four heavily armed Nazi patrol craft encountered early Saturday off Terschelling, the Netherlands, and left two others halted and burning fiercely, the admiralty said today. Damage sustained by the British vessels was reported slight. The communique said the personnel suffered a small number of casualties.

U. S. AND BRITISH FLYERS RAID JAP POSTS IN BURMA

Railways, Bridges, and Warehouses Hit.

NEW DELHI, India, May 2 (AP).—American and British airmen attacked Japanese positions at many points in Burma yesterday, bombing and strafing troops, air fields and supply lines in widespread operations, communiques disclosed today.

United States Liberator bombers pounded an enemy air field at Pagoda Point, south of Rangoon, and 10th United States air force headquarters announced that hits were observed on the runway. Mitchell bombers attacked storage buildings and railway sidings in Mandalay and nearly 50 bombs were seen to burst in the target area.

"The warehouse area was reported completely destroyed," the communique said.

Many Fires Started.

Other medium bombers joined P-40 fighters in an attack on enemy installations at Hopin. They started at least a dozen fires, many of which were large, indicating that oil storage dumps had been destroyed. Fires were left burning at a supply dump at Kwitu and other enemy installations at Shaduzup, Kamaing, and Lalawng-Ga were bombed and shot up.

A British communique said Wellington bombers started large fires at Taungup last night. Other British planes bombed railroad yards at Moulmein and the town of Akyab.

Hit Bridge and Viaduct.

Earlier in the day, Blenheims bombed a Japanese troop position in the Mayittha valley south of Kalemyo and Beaufighters machine gunned supply sampans, steamers, and warehouses along the Irrawaddy and Chindwin rivers from Prome to Monywa. Fighter planes inflicted severe damage on a steamer in Myebon harbor on the Arakan coast.

Two formations of American medium bombers attacked the Gokteik viaduct between Mandalay and Lashio Friday, the USAAF communique announced. Hits were observed on the north end of the structure. Other bombers attacked engine sheds at Maymyo.

The much bombed Myitnge bridge near Mandalay, which the Japanese have been trying desperately to repair for weeks, was given another pounding by American medium bombers. They scored direct hits on the bridge.

Mannerheim Recovering from Pneumonia Siege

HELSINGFORS, Finland, May 2 (AP).—Field Marshal Carl Gustaf Mannerheim, Finnish commander in chief, will return home shortly from Switzerland, where he has been convalescing from an attack of pneumonia, a high authority said today. The state information bureau meanwhile denied reports that the 75 year old commander had surrendered his military post, and said any political conjectures in connection with his trip to Switzerland were "wholly products of the imagination."

Nazi Ace Credited with 100 Planes Killed in Tunisia

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

A Nazi flyer who was credited by the Germans with more than 100 victories, Capt. Wolfgang Tonne, has been killed in Tunisia, the Berlin radio said today in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press. Tonne wore the knight's cross of the iron cross with oak leaves, awarded him by Adolf Hitler last Sept. 22 after "his 101st victory in the air," the broadcast said.

DIES AFTER BEING CRUSHED.

Joseph Miller, 56 years old, 730 Madison street, a laborer, died in Columbus hospital yesterday of injuries received last Wednesday when he was crushed between a truck and some pilings at 1526 South State street.

1,000 JAPS SLAIN BY CHINESE IN FOUR DAY FIGHT

CHUNGKING, China, May 2 (AP).—A Chinese communique said today more than 1,000 Japanese troops had been killed or wounded in four days of fighting last month during a renewed effort of the invaders to clear out Chinese positions in Shantung province north of the railroad between Isinan and the Yellow sea port of Tsingtao.

More than 10,000 Japanese troops were reported employed in the drive, launched April 5. It was the second within a month designed to disperse Chinese concentrations which have been constantly harassing railway communications and attacking Japanese strongholds.

Meanwhile, the Japanese continued their attacks against the Taiheng mountains, trying to hammer their spearheads deeper into the strategic range. A severe attack developed from points of north Honan province, east of the range, where the Japanese brought reënforcements for a fresh onslaught, the communique said. Two Japanese columns driving from the west were held at bay while another lost more than 600 in killed and wounded. Peasant partisans played an important part in the battle.

CHICAGOAN, 83, FOUND DEAD.

DE GAULLE BREAK SEEN IN LATEST OFFER BY GIRAUD

Now Differ Over Where They Will Meet.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 3 [Monday].—Possibility of an out and out break between Gen. Charles de Gaulle, leader of the Fighting French, and Gen. Henri Giraud, French high commissioner in North Africa, was suggested tonight following receipt by the Fighting French of a reply from Giraud in which he proposed as a meeting place for the two French factional leaders either a desert or a mountain retreat in North Africa rather than Algiers.

This suggestion, it is said, has caused considerable resentment among De Gaulle and his followers because, before the arrival of Giraud's note, De Gaulle had already emphasized to his representative in North Africa, Gen. Georges Catroux, that the meeting should take place in Algiers and immediately.

The French National committee in London is in progress of examining Giraud's reply and no official comment has yet been made. The Tribune correspondent understands, however, that De Gaulle in all probability, will issue an official statement tomorrow when some observers here anticipate that he will announce a complete break with Giraud.

GERMANS PRESS SWEDEN TO BAN AMERICAN FILMS

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 2 (AP).—The United States may lose to Germany an important round in the propaganda war by failing to provide raw film for the Swedish motion picture industry, an informed source said tonight.

A year ago Germany offered to provide Sweden with all the raw film needed on condition that no American films be shown in Sweden. The offer was turned down on a promise by the United States to provide the needed film. Some raw film was shipped in 1942, altho other shipments on Swedish ships failed to reach Sweden because the Germans revoked safe conduct permits.

Meanwhile Germany, knowing Sweden's reserves are dwindling, has renewed last year's offer and the Swedes in order to get raw film may have to rule off their screens the American product.

She enrolled at the school last winter to learn technical engineering terms, and was recommended for training as an instructor after she was graduated second highest in a class of 26 men.

Giraud Gives Amnesty to All Political Prisoners

LONDON, May 2 (AP).—The Algiers radio said tonight that Gen. Henri Giraud had ordered all political internment camps in French North Africa abolished. "General amnesty will be granted and measures to this effect will be taken immediately," said the broadcast.

British Subs Destroy or Damage 204 Axis Ships

LONDON, May 2 (AP).—British submarines have destroyed or damaged 204 axis ships on the Mediterranean "death run" since the allied landing in French North Africa last Nov. 8, it was announced authoritatively today. Of these, 110 were listed as definitely known to have been sunk and it was said that many of the damaged vessels may have been unable to reach port. Among the 204 were many large tankers, ammunition carriers and supply ships.

RUSSIANS ECHO STALIN'S PRAISE OF ALLIED ARMS

Party Organ Says Hitler Is Mortally Afraid.

MOSCOW, May 2 (AP).—Pravda, Communist party newspaper, in a front page editorial today put the activities of Russia's allies in the same scale with the Red army victory at Stalingrad and declared "the Hitlerite command fears active operations of our allies on the European continent like it would fear fire."

Adm. William H. Standley [top] and Archibald J. C. Kerr.

Echoing the praises of the British and American operations in Africa and their offensive against Germany voiced by Premier Josef Stalin, Pravda's editorial was the warmest appraisal of allied strength yet placed before the Russian people.

Mentioning the likelihood of a second front in Europe, Pravda said the Germans "don't know and cannot know from where the blow might be inflicted. Recently the enemy has felt on its own skin the force of the soviet union, Britain, and the United States.

"Strike Shattering Blows."

"Of late the base enemy has had the opportunity to feel to his own cost the might of the fighting alliance of freedom loving peoples.

"The Red army's victory in the greatest battle of Stalingrad has been written down in golden letters in the history of the patriotic war.

"Simultaneously, the valiant Anglo-American aviation strikes shattering blows at military and industrial centers of Germany and Italy, foreshadowing the formation of a second front in Europe.

"Let the Hitlerite adventurers cheer up German blockheads with stupid tales about the impregnability of the 'European fortress.' Everybody knows that the Hitlerite command is mortally afraid of an invasion of our allies on the European continent."

American and British officials in Moscow were jubilant over the tone of Stalin's May day proclamation and the Pravda editorial just at the time when the Germans have opened up a propaganda campaign to divide the allies. Adm. William H. Standley, United States ambassador, and Archibald John Clark Kerr, British ambassador, praised the straight-out language of Pravda.

Americans Pleased.

United States representatives in Moscow are receiving excellent coöperation from the Russians at present in the exchange of military and naval information. Maj. Gen. James H. Burns, executive officer of the British and American joint munitions assignment board in Washington, who arrived here April 22 with his aides, also has been receiving excellent coöperation in surveying the lend-lease scene in Russia. Soviet experts have been taking them everywhere they wished to go and showing them many things they did not expect to see.

YOU'RE ON RIGHT ROAD, WORKERS TOLD BY PETAIN

LONDON, May 2 (AP).—The Vichy radio quoted Marshal Petain today as saying that "after months of trials and disappointments, many of you might have lost courage, but the revival has indeed begun—you are on the right road."

The aged chief of state was reported to have made this statement in a May day address following the return of Pierre Laval, chief of government, to Vichy from a conference with Adolf Hitler.

"I understand your bitterness," Petain was quoted. "You will understand my difficult position. The armistice put an end to actual fighting, but it has not done away with the defeat and has not put an end to the war." The marshal urged workers to remain steadfast and "smash the lies which aim at seducing you under a false mask."

RED PRISONERS OF NAZIS URGED TO FIGHT RUSSIA

Soviet General Aids in Organizing Them.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 2 (AP).—A German newspaper admission that total mobilization has failed to provide Hitler all the trained man power he needs coincided with reports here today that the Nazis are trying to induct captured Russian soldiers into the German army.

The German high command was said to be pressing its efforts to raise an army of 300,000 to 500,000 Russians under the captured Red army commander, Lt. Gen. Andreia A. Vlasov. Members of this force would include civilians from occupied Russian territory and soviet prisoners of war "thought to be reliable from the Nazi point of view."

Dr. Alfred Rosenberg, Nazi civilian administrator of occupied eastern territories, was reported to be fighting this move, but the fact that the German high command was pushing its plans showed the extent to which both soldiers and labor are needed by Hitler.

Interviewed by Hitler.

Gen. Vlasov was captured by the Germans in the battle for Kiev early in the war. Reliable sources said he had shown "an inclination to talk business" with the Nazis and was trying to gain material and moral support in occupied Russia.

Vlasov was reported to have had two interviews with Hitler, who persuaded him that the German aim was solely to "free Russia of Stalin." Since then Vlasov has been permitted to organize a small army, which is being trained in the use of German weapons, Stockholm sources said. Vlasov also is head of a political organization which issues newspapers for the civilian population and the German army in occupied Russia.

Reports from Lithuania said Gen. Just, formerly German military attaché at Kaunas, called for volunteers to fight against the Russians last February, but that by mid-March only a few Lithuanians had responded.

Himmler Punishes People.

Heinrich Himmler, head of the Nazi Gestapo, was reported then to have gone to Lithuania and introduced stern measures as revenge for the lack of response and as a means of intimidating men into volunteering. He closed the university on March 16 after destroying the conservatory and removing the library.

A similar Nazi effort to raise troops in neighboring Estonia was said to have had only "some success."

Store Closing Fails.

A copy of the German newspaper Frankfurter Zeitung reaching here notes that the closing of stores, business houses, small workshops and restaurants in Germany "did not free as many workers for the armament industry as was at first thought possible."

The newspaper said the compulsory work registration of all free hands, especially women, had raised "a very considerable reserve" which is on the job, but that it would take some time for these reserves to reach a peak of efficiency.

SMASH WINDOWS FOR COATS.

RUSSIANS BREAK 6-DAY NAZI PUSH AND KILL 7,000

Destroy 25 Armored Cars Near Novorossisk.

LONDON, May 3 [Monday]—(AP).—The Red army has killed 7,000 Germans and knocked out 25 tanks and armored cars to repulse a six day German offensive at the Black sea port of Novorossisk, last major axis foothold in the Caucasus, Moscow announced early today.

"The enemy units were bled white and without achieving success were forced to discontinue the attacks," said the midnight bulletin, recorded by the soviet monitor.

For days the Germans have claimed that the Russians were attacking them with 100,000 or more troops in an effort to eject the axis from the Caucasus, but the Russian communique said the intense battles were caused by German attempts to recapture Red army positions around the Black sea port.

Aerial Action Heavy.

It was the first time that Moscow had mentioned the Novorossisk sector by name, altho the Germans several days ago acknowledged that the Red army had seized the heights overlooking the port.

Heavy aerial action has been going on in the Caucasus in coördination with the ground fighting, and the Moscow bulletin said that in the week ending Saturday Red airmen had shot down 281 German planes compared to Russian losses of 105.

Nazis Repulsed

Where Russian troops hurled back German assaults.

Both sides have been hurrying preparations to resume the Caucasus fight for weeks as the mud gave way to firmer footing in that area. Some Russian units have made offensive jabs in the Kuban river valley on the Taman peninsula north of Novorossisk, and yesterday's midday communique said the Red army wiped out one enemy battalion in that sector.

The German communique yesterday said Russian forces had landed in the "northern sector of the bridgehead" in the Kuban, presumably the upper coast of the Taman peninsula opposite the northern coast of the Sea of Azov. Here the Russians hold a stretch of territory reaching from Rostov westward almost to Taganrog.

Balk Donetz Attack.

One soviet formation in the hitherto dormant sector of Orel, between the central and southern fronts, was reported officially yesterday to have captured "a height of great importance" south of Orel.

The midnight communique announced the killing of 150 Germans on the front west of Moscow and the repulse of a German attempt to cross a river, presumably the Donetz, in the Balakleya sector southeast of Kharkov.

On the Kalinin front northwest of Moscow, Russian cannon were reported to have pulverized 26 German positions and wiped out a company of Germans.

WOMAN'S FLAT LOOTED.

Miss Margaret O'Donnell, 34 years old, 1002 Bryn Mawr avenue, reported to police yesterday that a $500 diamond ring, a $200 diamond watch, and $218 had been stolen from her kitchenette apartment.

CHURCHILL HAILS POLES; PLEDGES INDEPENDENCE

Their Sacrifices to Be Rewarded, He Says.

LONDON, May 2 (AP).—Prime Minister Churchill lauded the Polish people in a message today for their "valuable contribution" to the cause of the allied nations and said their sacrifices would be rewarded by the restoration of a "great and independent Poland."

Churchill's message was read by John Anderson, lord president of the council, at a public meeting in London Coliseum in celebration of Polish national day.

Sends Britain's Greetings.

"On the occasion of Polish national day I send you the greetings of the British government and the British people," the message said. "We celebrate this anniversary today in renewed confidence that Poland's liberation has been brought nearer by the joint effort of the united nations during the past year.

"Poles both at home and abroad are as one in their determination to continue the struggle against the German oppressors of their country. The valuable contribution which they have made to the common cause of the united nations has not been achieved without heavy sacrifices, but these sacrifices will be crowned by the restoration, to which we all look forward, of a great and independent Poland."

Warns Against Split.

Anderson, in his address warned that the Germans, despairing of a military victory, were trying to break up the allies, and said that "friends marching abreast must not fall out while the enemy is ravening close by."

[This obviously was in reference to soviet Russia's severing of diplomatic relations with the Polish government in exile, the upshot of a German propaganda report that the Russians had killed 10,000 captive Polish officers near Smolensk. The Poles had asked the International Red Cross to investigate the Nazi report, but subsequently said they regarded the request "as having lapsed" after the Red Cross said it would be unable to undertake such a mission unless Russia joined in the request.]

Anderson described Premier Gen. Wladyslaw Sikorski of the Polish government in exile as a "brave soldier, wise leader, and trusted friend," to whom the Poles were looking for leadership.

Marilyn Snyder, 3 years old, wandered away from her home at 5325 South Kimbark avenue last night, and spent several candy filled hours visiting with the policeman at the Hyde Park station until her mother, Mrs. Mary Kowalczyk, called to claim her. Marilyn was found wandering at 55th street and Kimbark avenue. The mother is a war worker. Marilyn had been left in the custody of an aunt.

Sen. Hiram W. Johnson Is Reported Improved

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—Sen. Hiram W. Johnson, 76 year old Republican from California, was reported today to have shown "some improvement" at the naval medical center hospital to which he was taken last Wednesday with a heavy cold. Johnson was said yesterday to be suffering from an attack of pneumonia and "seriously ill."

CAN'T FREE ALL MEN, SAVE ALL EMPIRES, 3 SAY

A workable world order after the war cannot be established by restoring pre-war empires or granting freedom to all subject peoples, the University of Chicago Round Table speakers agreed yesterday in a broadcast from Columbus, O., over station WHAQ.

Freedom must be offered, they said, to nations and states ready for self-government. India, Corea and the Philippines should be included in any list of countries to be granted independence, said Prof. Arthur P. Scott, of the history department of the University of Chicago

Scott and Prof. Herbert Heaton, of the University of Minnesota's history department, said a modified mandate system might be adopted to prepare more backward peoples for self-government. Prof. J. Donald Kingsley, of the department of political science of Antioch college, opposed the mandate plan, which, he said, would "encourage American imperialism."

POLISH PATRIOTS PRAISED BY RED WAR BULLETIN

MOSCOW, May 2 (AP).—Polish patriots were praised in the Russian communique today for disrupting German rail traffic to the Russian front.

The rare reference to Polish partisan activity came less than a week after Russia severed relations with the Polish government in exile in London.

"Polish patriots are destroying communications of the German Fascist invaders," the communique said. "In the Lublin district Polish guerrillas derailed a German troop train and a freight train with coal. In another district guerrillas destroyed railway tracks and wrecked trains on a number of railway lines. As a result of the activity of the Polish patriots train traffic had to stop."

POST-WAR CASH RESERVES CITED BY GOV. GREEN

Gov. Dwight H. Green said last night in a radio address that Illinois' cash reserve fund, now largely invested in war bonds, will be available to enable the state "to lay a firm foundation for the post-war world and meet post-war problems."

He said the fund could be used, among other purposes, for financing public works abandoned because of the war. The fund, he said, was "deliberately built" by rigid curtailment of unnecessary expenditures for post-war building purposes.

The governor disclosed that he is establishing a post-war planning commisison to serve as a "clearing house and coördinator for solutions of the widely varying problems of industry, agriculture and labor which must be met after the day of victory."

Polish Parade Is Canceled; May Be Held Next Sunday

The celebration by Chicago's Polish Americans of the 152d anniversary of the adoption of the Polish constitution was canceled yesterday because of the weather. A meeting will be held this week to determine if the parade and celebration will take place next Sunday.

THE TOWN TALK $7.50

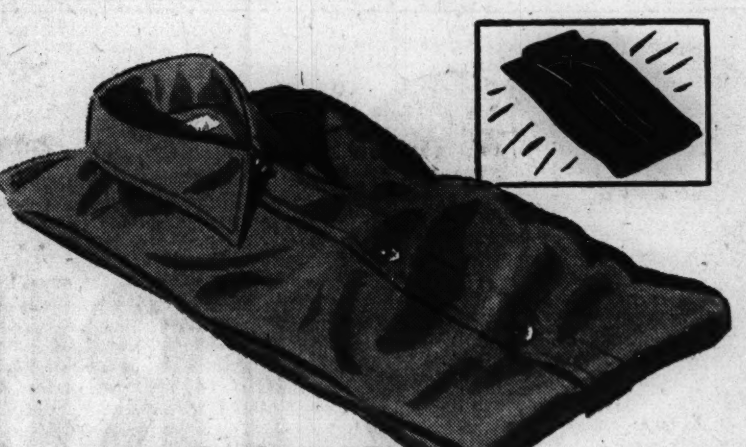
Skillful design is behind the downright flattery of the Town Talk. That tapered crown is just right for the average man and for the man with smaller-than-average features—because it's not top heavy. It gives an illusion of being smaller than it actually measures. Try one on. The Town Talk is here in the smart shades of the season.

Look for the snug-fitting ankle

FULL-FASHIONED LISLE HOSE $1.50

Because of skillful full fashioning, these hose are trim and smooth at your ankle—a point in your appearance that's definitely an eye target. These lisles are the highly prized, lightweight, fine gauge type. Choose from attractive mottled effects in black, brown, gray, navy, maroon and green with good-looking, hand-embroidered clocks.

Look for unusually high luster



SOLID COLOR BROADCLOTH SHIRTS $3.95

The moment you set eyes on these shirts you know they're unusual values. They're fashioned from imported broadcloths with a remarkably high sheen. You'll also like the split yokes for better shoulder drape, the single needle stitching for softer seams and the cluster pleats in the back for added comfort. In solid green, blue and gray.

Look for colorful new patterns

CAVEMAN SHORTS $1.50

Wear Caveman Shorts just once and we believe you'll be satisfied with no other. You'll like the zestful new spring patterns. You'll like the smooth, non-clinging rayon. You'll like the easy-fitting waistband with the elasticized insert. No buttons—no gadgets—just good looks and solid comfort. $1.50. Two-ply mercerized lisle undershirts in colors to blend, $1.25. # LACK OF BLANKS PUTS A DAMPER ON WAR GAMES

Umpires Say Noise Isn't Vital to 'Battles.'

BY HAROLD SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Field Headquarters, 2d Army, Lebanon, Tenn., May 2.—Dwindling reserves of blank shells and cartridges — only live ammunition is now being manufactured — make the final maneuvers of the second army quieter than previous games but do not cramp their style, military observes said today. Umpiring procedures are so well worked out that battle practice could, if necessary, be carried out without the firing of a shot with little detriment to its training effectiveness.

Blank ammunition is employed chiefly to add realism and accustom green troops to the sounds of battle. But most of these troops are already familiar with the roar of artillery bombs, mines, and demolition charges used in their training, and know from experience their audible and concussive effects. Therefore blank ammunition is being spared for primary training and to conserve materials vitally needed at the fronts.

Umpires Cover Fronts.

A large staff of maneuver umpires, specially instructed in a recent three weeks' training course, mingle with the opposing reds and blues during actions to assess casualties and material losses and to see that the tides of battle flow as nearly as possible as they would if the men were playing for keeps.

These umpires, designated as neutrals, dart hither and yon in the front line sector during an engagement, doing their often hazardous but highly important tasks, never certain of the spots where quick decisions must be made.

Computing fire and striking power, from data supplied by company umpires, by radio or telephone, a field umpire may plant a blue flag, which tells that the unit behind it must retire if the enemy advances. Or he may erect a red flag denoting superior fire power, forbidding advance of the opposing unit out ahead.

Bridges "Blown Up."

A gun crew's waving of an orange flag signalizes the fire of an antitank weapon. A red and white emblem says that artillery or mortar fire is falling within 100 yards. The ubiquitous umpires must rush to these sites and determine whether guns are properly pointed and whether enemy fire has silenced a battery.

Blown bridges, marked by simulated dynamite charges and guarded against belligerent use, are obstacles which may be by-passed but not crossed unless reconstruction materials are rushed up and sufficient time allowed for the work.

Like their namesakes in the sports world, maneuver umpires can do no right. Frequently the white flag of interrupted hostilities flutters near a gesticulating knot of belligerent commanders angrily shouting their claims. This is when the umpire wishes he had a nice, peaceful job up with the tolling infantry. He has a rule book, but it cannot possibly cover all possible situations and any ruling he makes is, of course, wrong to a large group of his listeners.

Trifle Too Realistic.

There was, for example, the case of the private who, in a night action, destroyed a power line by shinnying up a pole and clipping the wires, plunging the countryside into darkness. Asked why he had not chalked the pole to show the wires were down instead of applying more drastic measures, the private replied:

"I was told, sir, to improvise when I couldn't find the covering rule. I didn't have any chalk, but I did have a pair of nippers." The umpires' ruling and the commander's comment are not recorded.

YANKS RAID NAZI U-BOAT BASE; 7 BOMBERS LOST

St. Nazaire Hit During Heavy Weather.

LONDON, May 2 (AP).—American heavy bombers raided the German submarine base at St. Nazaire yesterday, running into a combination of heavy weather and stern fighter opposition which took a toll of seven planes.

The R. A. F. took up where the United States daylight raiders left off, with reconnaissance missions spotting shipping off the Norwegian coast and mining operations in enemy water last night. Seven planes were lost off Norway; all returned from sowing mines.

Hit Dutch Targets.

Today, R. A. F. bombers and fight- struck at industrial targets at Ijmuiden in the Netherlands, destroying six enemy fighters. Four British planes were lost. Mosquito bombers struck at railway targets in France. All returned safely.

[Radio stations at Paris and Calais were silent last night 45 minutes to an hour, said the federal communications commission in New York, possibly indicating new raids on the continent.]

The St. Nazaire raid was the first announced expedition of the big American bombers since the attack on Bremen April 17.

No figure was given on the number of American bombers participating in the raid, but it was believed to be larger than the total used in many past forays because reenforcements have been arriving in considerable numbers recently.

Claim 23 Planes Downed.

The weather forced dispersal of the returning aircraft and made it difficult to estimate the number of fighters knocked down.

The German radio declared 11 four engined American bombers and 12 British torpedo and destroyer planes were destroyed "in the course of thrusts made against a German strongpoint on the Atlantic coast and in Norwegian waters."

Except for the last Bremen raid, April 17, from which a record high of 16 bombers failed to return, Saturday was the first time in which as many as seven American bombers had been lost since the second raid on Wilhelmshaven Feb. 26.

Crews of Flying Fortresses and Liberators regard St. Nazaire as their toughest target because the raids require a long run over water and land patrolled by the crack yellow nosed Focke-Wulf squadrons.

90% OF CHEMICAL WORKS DESTROYED IN RAF RAID ON STETTIN

LONDON, May 3 [Monday]—(AP).—Ninety per cent of the buildings of one great chemical works in Stettin were destroyed in the R. A. F. raid April 20 when a single area of more than 100 acres was devastated, the air ministry news service reported today.

The chemical plant covered 51 acres and only one of its buildings escaped damage, reconnaissance pictures showed. Almost all of a factory processing edible oil was burned out. It covered eight acres. Only one building of a similar plant covering six acres was left standing, the air ministry said.

Severe damage also was reported to barracks, military depots, and ammunition stores of the German Baltic port.

TELL OF SINKING BLAZING POWDER VESSEL AT N. Y.

Fire Heroes Avert Second Black Tom Disaster.

New York, May 2 [Special].—Fire department officials told for the first time tonight details of a five hour battle waged in New York harbor the night of April 24 by two fireboats against a blazing allied nations ship loaded with explosives.

The story disclosed that the busy waterfront was saved from what might have been a paralyzing blast as destructive as the famous Black Tom blowoff of 1916 by heroism of the crew of the fireboat Fire Fighter. These men lashed their craft to the flaming vessel and towed it from its Jersey City dock to the head of the narrows, where the freighter and its perilous cargo were sunk by the weight of thousands of tons of water poured aboard, it was said.

New Yorkers Warned.

Previously all the public knew of the incident was a police warning broadcast to waterfront residents of Brooklyn, State Island, and New Jersey to keep their windows open as a precaution against an explosion, followed by a terse announcement that the ship had been sunk and the danger averted.

Fire Commissioner Patrick Walsh and John F. Hurton, acting deputy chief in command of the marine division, joined in describing details of the fight. They were permitted, they said, to tell of the department's rôle in conquering the blaze but could not reveal the name and character of the allied ship.

The Fire Fighter, a $1,000,000 fireboat built in 1938, was summoned at 6 p. m. after Jersey City firemen had tried for half an hour to get flames aboard the ship under control, they said. Arriving after a seven mile trip the Fire Fighter started pouring 80,000 gallons of water a minute into the blazing ship. Another fireboat, the Harvey, joined in the battle, adding almost as much water.

Towed from Pier.

At 6:50 p. m. when firemen saw that flames were still spreading and when it was judged they might at any moment reach the explosive cargo, orders were given to tow the freighter from the pier. The Fire Fighter was lashed to the flaming menace and moved slowly down the harbor in the glare of searchlights with the Harvey alongside, both fireboats continuing to throw water.

The warning broadcast was ordered at 8:20 p. m., and at 9:10, when the ship had reached open water off Tompkinsville, N. Y., the freigher begin listing to starboard borne down to the weight of water. Chief Hurton gave the order to cut loose and hawsers were severed with axes as the freighter settled.

As the ship went down in 35 feet of water the sea rushed into the hatches to drench the explosive cargo, the fire officials said. For two more hours, however, the fireboats were busy dealing with blazing debris and pools of burning oil, which they fought with demolition nozzles or "water cannon."

Quake in Germany

The tremors occurred within the shaded area.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The strongest earthquake registered in Germany in 40 years shook the southwest province of Wurttemberg Saturday night and Sunday morning and caused damage to buildings, the Berlin radio said yesterday.

The tremors Saturday night were said to have lasted several seconds, followed by lesser shocks after a five minute interval. Several tremors, most of them slight, were felt Sunday morning, the account said.

Wurttemberg lies north of Switzerland.

FREEZING PLANTS SOUGHT TO END FOOD SPOILAGE

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—Spoilage of "millions of tons" of food is threatened by government refusal to provide materials for construction of new quick-freezing plants, Sen. George D. Aiken [R., Vt.], said today in disclosing plans for an investigation by a senate agriculture subcommittee.

Sen. George D. Aiken

"The committee expects to learn why applications for food processing facilities are being denied in light of the fact that the government is urging the production of more and more food—even tho millions of tons that will be produced in response to its appeal will undoubtedly spoil unless preserving facilities are provided," Aiken said.

The committee, headed by Sen. Ellison D. Smith [D., S. C.], will call witnesses from farm and consumer organizations, the department of agriculture and the war production board. Hearings probably will start Thursday.

JOAN BENNETT AND HER FAMILY FLEE NIGHT FIRE

Hollywood, Cal., May 2 (AP).—Actress Joan Bennett and her family were forced to flee in night clothes early this morning when their Holmby Hills home was swept by fire. Miss Bennett is expecting a child next month.

In the house with the actress were her husband, Movie Producer Walter Wanger, her two daughters by a former marriage, Diana, 14 years old, and Melinda, 8, and three servants. They were aroused by smoke from the fire which apparently started in the basement of the large French provincial style home.

No immediate estimate of the loss was available but it appeared that the actress' collection of antiques, most of her clothes, and many rare books were lost.

TELL 98,000 LOST TAX PAYERS—PENALTIES SOAR

Victor L. Schlaeger, county treasurer, said yesterday that 98,000 property tax bills mailed in 1941 and earlier years have been returned to his office, and delinquency penalties of 1 per cent a month are accruing against these "lost" accounts.

"The 1942 bills will be in the mails within two weeks," he said, "and taxpayers should look back at their old bills to be sure that this office has their correct address.

"I believe that more than 60 per cent of the 98,000 lost taxpayers on our books probably do not know that penalties are mounting. Any property owner who did not receive his 1941 bill should notify our office."

President Vows Output Will Not Stop.

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—Text of President Roosevelt's radio address on the coal strike follows:

"I am speaking tonight to the American people and in particular to those of our citizens who are coal miners.

"Tonight this country faces a serious crisis. We are engaged in a war on the successful outcome of which depend the whole future of our country.

"This war has reached a new critical phase. After the years that we have spent in preparation, we have moved into active and continuing battle with our enemies. We are pouring into the world-wide conflict everything that we have—our young men and the vast resources of our nation.

Tells of His Tour.

"I have just returned from a two weeks tour of inspection on which I saw our men being trained and our war materials made. My trip took me thru 20 states. I saw thousands of workers on the production line, making airplanes, guns, and ammunition.

"Everywhere I found great eagerness to get on with the war. Men and women are working long hours at difficult jobs and living under difficult conditions without complaint.

"Along thousands of miles of track I saw countless acres of newly ploughed fields. The farmers of this country are planting the crops that are needed to feed our armed forces, our civilian population, and our allies. Those crops will be harvested.

Sees Hardened Troops.

"On my trip, I saw hundreds of thousands of soldiers. Young men who were green recruits last autumn have matured into self-assured and hardened fighting men. They are in splendid physical condition. They are mastering the superior weapons that are pouring out of our factories.

"The Amercan people have accomplished a miracle.

"However, all of our massed effort is none too great to meet the demands of this war. We shall need everything that we have and everything that our allies have—to defeat the Nazis and the Fascists in the coming battles on the continent of Europe, and the Japanese on the continent of Asia and in the islands of the Pacific.

"This tremenduous forward movement of the United States and the united nations can not be stopped by our enemies.

Appeals to Miners.

"Equally, it must not be hampered by any one individual or by the leaders of any one group here back home.

"I want to make it clear that every American coal miner who has stopped mining coal—no matter how sincere his motives, no matter how legitimate he may believe his grievances to be—every idle miner directly and individually is obstructing our war effort. We have not yet won this war. We will win this war only as we produce and deliver our total American effort on the high seas and on the battle fronts. That requires unrelenting, uninterrupted effort here on the home front.

"The stoppage of the coal supply, even for a short time, would involve a gamble with the lives of American soldiers and sailors and the future security of our whole people. It would involve an unwarranted, unnecessary and terribly dangerous gamble with our chances for victory.

"Therefore, I say to all miners—and to all Americans everywhere, at home and abroad—the production of coal will not be stopped.

Speaking to Patriotism.

"Tonight I am speaking to the essential patriotism of the miners and to the patriotism of their wives and children. And I am going to state the true facts of this case as simply and as plainly as I know how.

"After the attack at Pearl Harbor, the three great labor oraganizations—the American Federation of Labor, the Congress of Industrial Organizations, and the railroad brotherhoods—gave the positive assurance that there would be no strikes as long as the war lasted. The president of the United Mine Workers of America was a party to that assurance.

"That pledge was applauded thruout the country. It was a forceable means of telling the world that we Americans—135,000,000 of us—are united in our determination to fight this total war with our total will and our total power.

Tells of WLB Creation.

"At the request of employers and of organized labor—including the United Mine Workers—the war labor board was set up for settling disputes which could not be adjusted thru collective bargaining. The war labor board is a tribunal on which workers, employers, and the general public are equally represented.

"In the present coal crisis, conciliation and mediation were tried unsuccessfully.

"In accordance with the law, the case was then certified to the war labor board, the agency created for this express purpose with the approval of organized labor. The members of the board followed the usual practice which has proved successful in other disputes. Acting promptly, they undertook to get all the facts of the case from both the miners and the operators.

Promises Fair Hearing.

"The national officers of the United Mine Workers however, declined to have anything to do with the fact-finding of the war labor board. The only excuse that they offer is that the war labor board is prejudiced.

"The war labor board has been and is ready to give the case a fair, impartial hearing. I have given my assurance that if any adjustment of wages is made by the board it will be made retroactive to April first. But the national officers of the United Mine Workers refused to participate in the hearing when asked to do so last Monday.

"On Wednesday of this past week, while the board was proceeding with the case, stoppages began to occur in some mines. On Thursday morning I telegraphed to the officers of the United Mine Workers asking that the miners continue mining coal on Saturday morning. However, a general strike thruout the industry became effective Friday night.

"The responsibility for the crisis that we now face rests squarely on these national officers of the United Mine Workers and not on the government of the United States.

"But the consequences of this arbitrary action threaten all of us.

"At ten o'clock yesterday morning, the government took over the mines. I called upon the miners to return to work for their government. The government needs their services just as surely as it needs the services of our soldiers, sailors and marines—and the services of the millions who are turning out the munitions of war.

"You miners have sons in the army and navy and marine corps. You have sons who at this very minute—this split second—may be fighting in New Guinea or in the Aleutian Islands or Guadalcanal or Tunisia or protecting troop ships and supplies against submarines on the high seas.

Appeals From Overseas.

"We have already received telegrams from some of our fighting men overseas, and I only wish they could tell you what they think of the stoppage of work in the coal mines.

"Some of your own sons have come back here from the fighting fronts, wounded. A number of them are now here in a hospital in Washington. Several have been decorated by their government.

"I could tell you of one from Pennsylvania. He was a coal miner before his induction. His father is a coal miner. He was seriously wounded by Nazi machine gun bullets while he was on a bombing mission over Europe in a Flying Fortress.

"Another boy from Kentucky, the son of a coal miner, was wounded when our troops first landed in North Africa six months ago.

They're Not Heroes.

"There is still another, from Illinois. He was a coal miner—his father and two brothers are coal miners. He was seriously wounded in Tunisia while attempting to rescue two comrades whose jeep had been blown up by a Nazi mine.

"These men do not consider themselves heroes. They would probably be embarrassed if I mentioned their names over the air. They were wounded in the line of duty. They know how essential it is to the tens of thousands and ultimately millions of other young Americans to get the best of arms and equipment into the hands of our fighting forces—and get them there quickly.

"The fathers and mothers of our fighting men, their brothers and sisters and friends—and that includes all of us—are also in the line of duty—the production line. Any failure in production may well result in costly defeat on the field of battle.

No One Can Stop U. S.

"There can be no one among us—no one faction—powerful enough to interrupt the forward march of our people to victory.

"You miners have ample reason to know that there are certain basic rights for which this country stands, and that those rights are worth fighting for and dying for. That is why you have sent your sons and brothers from every mining town in the nation to join in the great struggle overseas.

"That is why you have contributed so generously, so willingly to the purchase of war bonds and to the many funds for the relief of war victims in foreign lands. That is why, since this war started in 1939, you have increased the annual production of coal by almost two hundred million tons a year.

Cost of Living Rises.

"The toughness of your sons in our armed forces is not surprising. They come of fine, rugged stock. Men who work in mines are not unaccustomed to hardship. It has been the objective of this government to reduce that hardship to obtain for miners and for all who do the nation's work a better standard of living.

"I know only too well that the cost of living is troubling the miners' families and the families of millions of other workers thruout the country as well.

"A year ago, it became evident to all of us that something had to be done about living costs. Your government determined not to let the cost of living continue to go up as it did in the first World war.

"Your government has been determined to maintain stability of both prices and wages—so that a dollar would buy so far as possible the same amount of the necessities of life. And by necessities I mean just that—not the luxuries and fancy goods that we have learned to do without, in war time.

Some Prices Are Up.

"So far, we have not been able to keep the prices of some necessities as low as we should have liked to. That is true not only in coal towns, but in many other places.

"Whenever we find that prices of essentials have risen too high, they will be brought down. Whenever we find that price ceilings are being violated, the violators will be punished.

"Rents have been fixed in most parts of the country. In many cities they have been cut to below where they were before we entered the war. Clothing prices have generally remained stable.

"These two items make up more than a third of the total budget of the worker's family.

"As for food, which today accounts for about a third of the family expenditure on the average, I want to repeat again: Your government will continue to take all necessary measures to eliminate unjustified and avoidable price increases. We are now taking measures to "roll back" the prices of meats.

Coal Will Be Mined.

"The war is going to go on. Coal will be mined no matter what any individual thinks about it. The operation of our factories, our power plants, our railroads will not be stopped. Our munitions must move to our troops.

"Under these circumstances, it is inconceivable that any patriotic miner can choose any course other than going back to work and mining coal.

"The nation cannot afford violence of any kind at the coal mines or in coal towns. I have placed authority for the resumption of coal mining in the hands of a civilian, the secretary of the interior. If it becomes necessary to protect any miner who seeks patriotically to go back and work, then that miner must have and his family must have—and will have—complete and adequate protection. If it becomes necessary to have troops at the mine mouths or in coal towns for the protection of working miners and their families, those troops will be doing police duty for the sake of the nation as a whole, and particularly for the sake of the fighting men in the army, navy, and the marines—your sons and mine—who are fighting our common enemies all over the world.

Believes in Unions.

"I understand the devotion of the coal miners to their union. I know of the sacrifices they have made to build it up. I believe now, as I have all my life, in the right of workers to join unions and to protect their unions. I want to make it absolutely clear that this government is not going to do anything now to weaken those rights in the coal fields.

"Every improvement in the conditions of the coal miners of this country has had my hearty support. I do not mean to desert them now. But I also do not mean to desert my obligations and responsibilities as President and commander in chief.

"The first necessity is the resumption of coal mining. The terms of the old contract will be followed by the secretary of the interior. If an adjustment in wages results from a decision of the war labor board or from any new agreement between the operators and miners, which is approved by the war labor board, that adjustment will be made retroactive to April 1.

Knows All Will Work.

"In the message that I delivered to the congress four months ago, I expressed my conviction that the spirit of this nation is good.

"Since then, I have seen our troops in the Caribbean area, in bases on the coasts of our ally, Brazil, and in North Africa. Recently I have again seen great numbers of our fellow countrymen—soldiers and civilians—from the Atlantic seaboard to the Mexican border and to the Rocky mountains.

"Tonight, in the face of a crisis of serious proportions in the coal industry, I say again that the spirit of this nation is good. I know that the American people will not tolerate any threat offered to their government by any one. I believe the coal miners will not continue the strike against the government. I believe that the coal miners themselves as Americans will not fail to heed the clear call to duty. Like all other good Americans, they will march shoulder to shoulder with their armed forces to victory.

"Tomorrow the Stars and Stripes will fly over the coal mines. I hope every miner will be at work under that flag."

More Production Pledged by Welsh Coal Miners

LONDON, May 2 (AP).—Thousands of coal miners attending delayed May day celebrations thruout the South Wales fields today pledged increased production and acclaimed a resolution praising the "magnificent fortitude and glorious courage of our soviet allies." The resolution urged immediate action in Europe "which will compel the common enemy to confront the whole weight of allied might simultaneously."

Mines Reopen Tomorrow; "No Promises Made."

continue at work under the terms of the old agreement.

[Officials last night expressed belief that Ickes would attempt to reach a definite agreement with the unions and then submit the agreement to the WLB for formal approval. The operators have objected to paying overtime rates for the sixth day of operation contending such costs would be prohibitive. The operators have sought to make the sixth day mandatory, without premium pay. Inasmuch as the WLB has approved of a six day arrangement, it is considered probable Ickes will not need to submit any supplementary extension of the six day week for the WLB's consideration. Thus, Lewis, who has refused to appear before the WLB, would not be required to do so. In some circles this was taken to mean the WLB was being "bypassed" by Ickes.]

Here's Lewis' Statement.

Lewis in his statement said another meeting of the policy committee of the UMW would be held to discuss further proposals to be worked out with the government.

A union announcement said Lewis was accompanied on the Washington trip, made at "the request of government officials," by union vice president John O'Leary, Secretary-Treasurer Thomas Kennedy, and International Representative Percy Tetlow.

Lewis' statement said:

"The policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America has just agreed by unanimous vote of the membership to restore all mines to immediate operation for a period of 15 days beginning Tuesday.

"This period is to be utilized in coöperation with the co-ordinator of solid fuels for war on the authority of the United States government to work out a new wage contract for the anthracite and bituminous coal industry.

"The agreement when worked out will be retroactive in all its terms and provisions to April 1, 1943, in bituminous coal and to May 1 in anthracite.

"The mine workers recognize that they have a new employer who has not yet had time to appraise the immediate problems facing the industry.

"It is our desire to coöperate with the government and to relieve the country from the confusion and stress of the existing situation.

"We are hopeful that this act will be accepted by our government and the citizens of the nation as an act of wholesome good faith and secure for the mine workers at last that consideration for their wage proposals which they believe to be due.

"I ask the press to carry this message to the mine workers of the nation: Coöperate with your government and with your policy committee and restore the mines to work on Tuesday morning.

"I salute you coal miners. Your hearts are of oak, and your record of patriotism can never be challenged."

Boys Picket Lewis' Home; Call Him 'Hitler's Helper'

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—A dozen boys, bearing placards such as "Hitler's helper," picketed the home of UMW Chieftain John L. Lewis in suburban Alexandria, Va., today. One sign said "don't let this man run [ruin] this country" and others denounced him for the mine strike.

YES You can still be an AVIATION CADET!

- If you want to fight for your country in the air, where there's need for your skill and daring—if you want to be ready for a future career in aviation—the opportunity is still open to you.

1 If you are 18 to 26 years old, inclusive, and have not yet been called for induction under Selective Service, you may apply at once at the nearest Aviation Cadet Examining Board to take your physical and mental examinations. No school or college credits are required. If you pass the examinations and are found acceptable, you will be given a letter to the Armed Forces Induction Station requesting your assignment to the Army Air Forces upon induction. You may then volunteer for induction through your local Selective Service Board. After induction you will be assigned for preparatory training, upon completion of which you will receive your appointment as an Aviation Cadet and have an opportunity to become a Bombardier, Navigator or Pilot—one of the "Three Musketeers of the Air"!

2 If you have already been called for induction, you cannot apply direct for Aviation Cadet training. But, if you are assigned to the Army, you have the same opportunity open to every soldier, 18 to 26 years old, inclusive, to apply for Aviation Cadet training after you are in the ranks.

3 If you are 17 but not yet 18, you can go now to your Aviation Cadet Examining Board and volunteer for enlistment in the Air Corps Cadet Enlisted Reserve. Air Corps Enlisted Reservists are called to active duty for pre-flight training at the end of the first school semester after reaching the age of 18.

ILLINOIS MINERS IN AFL VOTE TO RETURN TO JOBS

Biggest Progressive Unit Reverses Stand.

(Picture on page 12.)

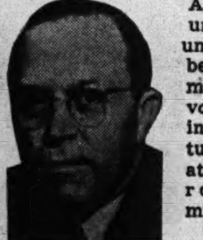
Gillespie, Ill., May 2 [Special].—Local No. 1 of the AFL Progressive Mine Workers of America, the union's largest unit, with a membership of 2,000 miners, today voted 345 to 136 in favor of returning to work at 6 a. m. tomorrow in four mines near here.



Lloyd A. Thrush.

The miners reversed a decision reached last Friday after a four hour meeting with Lloyd A. Thrush, president of the PMWA, who assailed John L. Lewis for "promoting" a strike at this time as a "political move." He termed Lewis a "Frankenstein Monster.

"Any man who promotes a strike at this time is only aiding Hirohito, Mussolini, and the Nazi form of government," Thrush told the monster."

Can't Fight Government.

"I say to Local No. 1 and to 130 million people in America that I have no apology for making an agreement to work another 30 days when we have men dying on the battlefields.

"We cannot fight our government," Thrush continued. "We are not that big.

"I ask you to reconsider what you did Friday night and take the smile off Hirohito's face by returning to the mines tomorrow."

Back at Harrisburg.

Thrush reported seven locals of the PMWA in the Harrisburg area, comprising 1,500 miners, voted unanimously last night to return to work tomorrow. He added that Progressive miners also would go back tomorrow in two of the seven mines at Springfield. Miners of the other five mines are affiliated with UMWA.

Officials of the PMWA said that 10,000 to 11,000 members of other locals in Illinois have voted to return and will be back in their mines tomorrow. About 25,000 members of the United Mine Workers of America, under Lewis' leadership, are expected to follow his order and remain idle.

BURGLARS GET $200 FUR COAT

Charles D. Buddle, 222 East Delaware place, told police yesterday that thieves stole his wife's fur coat, valued at $200, in a burglary of their apartment.

Prefers War Job

[Acme Photo.]

GLEE MARIE O'NEILL.

Detroit, Mich., May 2 [Special].—Work as a pre-flight inspector at the Willow Run bomber plant is more important to blonde Glee Marie O'Neill of Wyandotte, Mich., than a modeling career in New York. An offer of a modeling job arrived at the same time as news that a boy with whom she had grown up had been killed in the western Pacific war area, she said, so she decided a job in a bomber plant was more important.

CALUMET AREA UNAFFECTED BY NEW WORK EDICT

The 48 hour work week decree for steel works, blast furnaces, and rolling mills, issued Saturday night by Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the war man power commission, does not apply to the steel industries of the Calumet region, official spokesmen said yesterday, inasmuch as they are already in a government-declared critical labor shortage area.

A previously issued order, which took effect midnight Friday, directed the mills in the Calumet zone to begin operations on a 48 hour week or to show cause why they could not comply with the order.

Several hardship complaints are reported to have been filed with the offices of William H. Spencer, regional director, showing that the order would necessitate the discharge or layoff of many experienced employés in the Calumet district who would have to be rehired later to take the places of men drafted. Many of these employés, it was pointed out, would find work elsewhere, and so be lost to the steel industry.

Officials said that while the average work week is now about 41.5 hours it will gradually rise in a few months to the 48 hour week as men are drafted. The 48 hour week cannot be put into effect abruptly as the order demands, they said.

FIRST PULLMAN SUB PATROL SHIP HAILED BY NAVY

Launching Crowd Told of Big Bataan Quake.

One of the severest earthquakes ever recorded on the island of Corregidor added to the horror and destruction of battle in the early morning hours before the fall of Bataan, Comdr. Eugene E. Paro, hero of the submarine evacuation of army and navy personnel from Corregidor, said yesterday at the launching of the first submarine patrol vessel built by the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company.

Comdr. Paro said the earthquake was so severe that it was felt by submarines 100 miles at sea. It occurred during the destruction of ammunition and fuel oil to prevent their seizure by the Japanese. The naval officer was awarded the silver star medal for his service in the Philippines.

Told to Forget Differences.

Speed in building submarine patrol craft was urged by Comdr. Paro. He urged the shipyard workers to forget minor differences and inconveniences and to concentrate on the job at hand.

The new vessel, about 180 feet long and designated a PCE [patrol craft escort] by the navy, slid into the water sideways, in what navy men agreed was a "perfect" launching. Miss Blanche E. Bedford, a Pullman-Standard employé for 44 years, sponsored the craft.

Comdr. Paro told shipyard workers that the submarine is "the greatest menace to ultimate victory" of the allies. The new patrol vessel, and her sister ships now being built, are tools to combat this menace, he said.

Detects Hidden Submarines.

"This ship will be so armed that no submarine will be a match for her on the surface," the commander said. "Its very presence on the ocean will make the enemy dive during daylight hours. By means of other devices, the presence of the submarine will be known to the people of this ship even tho the enemy may be submerged. The vital convoys will then be routed away from this lurking death."

The new ships are built in 14 sections, test fitted in the fabrication plant and hauled on flat cars to the ways for final assembly. Interior fittings are practically complete at the time of launching.

Pullman-Standard men and women employés have been taught the intricacies of the shipbuilding trades, including "seagoing lingo," naval officers said. Another 4,000 workers are urgently needed by the company, they said.

Praises War's "Unknown Men."

C. A. Liddle, president of the Pullman-Standard company, attributed the swift conversion of the company's plants to war work to the foremen, leaders, and works managers, whom he called "the unknown men in this war program."

Capt. W. R. Dowd, supervisor of shipbuilding for the navy in the Chicago area, told the launching audience that the navy needs patrol vessels "in a hurry" and urged unstinted coöperation between labor and management in producing them.

The Most Rev. Bernard J. Sheil, auxiliary bishop of Chicago, gave the invocation. Frank M. Gunn, works manager of the company's shipbuilding activities was master of ceremonies. Music was provided by the Navy Pier band.

GEN. MARSHALL'S WIFE SPONSORS LAUNCHING OF NEW TROOPSHIP

Kearny, N. J., May 2 (AP).—Mrs. George C. Marshall, wife of the United States army's chief of staff, sponsored the launching today of the troopship Gen. Alexander E. Anderson at U. S. Steel's federal shipyard.

Mrs. Marshall.

The ship is being built for the United States maritime commission, which will transfer it to the army.

Gen. Anderson, World war I. hero, died last December at Camp Howze, Tex., where he was in command of the 86th infantry division.

FRACTURES SKULL IN FALL.

Joseph Kolter, 60 years old, 2220 Wabash avenue, a painter, slipped on the pavement at 72 East Cermak road yesterday and was treated at County hospital for a fractured skull.

UNIONS AT DODGE PLANT SETTLE WORK DISPUTE

The jurisdictional dispute between two unions over the right to connect piping with water mains at the Chicago Dodge plant was settled yesterday when Joseph A. Keenan, associate director of the war man power commission, ordered the plumbing contractor to permit members of the steamfitters' union to proceed with the work. The dispute had halted work for several days.

George Masterton, general president of the International Association of Plumbers and Steamfitters [AFL] ordered the members of Steamfitters' local 597 to proceed to work at once. Work was resumed.

The meeting was attended by Keenan, who also is secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor; Thomas E. Cunningham, general organizer for the International Association of Plumbers and Steamfitters, and officials of the George A. Fuller company, contractors, and will be resumed in Washington, D. C., today, it was announced.

G. O. P. POST-WAR PARLEY TO OPEN IN CITY TODAY

Nearly 100 representatives of Republican groups in 12 states are expected to attend the midwest conference of the Republican Post-war Policy association opening this morning at the La Salle hotel.

Deneen A. Watson, Chicago attorney who is chairman, will open the meeting at 10:30 a. m. with a keynote address and the appointment of resolutions and other committees. United States Sen. Harold H. Burton [R., O.] will be the luncheon speaker. At the dinner this evening Rep. Everett M. Dirksen [R., Ill.] and Mrs. Lorena Hahn of Omaha, Neb. former American Legion auxiliary chief, will talk.

Republicans favoring post-war collaboration were invited from Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, and Kansas.

Thieves Steal Liquor; Find $1,000 Hidden in It

Thieves broke into the American restaurant, 1150 South Wabash avenue, across the alley from police headquarters, yesterday and stole 25 cases of whiskey, valued at $800. Evenly distributed in the cases was $1,000 in $20 bills which had been kept on hand for cashing checks.

ALLIES RECEIVE 1-10 OF U. S. MEAT IN LEND-LEASE

Totals for First Quarter Top Those of 1942.

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—Lend-lease figures showed today that approximately one-tenth of America's meat supply has been shipped to the nation's allies in the first three months of 1943.

Eighteen per cent of the lamb and mutton were sent abroad, 13 per cent of the pork, and 1 per cent of the beef and veal, the figures showed.

Edward R. Stettinius Jr., lend-lease administrator, reported that in terms of American population weekly shipments averaged one-fifth ounce of beef, two-fifth ounce of lamb and mutton, and three ounces of pork, ham, and bacon.

Increase Expected This Year.

Stettinius said he expects 1943 lend-lease food shipments will exceed those of last year, in which approximately 6 per cent of this country's supplies was sent abroad.

He presented the following comparison of food shipments for the Jan. 1-April 1 period this year and the first quarter of last year:

Beef and veal: Shipped at the rate of about one of every 100 pounds available this year; last year, two-tenths of a pound of every 100.

Lamb and mutton: 18 pounds of every 100. "This was much higher than last year, principally because of unusually large shipments in January," he said.

Butter Shipments Fall.

Pork: Less than 13 pounds of every 100; last year, not quite 10 of every 100.

Butter, fats, and oils: Half a pound of every 100. "This was slightly less than last year," he said.

Dried peas, beans, and fruits: Shipments "were considerably more than last year—almost 17 pounds out of every 100 pounds of dried beans, almost 11 pounds of dried peas, and 22 pounds of dried fruit," he said.

Stettinius said that 3 million pounds of butter and 122 million 200,000 pounds of fats and oils had been shipped in 1943.

Butter Goes To Russia.

"All butter was sent to the soviet army," he said. "We shipped to Russia much more margarine and other fats and oils than we shipped butter. Food for the soviet soldiers has a priority on a par with guns and planes on convoys sailing for the U. S. S. R., whose best farmlands have been ravaged by the enemy.

"The 10 per cent of Great Britain's food supply provided by the United States makes possible maintaining food rations in the United kingdoms at a level which is considerably more severe than in the United States."

Following is a table showing [in million pounds] lend-lease exports in the first three months of this year compared with 1942 exports and supply:

| | '43 Jan. Feb. Mar. exp. | 3 mo. avge. exp. 1942. | 1943 pctg. avge. 3 mo. supply. | 1942 exp. pctg. supply. |

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Mary V. Mack, 6755 East End avenue.]

THE QUESTION.

What bit of advice would you give to a man about to enter the service [Asked of service men.]

WHERE ASKED.

Service men's Center.

THE ANSWERS.

William R. Rosenberger, corporal air forces, Milwaukee, Wis.—The I. Q. tests in the army and navy play an important rôle. I'd suggest that all eligible draftees get a few of the sample tests and try them out. That way he can brush up on what he considers is a weak subject.

John Thomas Smith, aviation metalsmith, River Road, Owensboro, Ky.—It's bad business not to get rid of things like cars and cameras and other things that depreciate considerably. The depreciation is even worse when there's a younger brother to add to it. I wish I had sold my old car.

W. F. Sladek, aviation machinist, 358 East Sheldon street, Philadelphia, Pa.—It's a good idea to try to finish up everything before leaving. I wouldn't count on getting an early furlough to attend to the things that were left undone. If you're lucky enough to get a few days off, you won't want to spend it getting rid of things or settling old debts.

Beryl G. Smoke, aviation metalsmith, Seattle, Wash.—One of my big mistakes was to buy a bunch of clothes when I knew I was about ready to be inducted. I've learned now that it's not a good policy. Those clothes will probably never fit me again after the 30 pounds I've gained.

Warren H. Wolfinger, aviation metalsmith, Gardenville, Pa.—I'd advise every prospective soldier to pay off all of his debts if it is at all possible. You can't imagine how they seem to grow when you're on army salary. Even tho every essential is provided, that little bit of spending money goes too fast.

Stanley Magill, private, air forces, Pittsfield, Mass—There are many things that Uncle Stan would like to tell all those 'teen age boys who are about to enter the service. Don't make too many promises to the home town girls. Don't take the new ones too seriously.

Oriental Rugs in Yard Trap a Theft Suspect

Three oriental rugs and several pairs of shoes which he found in the yard in the rear of the home of Ray Deen, 9519 Leavitt street, early yesterday aroused the suspicions of George Callaghan, an attorney, 9515 Leavitt street. He called Police Sergt. James Oakey, who was home at 9514 South Hamilton avenue. After a short wait Joseph Magiera, 29 years old, 13447 Western avenue, Blue Island, appeared. Oakey said Magiera admitted he had taken the rugs and shoes from Deen's home and confessed seven other burglaries. He is a shipping clerk.

CONGRESS AND THE COAL STRIKE.

The coal strike has been called off for a fortnight during which the union says it will negotiate a new contract with the new employer—presumably the United States government, which seized the mines on Saturday.

At this writing it is still far from clear what that declaration means. It may mean that Secretary Ickes and the union agreed on a program of nationalization of the coal industry—a goal which many New Dealers and all Socialists have long had in mind. We shall know more about that in a day or so.

Meanwhile one thing is abundantly clear. Mr. Lewis did not call off the strike because of patriotism. If he had been open to that appeal the strike never would have been begun. He may have called it off because he at last was beginning to realize how unpopular the strike was and how rapidly public indignation was rising. Even if the strike is not renewed at the end of the two week armistice the outrage will not soon be forgotten and there is much reason to believe that congress will take steps to prevent the repetition of such incidents during the war.

Congress cannot pass a law forcing anybody who doesn't want to do so to work in the mines. The Constitution forbids involuntary servitude and there is no evading that provision. A man, acting by himself, can quit his job when he wants to. But congress can declare that a strike in a basic industry or, indeed, in any interstate industry, is an illegal conspiracy and that participants and particularly leaders in such a movement are guilty of a crime. It is not by right, but by permission that unions are allowed to monopolize labor and apply concerted force. The majority of the people have thought that the granting of this privilege was needed to maintain a just balance between employers and employés, but the privilege can be withdrawn. The law can be amended to provide that union leaders who in time of war instruct their men to quit work in a body and pickets who seek to enforce the order can be convicted of a lawless conspiracy.

The people were not defenseless in the presence of the coal strike. Their congress had the power to put a speedy end to it by outlawing it. The remedy is not one that will appeal to Mr. Roosevelt because of his political obligations to the CIO, but fortunately for the country, he is not the law-making authority.

A NEW WAY TO ELECT JUDGES.

The judiciary committee of the Illinois house of representatives is about to consider a bill proposing a new method of electing judges of the Municipal court. The measure has been indorsed by the Chicago Bar association, the Chicago Federation of Labor, and a great many others who are aware of the low estate into which Chicago's Municipal court has fallen.

A similar if not identical bill was introduced in the legislature two years ago. We favored it then and we favor it now.

If the measure is adopted, the new judges will be nominated and elected on a non-partisan ticket. We doubt if that provision is of much importance. It seems probable that the political organizations will continue to nominate judges as they have continued to nominate aldermen, despite the non-partisan ballot introduced nearly 25 years ago.

The other provisions are more significant. A man who is elected to the bench will serve a probationary term of four years after which his name will be submitted to the voters, without an opponent, on the sole question whether he shall be retained in office. If the vote is favorable, he gets a six year term at the end of which the process is repeated. The theory is that a judge once elected can be a good deal more independent under this plan than under existing arrangements and we think it quite likely that the theory will be borne out in practice.

We can repeat here what we said two years ago: "The proposal embodies the principle of retaining in judicial office men who have satisfactory records. At the same time, it leaves the process of selection entirely in the hands of the voters. At some future date, it may be desirable to extend this system of selection to the various state courts. At present it can be recommended in the belief that it may improve the Municipal court, and in the knowledge that it can hardly make it any worse than it is today."

SEVERSKY'S PLANE.

Among the places visited by the President on his recent swing around the country was the plant of the Republic Aviation corporation at Evansville, Ind. There the Thunderbolt or P-47 fighter with its 2,000 horsepower air-cooled motor is being assembled. It is reported that the President saw "not only the factory, but a demonstration of the planes, with three in tight formation diving at better than 400 miles an hour to within a few feet of the ground, then zooming upward again." The dispatches add that the factory site was a cornfield only 13 months ago. The account pretty plainly invites the belief that in developing new and superior airplane types and in getting them built, this administration is extremely hot stuff.

That isn't the way readers of Maj. de Seversky's "Victory Through Air Power" heard it. Maj. de Seversky says:

"The same official [of the army air forces] who had ruled that there must be no more air-cooled engine pursuits, years later boasted publicly about the new Republic [formerly Seversky] P-47 pursuit built around such an engine. In a recent speech, after mentioning the Bell Airacobra and Lockheed P-38, he said that 'eclipsing both of these, however, is the new single engine Republic P-47B.' This publicity implied that this was something new in the way of pursuits, pulled at long last out of the official magician's hat. The truth is that this plane was conceived in 1937, presented for consideration to the air corps in 1938, only to be denied a hearing because it did not use the pet [Allison] engine. Its production was thus postponed until 1941. No amount of self-congratulation by the very officials who prevented the construction of this plane until three years too late can wipe out their responsibility for the delay. According to the Truman committee, the P-47 cannot be delivered in appreciable quantities until the end of 1942 and production will not be in full swing until some time the following year. Yet this plane could have been in action on all fronts years earlier."

At another point Maj. de Seversky says it's likely that other nations will have brought out something better than the Thunderbolt by the time his ship gets into action. About that we ought to know a lot more before long. There must be some hundreds of thousands of Americans, readers of de Seversky's best-seller, who are awaiting with more than ordinary interest to learn how the P-47 will meet the test of actual combat against the best that the Germans, Italians, and Japs can offer.

DIPHTHERIA.

A mother, her twin sons, and a child relative of the family were taken to the Municipal Contagious Disease hospital recently suffering from diphtheria. One of the children died. At last report, it was believed that the lives of the others could be saved. That child's death was unnecessary. There have been 12 other deaths, equally unnecessary, in Chicago this year, and there were 43 last year.

A few generations ago, diphtheria killed nearly half of those it struck. Antitoxin was developed shortly before the turn of the century. Its effects were so dramatic that it was adopted almost universally within a few years. Refinements in its use eventually cut diphtheria mortality to 2 in 100 cases. Then, about 15 years ago, immunization completed the conquest.

Proper immunization, with the use of the Schick immunity test, will prevent at least 99 per cent of those treated from contracting the disease, and lessen its severity for the others. The only problem today is to get people, and particularly children, immunized. That is a problem of education.

Ten years ago, in 1933, the city of Chicago set a magnificent record. It had only nine deaths from diphtheria. That was the result of a campaign for immunization that was vigorously pushed in that and the immediately preceding years. A health education program in the schools was an invaluable aid.

Chicago has not done even a third as well in any year since 1933. In the last three years Chicago had 116 diphtheria deaths. Suburban Cook county, with a population about a fifth of the city's, had two in the same period. The suburban area, altho it has slums as well as wealthy communities, isn't strictly comparable with Chicago. Other large cities furnish a better yardstick.

In 1941 Chicago had its lowest diphtheria toll since the spectacular year 1933, with 34 deaths. New York, with twice our population, had only 10. The next eight cities in order of population had only 23 deaths among them. Of the 67 deaths in the 10 largest cities in the country, Chicago suffered just one more than half.

In certain other fields of public health Chicago has a good record. Any city can have a good record on diphtheria if its authorities will devote enough attention to it. We made a good record once. We can achieve it again. The principal requisites are education of the public and persistence.

THE DELINQUENT FIRE CHIEF.

Says Matthew M. Neely, New Deal governor of West Virginia:

"It is my sincere belief that in existing circumstances the Presidency of Franklin Roosevelt is as indispensable to the welfare of America and the freedom of the world as a fire department is to a city that is wrapped in flame."

The citizens of the city wrapped in flame might conceivably be interested in firing the fire chief who failed to protect them.

WHEN THE PRESS FAILS.

[Boston Herald.]

Democracy cannot thrive without a press which provides unbiased news. Dictatorships tolerate nothing of the sort. For them the press is simply an instrumentality to be used for the climb to power. Once they attain authority, they utilize the newspapers for propagandist purposes. Uncolored news is unknown in Germany, France, and Italy.

The historian of the great destroyed publishing house of Ullstein states, in "The Rise and Fall of the House of Ullstein," that the German press was not on the alert until too late to hinder Hitler. "There is no use denying the fact," he says, "that the press failed." It did not take Hitler seriously until he was in position to intimidate publishers or destroy their publications. They feared financial loss and "ceased to lead public opinion." Whether, as the author says, a free German press could have stopped Hitler may be questionable, but the servility of German newspapers made his progress easier and more rapid, and allowed the people to remain in almost complete ignorance of all that Hitlerism implied.

The similar failure of the French press in the hour of need has often been considered one of the contributory causes of the disaster that befell the third republic. France has seldom if ever had any newspapers of the type with which Americans are familiar. Of organs of opinion, subsidized journals, "reptile sheets," "newspapers," so-called, whose sole function was to promote the interests of a personage or a clique, France has and has had all too many.

For decades no daily paper in France made any serious attempt to provide its readers with a comprehensive idea of what was going on in Paris or France or the outside world. The people were left with illusions that often failed to come within eyeshot of realities. The bitter clashes and clever propaganda which had undermined the national morale before the war was the work, in great measure, of a press that was the precise opposite of our own. It was so in 1870, when France went blithely to war with Germany. It was out of an outraged conviction that they had been defrauded of their right to know the truth that the French overturned their own government.

When the idea gets fixed that it's the purpose of taxation to reform and punish instead of raise revenue then the country gets the mess that it has today. —Kansas City Star.

WORDS FOR SALTY TALKERS.

Since the navy has a language of its own and uses it freely to the frequent bewilderment of civilians, landlubbers should memorize a few salty phrases from the marine vocabulary in order to hold up their end of the conversation. We guarantee that most of the following terms will cause recent alumni of "boot" schools to consult their glossaries:

Ballahou: Any old and lubberly looking vessel. Originally, a West Indian schooner whose masts are raked at different angles.

Bilge and cantline: A method of stowing casks.

Fantod: A nervous officer, usually British.

Gilguy: The equivalent of a doodad, a dingbat, or any of those things; also a makeshift device.

Lagan: Any heavy article thrown overboard and buoyed. The third and most mysterious member of the trinity that includes flotsam and jetsam.

Irish hurricane: A dead calm.

Scuttle butt story: Any wild rumor that spreads among the crew.

"See you in Liverpool": The traditional parting hail of a pilot when leaving an outward-bound vessel.

Skillygalee: Oatmeal water used by firemen working in a high temperature. It is believed to prevent stomach cramps.

THE FOUR SEASONS.

Four maidens men call the Four Seasons,
Fair daughters of earth and sun,
Begotten for delectable reasons,
When empyreal loves were begun,
And the moon-girdled goddess, your mother,
By the flaming Apollo was won,
In his embrace to roll as a lover,
While the numberless centuries run.

The fresh gold of the sun in your hair,
With bright blossom and violet crowning
Our queen fairy, the fairest of fair.
Ardent Summer with amorous poses
For your indolent lovers to share,
You invite to perfume laden closes,
And the rose of felicity there.

Glowing Autumn with vestments of scarlet,
Intermingled with purple and gold,
With the hoarfrost bespangled and starlit,
All the fruits of the harvest you hold.
Shining Winter in sable and ermine,
Your dark tresses besprinkled with snow,
Your beauty, blue veined, we determine,
Thru jewels that sparkle and glow.

The full bounty of each none may measure,
For you each in your turn to us give,
Your distinctive, incomparable treasure
To gladden all the years that we live,
With hands clasped in stately procession,
You eternally pass in our view,
And we welcome you each in succession,

What's Your Favorite Wind?

You get it first coming toward the Furniture mart. A gentle push in your face. But it packs up along those great wall areas and gathers and spills against you. A steadily increasing, invisible weight. You lean forward, gaining against it by digging your toes into the ground with every step. A stone's toss from the corner of the towering mass it wrenches your wildly flapping garments. You grip your hat, and hold your coat together to save the buttons. You rock and weave in the battle to keep your course. You attain the corner and struggle forward. You pass the corner and suddenly, midway of the building, the wind stops. You are in a miraculous calm. You relax. But, passing the midpoint a gentle push urges you from behind. You walk faster, unwillingly. The force from behind accelerates and tears at you relentlessly. You leave the mart behind; you gasp and smooth your ruffled apparel, blink cinders from watery eyes.

The simoom, the chinook, the mistral, the harmattan, the khamsin are all famous winds, but right here in Chicago you have met the mightiest of all—the tears-your-pants-off wind.

Crankshaft.

(Did you ever meet the Fort Dearborn massacre wind? It blows you half way across the bridge and then tosses you back again.)

WHAT A LIFE!

His meals are planned with utmost care,
His bed is snug and warm;
He worries not about fanfare,
He's shielded from all harm.
He's not concerned with income tax,
And pays no heed to bills;
He cringes not at female slacks,
And gives no thought to frills.
He's not invited out to bridge,
He wears no dinner jacket;
In fact it is his privilege
To duck the social racket.
E'en tho his life is full of vim
And on the up and up,
I would not exchange lots with him.
Who wants to be a pup?

STIMULATING THE PANCREAS IN ALLERGY.

So large a percentage of our population is sensitive to one or more substances, that the discovery of a panacea would be received with world-wide acclaim. The manifestations of allergy—hives, itching, eczema, and asthma—are annoying if not harassing.

Not infrequently, one's livelihood is jeopardized and efficiency is interfered with. The developing child, obliged to fight some irritant in his diet which has thus far defied all known attacks, may be stunted in growth.

A few years ago, numerous clinical trials with an extract of the spleen were reported. A few cures ensued. Later, it was found that certain digestive enzymes, similar to those produced by the pancreas, were present in the remedy. When the material was injected, it was tantamount to increasing the power of the pancreas.

Another forward step was then made. A weak solution of hydrochloric acid was allowed to remain in contact with the mucous membrane lining the duodenum [the first portion of the intestine]. The resulting product, properly sterilized, was tried with several individuals who were subject to hay fever. Prompt relief followed in two, while a third became much worse. Persistence, however, cleared the third case with complete abatement of a disorder of long standing.

When comparing the influence of duodenal and splenic extracts, it was determined that one-tenth of the former would produce the same result as a full portion of the latter.

What does this solution contain? It supplies a digestive hormone which acts directly on the pancreas, obliging it to do more work and increase its output. What are the effects? A single injection of the duodenal filtrate will, in many instances, bring about the disappearance of all symptoms of allergy within 20 minutes. But, with many, discomfort may return in 24 hours. In consequence, a mode of treatment has been devised which includes one dose every 24 hours with gradual lengthening of the intervals until the use of the preparation is discontinued.

In one series, 112 patients with recurring hives recovered in less than 3 weeks. Only 6 declined to respond. Of 82 cases of asthma, 73 were improved altho 9 were failures. Sneezing from hay fever disappeared in 31 in 4 weeks and only 4 disappointments were encountered. With eczema, 468 victims responded satisfactorily while 65 did not.

Physicians interested in this procedure are frank enough to admit that reappearance of the ailment will be observed if the employment of the compound is stopped too soon, or when some new offender proves disturbing. Success is ascribed wholly to the fact that the pancreas is stimulated and obliged to carry on its normal functions.

In this connection, it has been suggested that hydrochloric acid by mouth may perform in this same fashion. It may be able to stir the pancreatic gland to greater activity. Naturally, no one should use the acid unless it is absent from the gastric juice. Further study may add more light to this subject. At any rate, we will all watch developments with interest.

THE RUN-EVERYTHING BOYS.

Naperville, Ill., April 27.—For the second time, when the hog crop was ready to run, the manage-everybody-and-everything boys in Washington have seized the opportunity to smash the market. Last December it was a threat to fix prices with a threat to lower wholesale and retail prices. This spring with the fall crop ready, it was again a threat that if the retail prices did not break, live prices would be fixed. Their ultimatum was practically an order to the packers to break prices. If there ever was evidence of collusion in market places, it came with that crash in hog prices last week.

These men who never raised a hog in their lives still are not satisfied. A meeting was held on Tuesday, April 20, with packers and producers to devise a method of putting on a ceiling of $14.50 a hundred, Chicago basis, if the packers are unable to break prices to that level. In the meantime, packers have brought suit against the government for losses allegedly sustained in the handling of current purchases.

Corn has virtually gone to parity, the cash corn ceiling at Chicago being $1.07 with parity at $1.085. The CCC price to processors is still $1.10, while the price to feeders outside the corn belt is $1.02, plus freight. Here is an example of the United States government sustaining a black market on its own account.

I have in my hand the March issue of the Agricultural Situation. This government booklet asks for a live stock goal for 1943 12 per cent above 1942. How in the name of heaven can they expect farmers or industry to produce more in the face of a declining market? Nobody in his right mind can expect any such thing—whether in agriculture or industry.

WALTER H. KANSTEINER.

THE BIRD WITH THE STARE.

Chicago, April 27.—I believe the bird captured on the roof of the Art institute has been incorrectly identified as a Virginia rail. It is described as having a 3 inch bill and 2 inch toes, and, judging by the picture in today's TRIBUNE, is a much larger bird than the Virginia rail.

The bill of the Virginia rail is but 1¼ inches long, while its middle or longest toe measures 1⅓ inches. I believe the bird in question is undoubtedly a king rail, the largest and most handsome of the rails.

The Virginia rail measures 9.5 inches from tip of its bill to the tip of its tail while the king rail measures 18 inches tip to tip.

GUIDE TO THINKING.

Hines, Ill., April 26.—Thank you for your editorial, "States Across the Sea."

The editorial initiates a theme which will prove of tremendous value in guiding the thinking of people here and abroad. The current books, articles, essays, and verbosity discussing the forces that make for war or peace are all overshadowed by this brief, concise, and American editorial.

The organizations—America First, the pacifists, the isolationists, royalists, and Communists, both of foreign and domestic varieties—now have something tangible to use in readjusting their thinking. The editorial should help them in an effort to do something constructive for humanity.

ASHLEY HAGGARD.

NOT BY AESOP.

Conway, Kas., April 20.—The following fable, which did not come out of Aesop, appeared in one of our papers in Rush county:

"There was once a farmer who drove 20 miles to the county seat in his pickup. He drove faster than is recommended by his government because he had so much business that required his attention. He had to register for the army, fill out an occupational questionnaire, sign up for crop insurance, get a card permitting him to sell his wheat, go to the courthouse to put in his application for a tire, to the county superintendent's office for school records to get his eldest child a birth certificate, and to the county clerk's to get a book for tax exempt tractor gas.

"Thinking of all these things confused the farmer so much that half way to town he remembered he had to have his war ration books to get canning sugar permits for his wife, so he went home to get them. When he at last arrived at the courthouse he found the doors locked and everybody out to lunch since they were operating on war-time to save electricity. While the farmer was sitting in his pickup waiting for the offices to open, the state highway patrolman came along and asked to see his motor vehicle tax stamp and his driver's license. Then the chief of police dropped by asking him to move his pickup since he was located in a 15 minute parking zone. So the farmer went to the drug store and bought a box of aspirin as he also remembered that he had to go to the grocery store to trade and use his points or lose their value which expired that day so he went home and went to bed and if the FBI hasn't found him he is probably there yet because he had bought a pair of shoes without a stamp for one of his children who was barefoot.

CLARA M. HUNT.

EXCELLENT PRECEDENT.

Chicago, April 26.—Today's papers tell us of a grand juror who went to Hot Springs instead of reporting for duty. Superior Court Judge John A. Sbarbaro held him in contempt of court, fined him $100, and directed that the money be turned over to the Red Cross.

Judge Sbarbaro has established an excellent precedent. Any man who deliberately slows down the wheels of justice in favor of a vacation deserves to be fined.

I wonder if Judge Sbarbaro's ruling cannot be adapted to cope with the time honored practice of those of his Superior court colleagues, and of Circuit court judges as well, who close their court rooms from July to September of each year to take what is whimsically termed a "recess," regardless of the great number of cases that are waiting more or less patiently to be heard?

FRANK J. HART.

WORSE THAN SOAP OPERA.

Chicago, April 28.—I agree that the singing commercials are murder, but there are worse radio offenders. I refer to the heroes and heroines of the "washboard weepers" who daily do a Charlie McCarthy on the New Deal knee, informing us of its current pronouncements and using them as texts for sermons. This is definitely insulting to the literate population which has various other means of informing itself and doesn't like being preached at. The New Deal should "hire a hall"—that is, have its own special radio classroom or pulpit where the illiterates may gather to hear the current proclamation from Washington. It should not subject us to incessant emotional jolts by tearing the maiden daily from her lover's arms to exhort and instruct us on these matters.

SELMA WALDEN LINCOLN.

SUCH IGNORANCE.

Palm Beach, Fla., April 26.—If reporters can be believed we have the incredible spectacle of the secretary of the navy not knowing the difference between deadweight and gross tonnage as witnessed by his feeble attempt to take issue with the Truman committee report on ship sinkings.

Quoting the New York Herald Tribune of April 24:

"Mr. Knox was evidently under the impression when he said this that gross tonnage is greater than deadweight tonnage, since only in such case would his theory have been supported of how the committee report had erred."

HOWARD MAJOR.

You pay for quality clothes whether you get them or not. Remember that cheap little dress you bought because you had "nothing" to wear to your husband's client's party? It looked fine when you tried it on. But you hated it that night because it wasn't well made; its style wasn't the simple, sound design you like; the material wasn't up to your standard. So there it hangs in your closet, and you'll probably never wear it again. These days it's almost unpatriotic to spend money for clothes you can't wear and wear; it's wasteful to buy for the moment instead of for the year (or even two). You're sure of satisfaction, you save materials and labor, by buying quality—the best you can afford.

EXPECT TRANSIT PLAN VETO, 8c FARE O. K. TODAY

ICC Slated to Reveal Its Merger Decision.

fied company, in the opinion of the commission, could not reasonably expect any further increase of fares in view of the class of service to be rendered thru the war period [it is agreed no new equipment can be purchased now].

Examiners Oppose Plan.

Directly attacking the merger proposal was a document that had been presented to the commerce commissioners weeks ago. This was the report of Examiners Salter and Kleinman, a monumental work of 300 pages in which it was asserted that the whole scheme was financially unsound and should not be put into effect.

In the report the examiners considered the financial setup of the projected corporation and its probable income and expenses and held that a substantial increase in fares would have to be granted to enable it to pay its regular expenses and lay aside money for the modernization program. Under certain circumstances, it was estimated, the fare on the joint system might have to be raised from the present 8.3 cents average to 10.7 cents, almost 5 cents on any round trip. The increase, it has been figured, might reach 20 million dollars a year for Chicago and suburban riders.

Sketch of Background.

Traction unification has been talked and planned for decades in Chicago. The present plan was started rolling about seven years ago. The background was briefly this:

The surface lines franchise expired in 1927 and altho it was solvent as an operating concern it could not refund its bonds as they matured [the first mortgage holders have been drawing their 5 per cent interest since]. The city refused a franchise to any but a unified company and the surface lines have since been operated in receivership under the federal district court.

The L, meanwhile, had come into hard times about 1932. It has had an operating deficit of millions since and is in bankruptcy. One factor in its troubles has been the competition of the private automobile. The unification plan has been described as a deal in which the solvent surface lines would buy and operate the insolvent L in a single company.

Proposed Financial Plan.

There were many preliminaries, but eventually the plan was worked out with the city, the mortgage bondholders and the District court as the agreeing parties. The first mortgage holders of the surface lines were to receive 72 millions of first mortgage combined company bonds and the senior elevated investors were to receive nearly 8 millions of income bonds. For the juniors there was to be 99 millions of preferred and common stocks.

The city incorporated the plan into an ordinance which was approved by referendum. It provided that the unification would grant universal transfers and that the new system would be regulated by a transit board of three men appointed by the mayor of Chicago. The board's power would extend 30 miles beyond the city limits, so far as local transportation was concerned.

Last June Judge Michael L. Igoe ordered a battery of attorneys to present the case for unification to the commerce commission and ask an order to put the merger into effect.

Lengthy Hearings Held.

The hearings on the matter began last September and continued into January. Thruout the commission maintained that it was the responsible body that would have to pass on the wisdom and feasibility of the scheme and refused to be hurried. Its members have said only that they would give their decision when they had considered the plan adequately.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

S. E. C. writes: "My son, age 21, is a chemical engineering student at Purdue. He is deferred from the draft until Aug. 15, 1943, at which time he will graduate. They have been told at Purdue to get jobs in some war industry as they would be more valuable there than in the army. Is this true? If so, what industries would be considered essential? Isn't there some place in the army where they could make use of their education?"

ANSWER: It is more than likely that by the time your son graduates, he will receive his induction notice. It would not do a great deal of good for him to seek a defense job and expect deferment because, while he has had the engineering training, he has no experience, hence his draft board would have a difficult time rationalizing an occupational deferment. There is every reason to believe he will find ample opportunity to utilize his training in service.

C. L. K. writes: "My friends all tell me that if I join the WAVES or SPARS, I will lose my individuality and become just a nonentity. Are they right?"

ANSWER: Nothing could be farther from the truth! The navy considers each person, whether man or woman, an individual. When a woman volunteers, every effort is made to determine what job she can do best, and then put her in it. After she finds her place, the rest is up to her and she can advance as fast as she can develop her aptitudes and abilities.

ANSWER: Wearing the uniform is permissible from the place of discharge to his home, within three months after date of discharge, and on occasions of ceremony when the uniform of the highest grade held during service may be worn. To avoid violation of the national defense act, the uniform should never be worn after discharge under circumstances likely to result in a misconception of the person's actual status.

D. C. E. asks: "What became of the V. O. C. program for the army? If it has been discontinued, will married men, and men who have been deferred for occupational reasons have opportunity to attend officer candidate schools after they enter the army?"

ANSWER: The quotas for the volunteer officer candidates for 3-A registrants were all filled as of February of 1943 for the following 10 months at least. Married men, and men who have been deferred, may discover that by the time they are inducted, the army will have graduated enough officers for an army of at least 11 million men.

NOTE: Many of our correspondents failed to include self-addressed envelopes when they wrote in for the engineering corps and air corps specialists data sheets. We do not mail material when people neglect to include or send stamped envelopes.

WOMAN NAMES ATTACK SUSPECT AS PURSE THIEF

A 19 year old woman yesterday identified Howard McEwen, Negro, 20 years old, discharged treasury department messenger and junior clerk, as the man who struck her on the head and robbed her of her purse on a south side street April 19.

McEwen was seized in the Merchandise Mart early Saturday after he struck a woman stenographer twice on the head with a hammer. Chicago avenue police and treasury department officials said they obtained a confession from McEwen that he had raped or assaulted 20 women with a hammer or a knife.

Eleven of his supposed victims looked at him on the showup platform at police headquarters yesterday but none was able to identify him.

McEwen, who was placed on probation for the rape of a high school girl in 1939, asserted the police forced him to confess and that he was innocent of all the charges except his attack upon the stenographer.

BAN MEAT POINT VALUE SLASHING BY PROCESSORS

Milwaukee, Wis., May 2 [Special].—Meat wholesalers and primary meat distributors will not be allowed to make voluntary reductions in meat point values, Don T. Allen, district director of the Office of Price Administration at Milwaukee, said today.

Altho retailers, by making reductions in money prices, have been permitted to lower point values, such a move on the part of wholesalers and distributors would endanger the setup of meat rationing, Allen said.

If one wholesaler in an area reduced point values, all others would be compelled to follow suit. If wholesalers in different areas did this, the result would be a hindrance to distribution over large regions, Allen explained.

5 FOOD RATION STAMPS VALID DURING WEEK

Blue G, H and J stamps for processed foods, and red E and F meat and butter rationing stamps may be used by consumers this week, and they will remain valid during May. The G and H meat stamps will become valid May 9 and May 16. Sugar stamp No. 12, good for five pounds, expires May 31.

Gasoline A stamp No. 5 expires May 21, with No. 6 becoming valid the following day. Second tire inspections for cars operating on C gasoline ration stamps must be completed by May 31.

Retailers and wholesalers will begin registering with local rationing boards today for their allowable point inventories for meats and fats, and this registration must be completed by May 14.

Chemical Products Plant Is Damaged by Flames

Damage of $2,500 was caused yesterday by a fire of undetermined origin in the two floor plant of the Sabo Chemical Products company, 1052 Milwaukee avenue, a salve and bleach manufacturer. The fire caused some damage to an adjoining two floor building at 1050 Milwaukee avenue.

SALARY LOANS FOR WOMEN WHO WORK

$25 repaid in one week costs 18¢—$50 repaid in ten days costs 50¢—No endorsers needed

SHORT OF CASH? If you have a steady job, you should investigate Household's salary loan plan. This plan offers a quick, simple way for men and women who are working to borrow at reasonable cost. No endorsers are ever needed. You borrow on your earning ability and willingness to repay. We also make car and furniture loans. Even when making these loans we consider character and regular income more important than the borrower's security.

Choose your own plan

You may repay a loan in a few days or in a number of monthly instalments—whichever best suits your needs. Charges are made only for the actual time you have the money. At our rate of 3% per month, a $25 loan costs $1.55 when repaid in three monthly instalments, but only 18¢ when repaid at the end of a week. A $50 loan repaid in four monthly instalments of $13.46 each costs $3.84—or if repaid in one month costs $1.50.

Solve money problems here

Getting a loan at Household is a quick, private transaction—we require no endorsers or guarantors. The table below shows many sample monthly payment plans—we can fit our service to your needs. All payments include principal and interest.

You may get a Household loan to pay your doctor or dentist, insurance or taxes, old store bills, repairs, union fees—for almost any purpose. If you need money, phone, write or visit Household Finance.

CITY______________________ STATE______________

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE is paying $3,500.00 a week for completing unfinished "Beat-the-Axis" slogans. Ten prizes of $50.00 each are being paid every day except Saturday when twenty prizes of $50.00 each are being paid. Look at the unfinished slogan printed above. Surely you can find words to finish it just as you'd like to finish Hitler—try it—you may win a $50.00 bill.

★ THE RULES ★

1. Each weekday until further notice the Chicago Tribune will publish an unfinished "Beat-the-Axis" slogan. You are invited to complete it in your own words. Total must be ten words or less, including printed word or words if given. All words must start with the same letter. Hyphenated words will be counted as one word.

2. The Tribune will pay ten cash awards of $50.00 each weekday, excepting Saturdays when twenty cash awards of $50.00 each will be paid. Awards will be paid to the persons whose entries are published in the Tribune. Such selected entries will be published exactly one week following the publication of the unfinished slogan and the prizes will be paid at once.

3. This offer is open free to every man, woman, boy and girl, regardless of residence, excepting employes of the Chicago Tribune and members of their families. No subscriptions to solicit—nothing else to do but complete the slogan. Entries should be addressed, "Slogans," Chicago Tribune, Post Office Box 1539, Chicago, Illinois. All become the property of the Tribune and none will be returned. Entries must be in by noon the third day after publication of the unfinished slogan.

4. You may submit your entry on the coupon published in the Tribune, or a facsimile. Judging will be by a Committee appointed by the Tribune. Awards will be paid to the persons who submit the most interesting slogans in the opinion of the judges. Aptness of thought, wit, cleverness and neatness will be the determining factors. Entries must be the original creation of the sender. In case of ties, duplicate awards will be paid. In submitting any entry the entrant must agree to accept the judges' decision as final. In fairness to all, the Tribune cannot engage in any correspondence.

POST-WAR NEED FOR AIRPORTS DEMANDS VISION

City Plan Group Studies Future Building.

BY FRANK STURDY.

Airport needs enhanced by aeronautical developments brought about by the war, complicate preparations for post-war construction and demand greater vision in programming than any layout heretofore considered for metropolitan Chicago.

This thesis will be the guide of the Chicago Plan commission in the study of future airport development now under way, H. Evert Kincaid, executive director, said yesterday. Preliminary conferences have already been held with air lines representatives, and the coöperation of the Chicago Regional Planning association, the Association of Commerce, and representatives of civilian flying interests will be sought.

Consider Cargo Planes.

The two considerations that have increased in importance in greater proportion than was anticipated in any previous study, Kincaid said, are air cargo and private flying, both given impetus by the war which will place their growth years ahead of expectation.

Airplanes of so many sizes and types will be flying soon after the war that special airports will probably be necessary, classified not only according to size and location but in function. Cargo carriers will require airports, for example, near industrial centers, freight terminals, and loading facilities, while large passenger airliners must be provided with ports close in terms of time to the loop hotel and business district.

Might Build Two on Lakefront.

"Special weight will be given to a design for a lakefront airport of sufficient size to take the biggest airplanes," Kincaid said, "and if one is financially feasible, why not two? We might very well have one on the near south side, accessible to the downtown district in a few minutes travel, and another ten miles north. For reasons of safety, air traffic experts believe it wise to have such airports ten miles apart.

"We will undertake a study of the cost of constructing cargo plane airports in blighted, tax delinquent districts. Such an airport might be elevated, with trucking, railroad and hangar facilities beneath it, and runways of 6,200 feet on its surface, perhaps longer ones if they are necessary to the airlines."

To provide civilian pilots with convenient landing places, slum clearance will be suggested. In one location less than one mile from State and Madison streets, on the near west side, six city blocks are largely vacant, and delinquent in taxes totaling more than the worth of the property, Kincaid said. This site has already been marked as a proposed airport for small civilian planes and helicopters.

Gift for Rickenbacker

Capt. Rickenbacker and the Rev. John E. Steinmueller.

New York City, May 2 [Special].—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, American air hero and survivor of an ordeal in the Pacific during which he and his companions frequently read the Bible, has been presented an especially bound copy of the revised New Testament, edited by the Catholic Biblical association, and a companion volume, The Commentary on the New Testament. The presentation was made by the Rev. John E. Steinmueller, who contributed to both books.

FREE 7 IN PLOT TO FIX DUBUQUE PRICE OF MILK

Dubuque, Ia., May 2.—Seven defendants, charged with violating the Sherman anti-trust act in connection with an increase in the retail milk price in Dubuque, were acquitted by a jury in federal court here late last night. An eighth defendant, August Thill, an independent producer, was acquitted during the five day trial when Judge Merrill E. Otis of Kansas City, Mo., sustained a motion for a directed verdict.

The defendants acquitted by the jury were the Dubuque Coöperative Dairy Marketing association; John Banworth, president of the coöperative; Charles Kauffman, manager; the Beatrice Creamery company of Chicago; Andrew Fluetsch Jr., local manager of the Chicago company; the Sanitary Milk company, and Thomas H. Wright, manager of the Sanitary. The Sanitary company recently went out of operation.

The government charged the defendants conspired to increase the price of milk in Dubuque from 10 to 11 cents a quart on or about June 16, 1941, and from 11 to 12 cents on or about Aug. 17, 1941. The defense denied any conspiracy existed.

AVIATION COURSE OF JUNIOR A. C. BEGINS TONIGHT

Registrations for a course of instruction sponsored by the Junior Association of Commerce of Chicago in navigation, meteorology, civil air regulations and servicing of aircraft will be held at 7 p. m. tonight in the Hotel Midland, 172 West Adams street.

The ground school will give 78 hours of instruction in classes meeting two nights a week for 13 weeks. Since 1939 the school has trained 2,800 men, many of whom are flying now with the army or navy, according to Kenneth Friscoe, who is in charge of the program.

"The courses are popular with young men who hope to be admitted to army or navy flight training," he said. "They provide the basic knowledge required for aviation cadets."

2 SPEAKERS RAP BILL TO RETURN BAN ON LIQUOR

Sponsor of New Dry Law Assails Liquor Use.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 2.—An emphatic protest against a return to prohibition days and all the crimes they provoked was made tonight by Representatives James P. McGranery [D., Pa.] and Emanuel Celler [D., N. Y.] in an attack on a bill introduced in the house by Rep. Joseph R. Bryson [D., S. C.] to ban the manufacture and sale of all alcoholic beverages for the duration of the war. The bill is expected to be one of the first items on the house calendar when it resumes business after the Easter recess.

The McGranery-Celler attack was made in a debate with Bryson and his colleague, Rep. Edward H. Rees [R., Kas.], on Theodore Granik's American Forum of the Air, broadcast from Washington over W-G-N and Mutual.

Calls Prohibition "Shameful."

"To me prohibition is an anathema," Celler asserted. "I lived thru it. It represented the most shameful and hypocritical period in American history. In and out of congress I helped fight for repeal. We cut the cancer out but the virus is again spreading.

"The loss of treasure and flie during the 'ignoble experiment' was appalling. The professional drys would disregard the sordid history of prohibition with its drunk storm, bribery, bath-tub gin, Al Capones, intimidations, banditry, home brew, ginger jake, needled beer, and the hip-pocket flask as the badge of youth.

"Let us band our energies to chain Hitler and Hirohito and not chain drink."

Same Subterfuge Used.

Celler said the drys are using the same tricks and subterfuge they employed during the world war that "bunkoed" the nation into passage of the 18th amendment and the Volstead act.

Rep. McGranery said it is not the temperate use of alcoholic beverages which is harmful but their excessive use which provides grounds for the prohibition propagandist.

"There are in existence thruout the country and there can easily be enacted sufficient local laws to regulate the proper use of alcohol to prevent its being dispensed to be used under conditions that might result in harm to society.

Cost of Liquor Denounced.

"Emphatically I protest against prohibition for the duration. Now, more than ever, we need a unified, law abiding, robust, and God-fearing citizenry. We can have it—but not during an era of prohibition."

Rep. Rees used the argument that the United States used 2 billion gallons of liquor last year which cost approximately 4 billion dollars. He said manufacture of these beverages required 15 million tons of grain, more than a million tons of fruit, and 70,000 pounds of sugar and sirup. He said these materials could contribute far more to the war effort if used for food.

Rep. Bryson argued that alcohol wastes national wealth. He said each man, woman, and child could have been given a $50 war bond for approximately the sum the nation spent on intoxicants.

Plan Inquest Into Death of Student in Fall Off Pole

An inquest will be held at 10 a. m. today at 2410 North avenue into the death Saturday of Donald Wolff, 17 years old, 1636 North Talman avenue, who was injured fatally when he fell 30 feet from a telephone pole. The youth was a senior at Lane Technical High school.

N. Y. HOMES HIT BY SHOTS FIRED FROM AIRPLANE

Machine Gun Slugs Rattle on Brooklyn Streets.

New York, May 2 [Special]—A hail of machine gun bullets from a mysterious, low flying airplane today smashed into three apartment buildings and rattled off the pavements in the Park Slope section of Brooklyn. The burst of fire came only a few minutes after the all-clear signal had ended New York's first Sunday air raid test.

No one was injured, but police called that fact miraculous. The bullets tore thru roofs of the apartment buildings and in one room buried themselves in the floor. Police dug them out and turned them over to ballistics experts.

In an apartment in President avenue, Arthur Irwin was alone in the kitchen when he heard the slugs rip thru the ceiling of an adjacent bedroom.

Heard Plane, Then Shots.

"I heard the plane," he said, "and it sounded low. Then I heard the shots."

Almost at the same instant, Marion Martin heard a crash in the living room of her family's apartment in Eighth avenue. She rushed from the kitchen to find the floor covered with plaster which had been torn from the ceiling. A .50 caliber machine gun slug lay on the divan.

Daniel Maloney, his wife, and children were in the dining room of their apartment in 10th street when several bullets poured into a bedroom. The slugs ripped into the floor.

No One Saw Plane.

Out in the street, at the intersection of Berkley place and Eighth avenue, lead crashed into the pavement and ricocheted over the curbs. Several slugs were recovered at this point.

Altho numerous persons in the neighborhood reported hearing the motor of the ship and some "believed" they heard the rattle of the gun, no one could be found who actually had seen the plane. Police said they would report the incident to army authorities.

TIPS ON ELECTRIC SHAVER CARE FROM EDISON

NAVY

At the peak of condition and ready for action at the instant command. And how do we keep in tiptop shape? Why, it's very simple! Our owners give us the proper care.

They give us a quick cleaning after each shave. And this, more than anything, keeps us on the job, working smooth and slick day after day.

Why not give your electric shaver this easy care? If you have a Schick, a Shavemaster or a Remington, we believe these tips will be very helpful.

The Schick—Simply thrust the brush through the head from each end to remove beard clippings. Never leave your shaver plugged into the electric outlet when not in use. Remove the cord from the shaver after each shave.

Keep it oiled—It's a good idea to oil your Schick every three months. Remove the shearing head and four cover screws and place only one drop of high grade light oil in the hole of the shaft (center of motor).

The Shavemaster—Brush the whisker-chaff out of the head, if not daily do it at least once a week. Keep the metal guard on your Shavemaster when it is not in use to protect the superthin screen of the comb.

Don't over-oil—One drop of oil every two or three months in the holes of the motor is sufficient. It is important that you put a drop of oil on the bronze bearings at each end of the cutter holder every month.

The Remington Magnetic—After each shave remove the hair pockets. Shake out beard clippings and blow or brush out shaving head. Replace the hair pockets and cover the shaving head with the transparent guard.

The Remington Dual—Blow through both heads or use cleaning brush to remove beard-dust. Once a month put two drops of oil (one drop at a time) on the end of a needle and insert in oil-hole on the back of shaver.

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

The FARM by Bob Becker

May 2, 1943.

A TAME crow that has been one of the interesting bird residents on the farm unfortunately met a big black cat under adverse circumstances this week. As a result, Jimmy the crow, is no more. But some one avenged Jimmy's death so there is one less "wild" cat wandering around the farm woods and fields.

The men on the farm can't figure how this cat got into the enclosure in which the crow was kept. When some one discovered that the cat had made an entry into Jimmy's home, it was too late to do anything for the bird because it was dead, but the cat made the mistake of staying near its prey so Jimmy was avenged.

This prowling feline was not the only animal on the loose this week. One of the men on the farm remarked earlier that several stray dogs have been seen in the woods and fields. One morning no less than three of these roving canines were observed, and the other day stray dogs attacked several sheep. Fortunately none of the sheep was seriously hurt.

Change Character.

In recent years stray dogs have done considerable damage to the sheep on the farm. As is often the case when a couple of dogs roam around the countryside, they develop the habit of hunting together and before long they become lamb or chicken killers.

Very often it's difficult for owners of good dogs to realize that their pets, always well behaved around the house, will change their character when they run loose and become a menace to farm stock.

What these owners fail to understand is that altho our modern breeds of dogs have been kept as pets for many years, they still have some instincts and traits that are inherited from their wild dog ancestors. One of these traits is the love of chasing anything that is moving.

Warning to Owners.

For example, nearly all dogs like to chase after a rolling ball. A moving automobiles is irresistible to some pets. Others can't resist the urge to run after a person on a bicycle. A running rabbit arouses the chasing and hunting instinct in nearly every dog, no matter what the breed may be.

When a careless owner lets his pet roam the countryside all day it's an open invitation to the dog to develop the instinct to chase and kill. That is why the docile friendly pet around a home may, if turned out day after day, gradually become a killer that attacks sheep and other farm stock.

The GARDEN by Bep Markland

THE National Victory Garden institute recommends to school officials and junior garden clubs a gardening booklet especially designed to aid children who may have gardens of their own this year or who are participating in school gardening projects.

Written by Paul R. Young, supervisor of school gardening in Cleveland, O., the booklet is simply phrased, clearly illustrated, and complete. It includes lessons on growing plants indoors, planning the garden, preparing the seedbed, planting, weeding and thinning, controlling insects, and harvesting. In addition there is a chapter on staging school garden contests.

A companion booklet is the teacher's manual, giving school instructors data on staging garden projects. The children's garden booklet is available for 25 cents from the publisher, Morris Shipley, Room 1200, National Press building, Washington, D. C.

[The Tribune's gardening booklet, titled "How to Make a War Garden" is sold by The Tribune Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn street and in the lobby of Tribune Tower. The price is 10 cents over the counter, 13 cents by mail.]

HAYMARKET RIOT VETERAN TELLS OF BATTLE IN '86

Visits Old Station to Mark 57th Anniversary.

The Haymarket Riot Veterans association held its annual meeting in the Des Plaines street police station yesterday, commemorating the 57th anniversary of the riot in which eight policemen were killed and 75 others injured.

Capt. F. P. Tyrrell.

Present was Frank P. Tyrrell, 85 years old, retired police captain.

Dispensing with usual formalities, Tyrrell went on record that times aren't what they used to be.

"Why, I remember we used to have more than a hundred at our meetings," he said. "Of course, even if we are down to one active member we have outlasted the anarchists who caused the riot. They used to hold parades every year, but they haven't had one for several years now."

Tells of Fatal Riot.

Tyrrell told how 176 policemen, at 10:10 p. m. on the night of May 4, 1886, marched from the Des Plaines station into Haymarket square where hundreds had gathered to protest the killing a day earlier of a man in labor troubles resulting from demands for an eight hour day.

"Do your duty," a speaker on a torch lit wagon shouted as the policemen appeared. The crowd opened up with revolvers. Some one threw a bomb. The policemen charged with revolvers and night sticks, and "we had the riot ended within 10 minutes," he said.

Tyrrell made his recitation to two reporters, his grandson, Cyril A. Farwell who brought him to the station, and a retired detective sergeant, Bert Cowdery.

Station Seems Strange.

The ex-police captain, whose father thwarted an attempt to steal Abraham Lincoln's body, missed the crowds of former years. The station, which he hadn't visited since large year's annual meeting seemed strange to him.

The policemen at the desk said they didn't know Tyrell but guessed he probably was the elderly gentleman in the assembly room. Instead of rallying around to hear of the Haymarket riot, the officers clung to a radio where a ball game was being reported.

As Tyrrell said, times have changed.

POLICE BULLET FIRED IN CHASE HITS BYSTANDER

William Tuttle, 57 years old, 3001 North Central Park avenue, an elevator operator employed in Tribune Tower, was shot in an ankle while walking on Milwaukee avenue yesterday when Policeman Fred Forsberg fired at a man he was attempting to take into custody.

Forsberg and Policeman Harry Jensby, of the Shakespeare station, were called to a car rental agency at 2667 North Milwaukee avenue to remove Stuart Hamilton, 40 years old, on complaint of the manager, Miss Blanche Michna. She said he insisted on renting a car after she refused.

Hamilton began running when the police called to him, and Forsberg fired one shot in the air, and a second shot aimed low. This shot wounded Tuttle. Hamilton was caught in the 2700 block on Milwaukee avenue and was booked to appear in Safety court Wednesday.

Find Bodies of Three Missing Aviation Cadets

San Marcos, Tex., May 2 (AP).—The bodies of three San Marcos field navigation cadets, missing since their plane took off from the field on a routine training flight April 23, were found late today in the craft's wreckage by searchers in the wild ranch region west of Blanco.

Elderly Woman Killed When Hit by Street Car

Mrs. Catherine Judecki, 72 years old, of 2601 West 22d place, was killed by a street car last night as she was crossing Western avenue at 41st street.

BANDITS ROB SHOE DEALER.

Harold K. Kaye, manager of a shoe store at 1758 West 95th street, told police last night that two men carrying revolvers, robbed him of $175 in the store.

SPEAKERS WARN POST-WAR PLAN HINGES ON CRISIS

The American charter, popular name for the post-war program of the national resources planning board, was discussed on the Northwestern Reviewing Stand over W-G-N and Mutual yesterday under the topic, "America After the War."

Speakers agreed on the importance of determining the direction of such planning now, but indicated that final solution may have to wait until the crisis arises.

The difficulty of planning to end anything all at one time was illustrated by one speaker who pointed out that war plants may continue into the peace period for a while, not for war material, but to provide employment. Another set the time of discontinuing economic controls as "When we have put the occupied countries back on a sound economic basis."

Unemployment insurance, perhaps in the form of dismissal pay, and some kind of job planning were described as federal governmental duties toward service men.

The broadcast originated at Columbus, O. Participants were Norman Thomas, Socialist; R. R. Lowdermilk, educational radio division, United States office of education; Prof. H. Gordon Hullfish, Ohio state university; H. C. Atkinson, administrator of the Ohio bureau of unemployment, and Clarence Peters of Northwestern university.

GROUPS OPPOSE BILL EQUALIZING PAY FOR WOMEN

Equal pay for women legislation before the Illinois general assembly should be studied for possible damaging results on business, the Chicago Association of Commerce and the Illinois Federation of Retail Associations warned yesterday.

An administration sponsored bill to assure women equal pay for equal work was introduced in the senate last Thursday, and referred to the industrial affairs committee, after the house committee on industrial affairs had sent a similar bill to subcommittee.

The Illinois retail federation raises such questions on equal pay legislation as: How is it to be enforced? Who is to determine 'work of substantially the same character, quality and quantity? Will untrained government inspectors examine your pay roll and try to solve a personnel problem which has baffled skilled personnel executives? Will not this proposal be inflationary?

MOVE TO REGAIN U. S. PROPERTY SEIZED BY AXIS

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—Preparations to recover an estimated $5,000,000,000 for American property "systematically destroyed or looted by the axis in the global war zones" are already under way, Eugene P. Thomas, president of the National Foreign Trade Council, Inc., announced today.

Declaring that the destroyed property represented the investments of 2,000,000 Americans, Thomas said industrialists had started the effort for recovery by appointing a committee representing from 90 to 95 per cent of American industry engaged in foreign commerce prior to the war.

The committee, known as the foreign property holders' protective committee, is headed by James A. Moffett, chairman of the board of the California Texas Oil company.

OBITUARIES

John A. Ronan.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning for John Andrew Ronan, a retired attorney who maintained offices in the loop for more than 25 years. He died yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Crane, at 217 Glenview avenue, Elmhurst. Mr. Ronan was formerly a resident of Wilmette. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Eva M. Ronan, a son, John A. Ronan Jr., and two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Crane and Mrs. Rosemary Conroy. Funeral will be from 123 North York street, Elmhurst. Burial at All Saints cemetery.

Thoreau Cronyn.

New York, May 2 (AP).—Thoreau Cronyn, 62 years old, formerly managing editor of Collier's magazine, died last night at Glen Cove, N. Y. Cronyn worked on several newspapers earlier in his career, among them the old New York Morning Sun, the San Francisco Chronicle, the Springfield, Mass., Republican, and as editor of the Daily, Palo Alto, now the Stanford Daily.

Baron Van Der Oye.

New York, May 2 (AP).—Baron Schimmelpennick van der Oye, chairman of the Dutch Olympic committee during the 1928 games at Amsterdam, died today in the Netherlands, a Berlin broadcast said. He was 63.

Dr. Don S. Harvey.

Dr. Don S. Harvey, 75 years old, 7700 Saginaw avenue, a Chicago physician for almost half a century, died yesterday in South Chicago hospital. He was a member of the American Medical association and for a number of years served as president of the staff of South Chicago hospital. He is survived by two brothers and two sisters.

WOMEN VOTERS ASK EXTENSION OF TREATY LAW

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—Extension of the trade agreements act for another three years in its present form was urged today by the National League of Women Voters to "show willingness to continue coöperation to promote world stability."

In a pamphlet published for distribution to its members, the league asserted that congressional veto power over trade agreements would "be a retreat undermining confidence in future United States policy."

The league also declared an extension for less than the usual three year period would "indicate what may be a fatal lack of confidence in the objectives of the program."

Carnival Store Owner Succumbs to Fall Injuries

Frank Stenson, 44 years old, who operated a carnival supply store at 5611 West Chicago avenue, died in the Alexian Brothers hospital last night of a skull fracture suffered April 29 when he fell down a flight of stairs. He is survived by his father, William; his widow, Edna, and three brothers.

Boy, 14, Accidentally Shot by Chum Dies of Wound

Donald Hallasch, 14 years old, 1811 West 13th street, who was shot accidentally April 2 by Anthony De Maris, also 14, in the latter's home at 1809 West 13th street, died yesterday in County hospital.

MRS. MEINCKE, EARLY RESIDENT OF CHICAGO, DIES

Funeral services for Mrs. Clotilde Meincke, 83 years old, whose parents were early residents of Chicago, will be held today at 2 p. m. in the chapel at 3918 Irving Park road. Burial will be in Graceland cemetery.

Mrs. Meincke died Thursday in her residence at 4134 Addison street. She was the widow of Charles J. Meincke and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaestner, who came to Chicago in the 1850s. Her grandmother was one of those who aided Carl Schurz to escape from Germany to the United States to aid the Union cause in the Civil war.

Her memory remained remarkable until her final illness, and she often told stories of the Chicago fire and the reconstruction of the city.

She is survived by two sons, Richard A. and Paul, a daughter, Hattie, four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

MISSOURI MULE KICKS IN TO HELP IN WINNING WAR

East St. Louis, Ill., May 2 (AP).—Balking and kicking as usual, Missouri mules once more are the prima donnas of the sales yards, principally because they can tread where jeeps spin helplessly—in the gooey mud of Tunisia.

Altho few bonafide Missouri mules have reached the battle fronts, the army has purchased approximately 20,000 mules in Missouri and other midwest and southern states in the last eight months. Only 2,000 were sold to all buyers in a corresponding period in 1940.

W. F. Sparks of the Sparks-Norris Horse and Mule Commission company, reporting average sales of 300 or 400 mules each month, said the army demand is expected to continue. The army buys only sturdy animals, all 15 to 15½ hands high. The average price is $300, up $100 over two years ago.

GRANDMA DOES HER STUFF AT ANNUAL FOLLIES

Grandmothers—110 of them, ranging in age from 44 to 90—presented the fourth annual Grandmothers Follies at the Morrison hotel Casino yesterday.

"This is grandma's day to shine," said Mrs. Rose Steen Dyvig, president of the Grandmothers Club of Chicago, which sponsored the show.

Several women wore dresses they had saved since the '90s. Others were dressed in baby clothes, pantalettes overalls and minstrel outfits.

The grandmothers were hula dancers and harem dancers. One burlesqued a strip tease performance. The audience, which packed the big room, whistled, stomped, and shouted: "O you kid!"

Any protests to their antics the grandmothers could answer with: "We did it for our country." Receipts went into war bonds.

Green Lauds Restaurant Operators for Patriotism

National Restaurant Week opens today and, marking the occasion, Gov. Dwight Green yesterday said that Illinois restaurants are coöperating loyally with the rationing program. Despite shortages of help and supplies the restaurant men are carrying on competently and patriotically, he added.

should include a complete physical check up in addition to venereal disease tests
If you are about to marry you naturally want to be certain that you are in good health. At the Public Health Institute you will not only be given the venereal disease tests required by law, but will receive a thorough medical examination that covers your heart, lungs and other vital organs.
Because the Public Health Institute was organized by public-spirited citizens as a corporation "NOT-FOR-PROFIT," its charge for such a physical examination, including blood and other tests, is only $3.00. It has given more than 5,500,000 examinations and treatments since its inception in 1920.

TINY EX-CONVICT IS CHARGED WITH ROBBERY SERIES

Ten charges of robbery and burglary were placed yesterday against Edward Shaffer, 30 years old, 421 South Central Park avenue, a diminutive ex-convict whose reputed crime range stretched from Glencoe to Beverly Hills.

Shaffer was identified as a burglar by George B. Wilson, 2121 West 92d street, who said Shaffer aroused him April 17 while prowling the house. After they met downstairs, Shaffer, armed with two revolvers taken in an earlier raid, marched Wilson to his bedroom and robbed the householder and his wife of $25.

Police said Shaffer reappeared in Evanston last week, and riding a bicycle between his stops, robbed four pedestrians. Shaffer, who was arrested first in 1930 and served two prison terms, was seized Saturday by Glencoe police after he is said to have robbed the home of Philip Schifflin, 626 Greenleaf avenue, Glencoe.

ROBBED BY TWO BANDITS.

Franklin Magus, Negro, 349 East 50th street, reported yesterday that he was robbed of $7 by two Negroes who stopped him near his home.

Celebrate 28th Birthday of Capt. Wermuth Today

The 28th birthday of Capt. Arthur W. Wermuth, Chicago's "one man army" hero of fighting in the Philippines, who apparently was taken prisoner by the Japanese at the fall of Corregidor, will be celebrated today at the Servicemen's Center at 178 West Washington street. Guest of honor at the observance will be Capt. Wermuth's sister Talia, a professional dancer.

TYDINGS GIVES PLANS TO FEED HUNGRY NATIONS

Exiles' Gold Would Pay for Food Supplies.

Washington, D. C., May 2—A plan for the purchasing of food to feed starving peoples of Holland, Belgium, and Norway was outlined today by Sen. Millard E. Tydings [D., Md.] in a radio address from Baltimore. Funds for the purchases, under Tydings' plan, would be from vast quantities of gold which the exiled governments of those countries carried out before arrival of the German armies.

Tydings, who said "the chiefs of our armed forces" are sympathetic to his program, said that the food would be only a small portion of the over-all supply of the United States and would not cost this government a cent in money. Transportation would be in Swedish boats, now idle because of the war.

The food probably would be distributed under the supervision of Swiss and Swedish units of the International Red Cross to prevent any of it from falling into enemy hands. These societies have been handling the distribution of food in Greece where the food famine has taken its biggest toll, according to Sen. Tydings.

Ample Shipping Available.

"I have been advised that the neutral Swedish government has ample shipping available which could be used to carry these food supplies to these stricken men, women, and children," Sen. Tydings said. "Of course, an agreement between the allies and axis powers guaranteeing the safety of these ships to Holland, Belgium, and Sweden would have to be worked out first.

"Assuming that all of these arrangements can be perfected and a minimum of food requirements gotten to the men, women, and children of these occupied countries, much good could come of it.

Thousands Dying.

"We must keep in mind that these countries have been under Nazi domination since 1940 and that since that time thousands have died of starvation and more thousands are afflicted with serious and deadly diseases due to malnutrition."

The senator said that neither physical or mental development are normal when the body doesn't receive sufficient nourishment. As a result, he said, the coming leaders of these nations with whom we must deal after the war are apt to have not only low physical standards but a low mental outlook.

Tubercular Deaths Rise.

He said in some sections of Belgium more than 50 per cent of the children are tubercular while deaths from tuberculosis in Holland are up over 70 per cent, both as a direct result of the food shortage. He said in Belgium the daily available ration affords a person only about 900 calories. Medical authorities say 2,200 calories, or 2½ times this daily ration, are required for the maintenance of health.

"I have presented all of these facts to the chiefs of our armed forces. I am happy to report that I have found them sympathetic and willing to try to work out ways and means, insofar as is possible, to alleviate the distress of the occupied countries wherever it can be done without aiding the enemy war effort.

"Studies are being made now to see how far we can go and what means can be taken to accomplish the desired ends."

TEN FAMILIES FLEE FIRE.

A fire which started in an incinerator box on the third floor of a building at 5842-58 South Kedzie avenue yesterday caused $300 damage and forced 10 families to the street.

CHICAGO LEADS IN TIN SALVAGE FOR 4TH MONTH

For the fourth consecutive month, the Chicago area contributed more salvaged tin cans in April than any other city, J. C. Dougall, tin specialist for the war production board, notified William L. McFetridge, area salvage director, yesterday.

Chicago and surrounding communities shipped 2,213,240 pounds of processed tin cans to detinning plants from March 21 to April 24. Other communities in the state shipped 857,850 pounds.

McFetridge said 42,227 pounds of pure tin will be recovered from the cans. This will be sufficient, he said, to meet the tin requirements in the production of three 35,000 ton battleships, 940 Liberator bombers, one 20,000 ton airplane carrier, and 625 27-ton medium tanks, with enough tin left over to coat 1,800 gas mask canisters.

Chairman for Rummage Sale

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

"No ration coupon required," Mrs. Lee Strauss was saying as her picture was taken with part of the large shoe stock that will go on sale today at 211 West Monroe street, where the Kenwood center of the Infant Welfare society is holding a three day rummage sale. Mrs. Strauss is chairman of the sale.

THE STAGE . . . .

By Cecil Smith

Soldiers and WAACs at Camp Grant are preparing an original musical comedy, "We're Tellin' You!", to be presented on May 17 at the Coronado theater in Rockford, Ill. Seats will be available only thru the purchase of war bonds, in $100, $50, and $25 denominations.

The most celebrated member of the all-army cast is Pvt. Freddy Wittop, who was known as Federico Rey in the days, before last December, when he was the dancing partner of Argentinita. He will appear both in a Spanish dance and in a rumba of his own composition, in which he will be accompanied by a group of WAACs. Merriel Abbott, the Chicago dance director, has given her own costumes, shoes, and ornaments to the WAACs with prodigal generosity, and has also provided Pvt. Wittop's costumes.

The musical score has been composed by Corp. Karl McGuire, formerly of Evanston. There will be no fewer than 19 songs, "ranging from ballet to boogie-woogie." Corp. McGuire is collaborating with Sergt. McElroy Wilkes, author and director of the show. Sergt. Wilkes has been identified with Camp Grant entertainment activities for a year and a half, and has written radio scripts for the major programs originating in the Camp Grant studio. The dance director is Sergt. Hallie Connor, whose imagination is hard at work devising routines for the first all-WAAC chorus to appear on any professional stage.

Other featured members of the cast are Sergt. Leo Nedoff, former master of ceremonies for Rudy Vallee; Sergt. Dennis Kelly, a familiar figure in Chicago night life; Pvt. Thixton Sprenger, lately of Earl Carroll's "Vanities," and Pvt. Freddie Frampton, ex-burlesque comic. Among the WAACs are Aux. Julie Smart, Aux. Mary Deloache, Aux. Ethel Kollus, and Platoon Sergt. Alyce Coleman. The Bombardiers, the Camp Grant band, has been augmented to a 30 piece orchestra, under the direction of Corp. Florian ZaBach.

The idea of the show was suggested by Lt. Col. Harvey E. Wilson. Brig. Gen. John M. Willis offered the production to the county war bond committee, and the offer was accepted by members of Tebala Temple in Rockford, the organization sponsoring the bond drive during May.

Sales Records Tell Popularity of New Styles

BY REA SEEGER.

Definitely established new fashions from spring sales records include short [a little below the hipline] coats in bright colors and soft woolens, classic coats in dull black, full length models, vivid velvet-corduroys for contrast with summer prints and cottons, and the companion coat to a well tailored two piece suit of the same material.

Still going strong are the streamlined basic dresses, invariably in dull black crêpe, altho the same distinctive, simply cut dresses are available in navy blue, copper, brown, and later in the season in dark green and neutral beige and gray. The dresses are of figure revealing silhouette, made of soft clinging crepes expertly detailed tho severely plain in general aspect. Costume accessories are more important than ever before since it is with these small trifles of color and pattern that otherwise simple dresses are transformed into costumes of distinction.

The smartest costume accessories usually are inexpensive, yet, when assembled with imagination and daring, literally make a costume. This year will set a record for lavish assortments. Color, pattern, bold and subtle contrasts, effective plaids, checks, dotted, and striped fabrics are all featured not only in matching hats and bags, but in gloves, blouses, brilliantly planned short jackets, belts, collar and cuff sets, neckline bows, and even the small but telling buttons. It's a season when individual ingenuity and daring imagination will count!

Mrs. Mary G., Chicago: Here's a conservation measure I've adopted for the duration. Other women may not have the bad luck I do when it comes to breaking china and glass cups that swing from hooks in the pantry. Now I have had narrow shelves built, just for my cups, and the damage to them is growing steadily less.

Mrs. Ed Jones, Chicago: I am hopefully waiting for the day when plastic sweaters and socks will appear on the market, so like wool that you cannot tell the difference except that they won't shrink and moths won't like 'em!

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

Six housewives, two with husbands in the army and two others with sons in the military forces, were among the 16 persons graduated recently from the course in fundamentals of engineering at Northwestern University's Technological institute. Certificates were presented at a graduation luncheon at the Georgian hotel in Evanston.

[Evanston Photographic Service.]

Mrs. Mabel Crowder of Evanston trains to be a junior engineer at Northwestern university's institute of technology.

The course lasted 12 weeks, and only persons with college degrees were eligible for it. It included classes in drafting, shop processes, engineering mathematics, mechanics, and surveying. Sponsored by the United States office of education it was tuition free, and the graduates are qualified to be junior engineers in war industries.

In addition to housewives, enrollment in the class included a school teacher, an accountant, a writer of technical books, an advertising copy writer, a music teacher, a bookkeeper, and a sculptress.

Among the students was Mrs. Martha Starbuck of Northbrook, whose husband is a major in the army, and whose daughter is a student at Wells college. The husband of Mrs. Mabel Crowder of Evanston is a lieutenant colonel in the army, stationed in Africa. Mrs. Reba Campbell of Winnetka has one son in the army and another at New Trier High school. Another, Mrs. Helen Karstrom of Evanston, has a son in the navy and a daughter in high school.

Already, Miss Raymond Thomsen of Winnetka, a graduate of Columbia university, is considering several industrial positions. She has written a number of books on production methods and has done editorial work for publishing houses. Another of the students, Mrs. Elizabeth Benehoff, Evanston, a graduate of the Portland, Ore., School of Music, has already accepted a position in war industry.

A one day conference on woman power in war production will be held tomorrow at the loop Y. W. C. A. center, 59 East Monroe street, sponsored by the "Y's" war service committee. The program, starting at 10:30 a. m., will consist of the exchange of ideas and experiences on the part of management, labor, government services, community agencies and women workers themselves, on the effective use of women workers in the Chicago area.

Among the speakers scheduled to represent the various groups involved are Miss Sara Southall, Leverett Lyon, Mrs. Eleanor Eels, Robert Travis, Arnold Aronson, Miss Mary E. Murphy, Dr. Curtis McDougall, Mrs. Stanley Pargellis, R. B. MacFarlane, Miss Agnes Nestor, Roy Franklin, Morris Yanoff, and Howard Gould. Mrs. Mitchell Dawson, chairman of the conference, announced that individuals and organizations concerned with the problems of women in industry are invited to attend.

The 20th annual midwest safety conference to be held tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday at the Hotel Sherman will emphasize the conservation of woman power for war power and highlight women's rôle in safety.

On Thursday morning a special session will be devoted to women in the war. Presiding will be Miss Ruth Stone, women's placement consultant at the Hawthorne Works of the Western Electric company. "The Weaker Sex in Industry" will be the subject of Miss Caroline G. Olsen, of the Liberty Mutual Insurance company of Boston. A fashion parade on safety versus style will be conducted by Miss Rheau Pearce.

Other women in industry who will speak during the three-day conference will be Miss Irene Loge of the Union Special Machine company, Miss Dolores Comeau of the Republic Drill and Tool company, and Miss Victoria C. Stralke, Foote Brothers Gear and Machine company. More than 100 civic, social and governmental agencies are coöperating with the Greater Chicago Safety council, sponsor of the conference.

Thru the Looking Glass

There is no such thing, as we all know by now, as an "eyelash grower." But there are little tricks of eyelash care that can give at least the illusion of more luxuriant growth—and we have a pretty well founded hunch that good care, day after day, indirectly helps the growth.

The use of a good pomade or cream is no waste of time. Lashes, like skin and hair, are usually the better for regular oiling, we've found, and the brushing involved in the application of it helps literally to polish the tiny strands.

Brushing the lashes every day, or better yet, several times a day, even helps them to be longer, we think, because it does help keep them healthier. And we've noticed that women who make a habit of using a pomade laden brush when they make up their faces usually have lashes that are longer and glossier than those who just leave them alone.

The dust and the face powder that settles on lashes in the course of a day isn't good for them and certainly dims their gloss and depth of color. Make it a habit each time you apply makeup to brush out every smidge of the powder. A bit of oil on the brush helps a lot. Don't get the bad habit of moistening a finger and drawing it over them to remove powder! This tends to make them brittle.

Use a brush with bristles firm and long enough to polish each lash. Use it on brows too, and with plenty of force, not a once-over-lightly touch. ELEANOR NANGLE.

Children Sing Delightfully in Annual Recital

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

National Music week opened quietly, with just two concerts on the Sunday calendar—the 30th annual children's festival sponsored by the Civic Music association at Orchestra hall, and a recital at Kimball hall by the Negro tenor, Charles Everett.

Altho nothing could be more unassuming than the yearly concert which fills Orchestra hall with the singing of some 500 children, it invariably turns out to be one of the delights of the season. Chosen from the city's recreation centers, from schools, orphanages and the juvenile home, the children are supposed to range in age from 5 to 15, tho one of the girls on the stage yesterday was singing in her 14th festival, having started at the ripe age of 3.

But most of yesterday's singers were small, and under the friendly direction of Marx E. Oberndorfer, and to the accompaniment of the Civic orchestra, they sang with a joyous purity of tone, a serene clarity of enunciation and a spontaneous delight in the music many an older chorus could envy in vain. They sang, as always, entirely from memory, their eyes alert to the familiar baton, yet you never glimpsed a more engagingly unregimented batch of children. They were well behaved with that irresistible accent that comes from the inevitable small squirmers, the tiny giggle boxes and the occasional tot with glossy curls who was born to sit primly in her best Sunday dress.

Their program roamed the pleasant world of folk songs, and had outstanding success in the buoyant Chinese tune, "Kites Are Flying." A more intricate Polish dance piece called "Lost Mazurka" was negotiated with skill, and in honor of Mother's day next Sunday Mr. Oberndorfer programed his own agreeable tribute, "My Mother."

Perhaps no reference should be made to the Civic orchestra without quotation marks or an explanatory footnote. Once the lusty offspring of the Chicago Symphony orchestra and the best known training orchestra in the country, it has dwindled in war time to a mere nucleus struggling to hold a fine tradition intact. Yesterday, it was augmented by many additional women players and by men from the Chicago Symphony, and under the direction of Hans Lange it gave a performance of Haydn's "Military" symphony which, considering the circumstances, was surprisingly clear, accurate, and enjoyable.

At Kimball hall, Mr. Everett's tenor turned out to be unusually husky in timbre and grainy in texture, yet occasionally possessed of remarkable resonance. It is an out of the ordinary voice that would justify hard work on the fundamentals of tone production, diction and the projection of style. At the moment Mr. Everett sings because he enjoys singing, and there is far more than that to a professional career. Max Rudolph's mannered accompaniments for the second half of the program were not up to his usual high level.

National Family Week Observance Is Opened

Spiritual resourcefulness and the strengthening of family loyalties will be emphasized by the observance of National Family week, which began yesterday and will continue thru Sunday. Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish groups as well as governmental agencies interested in family living are coöperating in the program. Members of the national committee in charge are the Rev. Harry C. Munro of the International Council of Religious Education in Chicago; the Rev. Edgar Schmiedeler, secretary of the National Catholic conference on Family Life, Washington, D. C., and Rabbi Israel Goldstein of New York, president of the Synagogue council of America.

Mrs. Walter R. Comfort, of the La Grange center of the Infant Welfare society, is busy with plans for the center's benefit series of dessert-bridge parties to be held in members' homes tomorrow. On Wednesday night the center is sponsoring a performance of "Personal Appearance" by the Western Springs Little Theater.

Daughters and Dads of St. Scholastica High to Have Party

Girls of St. Scholastica High school all have a date with their dads this evening. The Daughters and Dads club is holding its annual dinner dance in the school at 7416 North Ridge avenue.

The school drama group has worked up a program of skits for the dinner hour and there also will be professional entertainment. For their part, the dads not only have been catching up on the new dance steps, but have had a strenuous work out preparatory to meeting the girls' basketball team in a game, which will be refereed by Howard P. Savage and Judge John V. McCormick. Lenox Lohr will be scorekeeper.

With these three, the committee for the party is composed of John F. Cremin, chairman, Stewart Parker, A. T. Williams, John M. Dunn, Dr. M. F. McDermott, C. F. Goodwillie, J. H. Benjamin, Paul R. Pape, Sam Jacobs, Frank Farley, John Pierik, Leonard Carmody, J. A. Carrigan, and Walter F. Kearney.

Latin School to Be Subject of Broadcast

BY JUDITH CASS.

PUPILS in the Latin school for boys and their parents will turn out in full force on Wednesday afternoon at the W-G-N studio to hear the recording of the 100th anniversary program of "Citizens of Tomorrow," which will salute the school. Especially proud will be Mrs. Loyal Davis, whose son, Richard A. Davis, will be interviewed as the honor roll student.

The boys who will appear on the quiz program, conducted by Philip Maxwell of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, are David Crawford, Dudley Stark, William Barborka, Joseph Kelly, Howard Carroll, and William Spencer. The glee club will sing and the W-G-N symphony orchestra will play. The program will be broadcast next Sunday at 1 o'clock over W-G-N.

School Opened in 1888; Now Owned by Parents.

The school was established in 1888 as a private day school and has specialized in fitting young men for college. The school was first owned and directed by Miss Mabel Vickery and Robert P. Bates. In 1899 it was incorporated, and in 1926 after the retirement of Miss Vickery and Mr. Bates, the parents decided to carry it on themselves. A building committee was then formed by Edward I. Cudahy, the late Kersey Coates Reed, Charles D. Frey, the late Frank S. Porter, and Mrs. Leonard A. Busby. The school moved into its present building at 1551 North Dearborn that fall. In 1930 the school's future development was insured by the gift of the Kersey Coates Reed campus by Mr. Reed's widow, now Mrs. Stanley Keith, and her sister, the late Mrs. Charles S. Schweppe.

Seated on the stage with the headmaster, James O. Wood, at the recording on Wednesday will be Mrs. Davis, William M. Spencer, David A. Crawford, Mr. Cudahy, the Rev. Dudley S. Stark, the Rev. Harrison Ray Anderson, Mrs. Philip K. Wrigley, Mayor Edward J. Kelly, whose two sons attend the school; and Albert F. Madlener Jr., among others. Also present will be 100 principals of the schools honored on this series of broadcasts.

Richard Davis is president of the senior class, captain of the football team, editor of the school paper, Folio, and has been a leading student for four years. He plans to enter Princeton university, and to take up the study of medicine, following in the footsteps of his father, Dr. Davis, who now is a colonel in the army medical corps, serving in England.

Following the recording, the 100 school principals will be guests of THE TRIBUNE at dinner at the Medinah club.

Presbyterian Hospital Board to Raise $25,000.

To celebrate its 60th anniversary, the woman's board of Presbyterian hospital is meeting this morning to start a new fund for a maternity endowment. Raising money for the hospital's free services is an old story to the board, which has contributed $815,000 since it was founded, but the method of raising the $25,000 for this new endowment is different. War bonds and stamps made out in the name of the board will be sold for the purpose.

Credit for this "double duty" idea goes to Mrs. David W. Graham, a charter member of the woman's board, whose husband, the late Dr. Graham, was a member of the staff of the hospital. Altho she is more than 90 years old, Mrs. Graham continues to attend all board meetings. She is its honorary president.

Mrs. Clyde E. Shorey is president of the board. Mrs. Alva A. Knight, Mrs. Arthur Wirtz, Mrs. Carl W. Apfelbach, whose husband is medical director of the hospital; Mrs. Halford H. Kettleman, and Mrs. Clarence Wright are some of those on the committee for the sale of war bonds and stamps. Final arrangements for the sale will be made today. The need for a maternity endowment is felt especially this year with the rise in the birth rate and the departure of an estimated one-third of the fathers for service in the army or navy.

Craig Colgates Jr. Are Parents of First Son.

Sergt. and Mrs. Craig Colgate Jr. [Barbara Hobart] became the parents of a son, their first child, last Saturday at Evanston hospital. The baby, who will be named Robert Hobart, is the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Hobart of Winnetka. Sergt. Colgate will not see his son for some time as he is serving overseas with the army.

At a tea at home yesterday in East Chestnut street, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Newcomb announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lois Clement, to Edward T. Thommen Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thommen of Roanoke, Ill. Miss Clement is a student at Eureka college, Eureka, Ill.

The Peter Fortunes, the William Harshes, and Mr. and Mrs. Peter D. Ridenour II, are going farming in their back yard in East Elm street this summer. They have taken over part of the playground in back of their apartment building to make into a Victory garden.

Mrs. Ridenour hasn't had much experience with outdoor gardening, but her kitchen window sill is running over with pepper, tomato and cabbage plants that are waiting to be transplanted as soon as the weather is favorable. Mrs. Ridenour is a member of the Kenilworth Center of the Infant Welfare society, whose board is meeting today at the home of Mrs. Henry C. Schroeder in Highland Park to discuss an early summer dinner-dance. All of

Ration Pointers:

Use bacon fat to "butter" your vegetables. Good on asparagus, broccoli, greens, and even cauliflower! Try bacon fat in pie crusts. You'll be amazed at the results.

Ham drippings may be used for hot salad dressing and poured over shredded lettuce or raw spinach. Use ham fat, too, in scrambled eggs and to fry griddlecakes. Give every drop you don't need to the fat salvage campaign.

When you make a fruit whip, use the leftover egg yolks to make boiled salad dressing. This dressing is one of the best to use in potato salad.

Use leftover canned fruit juices to thin mayonnaise, in sauces, and as the liquid in snow puddings.

Camp in Need of Silverware Asks for Help

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

We feel sure that the following appeal will bring a response from any of our readers who are able to provide the necessary items.

C. L. writes: "I am one of the directors of a camp for crippled children. It is operated entirely thru voluntary contributions and is located in Indiana. We are able to provide accommodations for about 100 youngsters, mostly from underprivileged families, who live on Chicago's south side.

"Our camp is over 30 years old, and the silverware is now so badly worn that it is almost unusable. I am wondering if your readers can spare a few knives, forks, teaspoons, and tablespoons to tide us over the war time summers?

"I, myself, am an infantile paralysis case, but I will be glad to pick up small packages and have a friend, who has a car, take care of any larger ones. We are anxious to continue the camp this summer because we feel that we now are performing an even more imperative service than in the past for the reason that many mothers are working and we know that some of the crippled youngsters have no one to care for them in the day time, if they are unable to leave their homes during the summer vacation."

Further information will be provided upon request.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY

White Collars in Tucson.

All travelers to Tucson agree that no matter what you have read, no matter what you have heard, you always are surprised when you see a cream and pink and white city set down in a valley between the mountains. For, the shadows on the peaks at dusk are really mauve, and the purple cactus in bloom is a mystery beyond belief, and the strange Disneylike formations of the cactus as you drive toward the foothills and look back on the lights of the city, benumb your words till you wonder if Tucson isn't Shangri-la.

Yet, Tucson isn't Shangri-la. It's a friendly, leisurely city where the pedestrian is always right and the traffic cops call "Yoo-hoo" good-naturedly if you start to cross against the lights. It is a city filled with remarkable people who have come from all states to this youngest of states to make a place for themselves. Not a few of them are women.

Tucson has its white collar girls. The secretarial schools have a different problem, usually one of revamping the education of the stenographers who migrate here, and fitting their various backgrounds into jobs. Tucson's secretaries come from every corner of the United States, and from many previous occupations.

Tucson has its business and professional women. There is a woman lawyer here, Mrs. Rose Silver—a mother of two children—who is about to receive an additional degree in education at the University of Arizona. There are women physicians: One is Dr. Clara Webster, a graduate of the University of Illinois who interned at Cook County hospital and served as official physician in our Chicago courts. There is a woman director of maternal and child health for the state of Arizona—Dr. Hilda Kroeger.

There's a girl assistant observer in the weather bureau in Tucson . . . a woman teller in the commercial department of the Valley National bank . . . a woman editor [Ethel A. Hopkins] of the only rodeo magazine in the world. Tucson has a waiting list for women lookouts in forestry should the state decide to accept them. . . .there are women bus drivers and laundry truck drivers, women in service stations, women butchers. . . .there are WAACs who drive big army trucks . . .women bookkeepers in the banks, and the Southern Pacific railroad has placed women in the traffic department.

In Tucson there is a surgical supply house—the only one in the United States manned entirely by women. Mrs. Hugh Blair manages it now her husband has joined the marines. She and her staff deliver wheel chairs and hospital beds, and drive the truck and, for relaxation, amuse themselves with a little dachshund named MacArthur!

The lovely Studio Patio [where luncheon is something less hurried than a sandwich in Chicago] is run by a former Wilmette girl and her aunt. . . .and the beautiful Arizona inn, surrounded by jasmine and azaleas, is the artistic creation of a woman—Mrs. King who was at one time congresswoman from Arizona. Tucson harbors a new magazine editor, Ida McCormick, who is publishing "Letters," and Tucson has inspired a new popular book, written by a local girl: "Chicken Every Sunday."

No, it isn't Shangri-la. It is an enterprising little city. And, now along its flower-bordered streets go women in the blue denim of the war worker, many of them gray haired, many of them carrying lunch pails on their way to and from work in a bomber plant.

London Settlement Head to Speak on Blitz Today

Dr. J. J. Mallon, warden of Toynbee hall in London, will speak at an open luncheon meeting, sponsored by Chicago settlements and neighborhood houses, at noon today at the Eleanor association, 17 North State street. Toynbee hall, the first social settlement, stands in the industrial area of East London which took the worst of the bombings in 1940-'41. Its buildings were badly damaged, but the settlement was not destroyed. Dr. Mallon will talk about "East London in the Blitz." Chicago has a link with Toynbee hall, for Jane Addams visited there before she founded Hull house.

"Grounded"

By H. Vernor Dixon

Copyright: 1943: By H. Vernor Dixon

INSTALMENT XIX.

SYNOPSIS: Brant Regan, daredevil flyer wounded while fighting for China, is forced to take a year's rest. Returning to San Francisco, he gets Barlow Aircraft to test his new wing formula. Altho it tests perfect, McNair, company attorney, tells him Barlow cannot afford to experiment with it. But McNair and Harmon, president of Barlow, offer to buy the formula themselves for $60,000. Regan senses something is wrong and refuses their offer. He dislikes McNair and Harmon, as well as O'Toole, vice president, and Sutton, designing engineer. But he is greatly attracted to Dian Barlow, who owns controling interest of the company, and he is afraid the four executives are trying to get the company in an financial hole so that Dian will be forced to sell enough stock to give them controling interest. He kisses Dian one night and she confesses her love for him, begging him to return it for the year he is grounded. He insists they elope. None of the Barlow executives is pleased with the marriage. But Carol Jaffe, McNair's tough little secretary, is relieved. She is in love with McNair but knows he was hoping to marry Dian. When Brant inspects the new bomber Barlow is building, he finds it is out of date and believes it is being built that way so the government will turn it down. He persuades Dian's Aunt Hattie to get Dian to put her stock in his name. Then he puts himself in charge of the experimental division and stops work on the bomber. When Gen. Holland, of the Aircraft Purchasing, confirms his views on the bomber, Brant decides to try to save it by putting his new wing on it. Carol Jaffe calls Brant and offers to give him some information if he will come up to her apartment. There he is doped and McNair has pictures taken which he sends to Dian, hoping she will break with Brant and split the control of Barlow. Dian and Brant quarrel.

IN LOVE.

Dian picked up the papers with Gen. Holland's wire and Brant walked back to the bar. He had some brandy and then returned to the living room. The papers and wire were on the floor and Dian was staring off into space.

Brant quizzically asked her, "You—haven't studied them?"

"I've seen them before. In your desk. Rummaging around one day. I even called Kane Harmon about them. They had me puzzled."

"O." Brant returned to his chair, a sense of defeat stealing over him. "And what was his studied opinion?"

"At first he was angry—" She turned to face him. "There was nothing wrong with those airplanes. I—I don't see how you could even begin to question the men who built them because they were—well, probably too conservative."

"Conservative. Yes. That's not bad. That Harmon keeps getting cleverer and cleverer. So that's what he said."

She spoke slowly, as if to a child, clearly enunciating every word. "I could have told you that myself. After all, I received full reports on those airplanes when Wright Field turned them down. I even talked with one of the army engineers and he told me that we would have to be a little more daring with our models. But he did not condemn us for being conservative. I have, frankly, never heard of a person being called a crook because of that reason. It is—Don't you think it is pretty odd?"

"I don't know what to think. You tell me what you think."

Her shoulders drooped and she was suddenly listless. Her voice became a monotone. "I talked with Aunt Hattie today. When she heard about this—this Carol Jaffe affair she told me all about your little scheme to gain control of the company. Of course, I had thought I was the one managing it, when all the time you were behind it."

"That's true."

She made no sign that she had heard him. "I have no right to complain, Brant. I—I offered everything. And you—you're like you are. But, Brant, I would like something. My father built that company. It belongs to his name. Would you—please—give me back that stock?"

"I'll let you know in a minute."

He walked to the front windows and stared out into the night. The fog was swirling about the Marina district, far below, but the dull glow of neon signs could be seen thru the mists. Those signs, Brant felt, indicated the state of his mind.

It was obvious what would happen if he returned that stock to Dian. She would again place her faith in Kane Harmon and allow him to do as he wished. Harmon would have her selling a portion of it in less than six months and the four men would assume control. Given another year, Dian would be completely out of the company.

But it would restore a little of her faith in Brant, possibly all of it. She certainly could not continue thinking of him as a fortune hunter if he gave it back. Probably, he thought, that was the reason she had made the request, to prove or disprove her suspicions.

He turned to look back at her, staring moodily into the dead ashes of the fireplace, and his breath suddenly caught in his throat. The fog melted from his mind and he shakily smiled. He walked to her, cupped her face in his two hands and turned it upward.

"Do you know," he said, "that I'm in love with you, and always have been?"

She dully asked, "Are you?"

"Yes, I just found it out. Odd, isn't it? I thought when I married you, that I was incapable of falling in love with any one."

She got to her feet and cried, "You dare make fun of me!"

"I'm not making fun of you. I'm telling you something I did not know myself, until now."

"Well, don't repeat it. At least have the decency to let it die. After all you have done, accusing the only honest men I know and trust and whom my father trusted. Living your own life in your own way, never even making an attempt to include me in that life. I have just gone along with you, a passenger, excess baggage. Keeping yourself to yourself at all times. And now this Carol Jaffe, a horrible, cheap person. Brant, are you going to give me back that stock."

His smile deepened and he shook his head. "No, my dear; I'm hanging onto that stock. You didn't belong to me before. In fact, I intended stepping out of your life as soon as I was back in fighting shape. But now—" He placed his hands on her shoulders and the fingers bit the flesh, deep. "Now," he said, "you belong to me and everything about you belongs to me. Understand? I don't give up things I own. I never have and I never will. Now I know what I'm fighting for."

He pulled her to him and kissed her hard. When he let her go she stared at him, wildly, and slapped his face. She spun on her heel and walked out of the room. Brant rubbed his face and grinned. Well, he thought, that's more like it. I was afraid she had lost her spirit.

When he went into the bedroom he found it in a state of disorder, bureau drawers hanging open and the closets emptied of Dian's effects. She had moved into the adjoining guest room. He tried the knob, but the door was locked.

Brant shrugged, twisted away from the rather light door, then smashed into it with his shoulder. The door splinted with a crash and swung open. Dian sat up in bed, fear lying heavily on her features. "Nothing to worry about, darling. You can stay there if you want. But don't ever try to lock a door on me. I don't like it.

He stepped back into his own room.

Brant left early in the morning before Dian was up. He went directly to his office at the plant, hurried thru the necessary desk work and then inspected the new wing. It was fast taking shape and already the engine nacelles had been built and were waiting to be put in place. The foreman on the wing assembly claimed that he would have it finished and ready to install in one more month. Brant nodded with satisfaction.

Back in his office he put thru a long distance call to Gen. Holland at Wright Field and told him what progress had been made. "The fuselage has already been altered and refined, sir, and the four engines have been thoroly tested. We're using turbo-superchargers, something good."

"I hope so, Regan. The air corps can always use another good airplane."

"Sure. Only I'm running up against a situation that is going to be hard to combat. I might need your help."

"In what way?"

"As a representative of the government. You fellows can crack down on a private establishment—"

"What the devil are you talking about?"

"I can't explain it to you right now. Couldn't you—ah—hop into a plane and take a little run out here, just to look things over?"

The general laughed. "Just like that, eh? It's not so easy, but still—you're worried about something, aren't you?"

"I am. I'm worried about the possibility that the new bomber may never be completed. If it does all the things I claim for it, then you'd be worried, too, wouldn't you?"

"Hmmm. Yes. If that plane lives up to its estimated performance it would be the most sensational—well. All right, Regan. I will arrange it somehow. You may expect me, say, toward the end of the month."

"No sooner than that?"

"Can't be done. We have the hottest little pursuit you've ever laid your eyes on going thru its paces right now. I can't get away until those tests are completed. But you can expect me then."

Y.W.C.A. to Recall 25 Years of Camp at Forest Beach

Twenty-five years ago the Young Women's Christian association opened its Forest Beach camp near New Buffalo in Michigan. The modish camping costume in those days consisted of bloomers, middy blouse, and long black stockings. During the transition to shorts and sun suits, some 30,000 Chicago business women have vacationed on Forest Beach's 43 acres of dunes, woods, and lake shore. A skit depicting camp history is being rehearsed by a group of veterans for a silver anniversary reunion, which will be held next Saturday evening in the loop center Y. W. C. A., 59 East Monroe street.

A round up of directors and counselors who staffed the camp in the early years is being made. Among those attending the reunion will be Miss Grave Dudley, who headed the camp committee for 20 years, and Miss Katherine Douglass, who was the first director. Illness prevents Mrs. Frank K. Hoover from coming, but she will be represented by members of her family. Mrs. Hoover's gifts provided the large recreation building, Hoover hall, and also a counselors' cabin, and gravel road. Presiding at the reunion will be Miss Eleanor Riva, chairman of the camp council. Forest Beach will open its 26th season on Friday, July 3.

Your Stars Today

—By WYNN—

Monday, May 3.

Today's morning is rather hasty, but can be made constructive. Evening holds opportunity to make progress with superiors and with those of the other sex. A day of new ideas that can amount to something; be original; look far ahead.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead, if born on this date, shows some financial pressure from past—changes come next year. From August watch overconfidence with fixed assets, joint funds; make home improvements. Danger: July 13th to 27th.

Tomorrow.

Good Morning!

"Mary Weston Jr." is, like "The Amazing Mrs. Holliday," a gentle imposter. The real name is Fay Weston.

"She Has What It Takes" is the moderately interesting story of a show girl, Fay Weston, who hears of the death of a once famous actress [Mary Weston] and conceives the idea of posing as her daughter in order to intrigue the attention of producers who had known Mary and profited thru her popularity. . . .

With the aid of Roger Rutledge, a New York columnist to whom she tells her tale, she obtains an introduction to Lee Shuleman, who, with the eagerly offered financial assistance of some of the deceased's old friends, hires a theater and prepares to star "Mary Weston Jr." in a show. . . .

But all is not to be sunshine and roses. . . . June Leslie, columnist for a rival newspaper, has suspicions. . . . She thinks [AND proves] that Fay is a phoney. . . . She plans a front page exposé to appear synonomously with the play's opening.

As an actress Miss Falkenburg is a beautiful model. But, as always, you like her tremendously. Personally I think that just to see her walk across the screen is worth the price of admission.

Ely Culbertson Shows Flaw in Unwise Double

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

An opening shutout bid carries with it the strident warning that partner should be conservative about doubling the opponents. For one thing, this shutout bid announces virtually no defensive strength; for another, it implies that the deal may be a terrific "freak." South ignored these warnings in the following hand and ended up a sad but wiser man.

The bidding:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| 4 diamonds | 4 hearts | Double | Pass |
| Pass | Pass | | |

South figured that he could count on at least his three aces for defensive tricks and that his singleton in partner's suit made a couple of diamond tricks highly probable, but he soon found that he had miscalculated. On the singleton diamond opening dummy [West] won with the ace and returned the club. North put in the jack, declarer covered with the king, and South won with the ace. South then returned the ace and another heart to cut down dummy's ruffing power, but declarer merely conceded another trick to North's club queen and then claimed the balance and his contract.

According to Culbertson

South's double had been nothing if not premature. With an excellent seven card spade suit in his own hand and with at least the suspicion that the opponents probably had freak hands that might fit perfectly, South unquestionably should have bid four spades rather than double four hearts. West undoubtedly would have jumped on the four spade bid with a stentorious double, which both North and East would have had to accept since both would have been deathly afraid to make another bid at the five level.

Despite West's concentration of trumps, the four spade contract would have been fulfilled. West's opening would be the heart king. Declarer would win and immediately play a singleton diamond toward dummy. West would put up the ace and make the best return of a heart. This would be ruffed with dummy's spade king, and declarer would immediately discard clubs on dummy's diamonds. East's failure to interrupt this process by ruffing would, of course, tell declarer that all the trumps were in West's hand, and would dictate an easy line of play. He would ruff the fourth round of diamonds with the spade deuce, cash the club ace, then exit with the nine or eight of spades. West would win and return his remaining heart. Declarer would ruff with the spade four, cash the ace, and exit with a low trump. West, on winning, would have to return a trump from his J-5 up to declarer's Q-8 and thus the defenders would be held to two spade tricks and one diamond.

Summer Wardrobe Ideas

This is the month you should be considering your summer wardrobe very seriously. One of today's patterns makes a coat frock whose simple trimming is rickrack or bias binding. Striped cottons are ace selections for this model. The other pattern makes a time honored jumper brought up to date. The skirt has plenty of flare, while the bodice is molded. The blouse is the beloved shirtwaist.

Style No. 2032 is designed for sizes 14 to 20 and 36 to 52. Size 36 requires 4½ yards of 35 inch fabric with 4 yards of braid.

Looking at Hollywood

—By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., May 2.—About a year ago I dramatized the life of George Murphy on the air. Not long ago he came across that script and decided that by enlarging it, it would make a better musical picture than some of those he's played in. So he's gone and done it, and Metro's just about ready to buy it, with George playing himself. It's well known that George used to work in a coal mine, and only took to dancing when the girl he was in love with [now Mrs. Murphy] wanted a career. Too poor to hire a piano player, they persuaded the owner of a Chinese restaurant to let them dance there free for a couple of weeks till they could work up their routines. The Chinese café had a three piece band. How he practically stole a dress suit away from an unsuspecting tailor will make a hilarious scene. Then, too, think of all the inserts he can use from his different pictures—that dance sequence he did with Fred Astaire, also with Eleanor Powell, and scenes with Judy Garland in her first grown-up picture, "Little Nellie Kelly." George is so smart to do it while he's young. But O, the rush of others who'll try and follow in his footsteps!

Big Boy Now.

Errol Flynn, the big he-fighter, is more pugnacious than ever in "To the Last Man." He knocked out two Royal Northwest police while I was on the set, then came off to sip his cup of tea. . . . Julie Bishop, in a black form fitting wedding gown, is a dead ringer for Ann Sheridan. . . . Lloyd Bacon wants Shirley Temple to play Sister Genevieve in "The Sullivans," but lots of producers have their minds on Shirley. So far she hasn't made up her mind about going on with her career. . . . Jack Benny's Don Wilson sang in opera 18 years ago. No kidding! St. Louis, hearing of it, has invited him to make a guest appearance with their light opera company, and if he can get his voice cleared in time, he's going. . . . Columbia lent Tom Neal for the lead opposite Margo in "Behind the Rising Sun" at RKO. . . . Susanna Foster is laid up, not with measles—she's got hives! . . . Milton Berle denies he and Joyce are splitting up.

Long Time Coming.

Leo McCarey phoned to tell me that a story he's doing for Bing Crosby is an original written by Frank Cavitt and has nothing to do with Father O'Connor or his life. The yarn is still untitled. Leo and Bing met years ago when Bing was a Rhythm Boy at the Cocoanut Grove here. Back in those days they talked about doing a picture together. Leo gave Bing an I. O. U. —a picture. But this will be their first. . . . Mrs. Joe Mankiewicz returns to town June 1. She suffered a nervous breakdown last October. Chef Milani, who supervised the feeding of 600,000 service men at the Hollywood Canteen, was spotted there by Ben Piazzi and signed up for the innkeeper in "The Seventh Victim."

Now It Can Be Told.

Since Col. David McDonald of "Desert Victory" fame has left for England its' only fair to tell about his arrival here. He knew "Desert Victory" was a great picture. He came over with Anthony Eden, knowing Eden would get all the headlines, and deservedly so, and his picture would come off second best. So he stayed under cover, if you can call it that, four days at the Stork club in New York. Smart, these English. I don't know how it is in your town, but "Desert Victory" takes second place to "My Friend Flicka' 'in the ads. I think that's a little unjust, because it's the greatest factual picture of the war. Not that "My Friend Flicka" isn't good; it is. But let's keep things in their proper order.

Too Gruesome.

Martha Raye, out of deference to her friend, Jane Frohman, would like to reproduce the accident of the Lisbon Clipper in "Four Girls and a Jeep," but she's getting nowhere. . . . The 48 hour week doesn't seem to apply to our sound technicians. One at RKO told me he's been running 100 hours a week because of the man power shortage. . . . Muriel King, designer for "Cover Girls," making the rounds with Marc Connolly in a goofy hat trimmed with fresh flowers. At the Mocambo the other night Marc said, "Don't look now, but your hat's dying."

Well I Swan!

Donald Crisp and I were chewing the fat on "The Uninvited" set at Paramount. He told me that in 1913 he came out here to do "Eyes of the World," looked for a place to make the picture, and came across some acreage owned by Mexicans. It looked like a likely place to work; so he bought 27 acres. On the land was a house, a couple of horses, and a cow. He lived there while he worked. The 27 acres cost him $3,200. Two years later he sold the tract for $5,000. That land now houses both the Paramount and the RKO studios. "I have no regrets," he said. "I had free room, free board, free rent for my picture and made a profit. You'll never go broke taking a profit."

Probe Causes of the Child's Misdemeanors

[Copy.: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

What's the matter? Not long ago your home was a place of harmony, but now everything's gone awry. Your small child is growing difficult, smiles are rare, and you have to resort to punishment of one sort or another. You're edgy because of his behavior, and the joy seems to have gone somehow, somewhere, out of your home.

What is the matter? Have you tried to find out? Are you just going to skid along into disaster, or put on chains and steer straight? One mother decided on the latter course. She called a halt on herself, did it in a most intelligent way, I think, and now things are back in the happy groove again. I'll let her tell you:

"Dear Mrs. Bevans:

"My son, Jimmy, will be 3 years old in July. Six months ago I suddenly awoke to the fact that my disposition was getting worse daily and Jimmy was becoming more and more of a problem child. I was thoroly ashamed of myself and decided that something had to be done about it immediately.

"First, we sent him to a good all-day nursery school for two months. We both relaxed and got a new outlook on life. I did a tremendous amount of thinking during those two months and resolved that such a state of affairs would never again arise in our home.

"My pride was deeply hurt by the knowledge that I was so inadequate in my relations with my boy. He is such a happy, healthy little fellow. Yes, I learned the hard way that a smile and a soft voice which requires so little energy work wonders where a stern face and harsh voice induce tantrums. I changed all thoughts and actions from negative to positive. My husband, friends, and neighbors have noticed the change. No, I haven't made a little angel out of my son. It is I who have changed from an irate woman to a pleasant companion and a genuine loving mother."

One has to have the seeing eye and the seeing mind to apply truths and principles to living. The credit goes to the mother or father whose desire is fundamentally for a child's well-being and happiness, and who is willing to change a viewpoint, see a fault, and discipline himself or herself into something nearer ideal parenthood.

New President to Meet with Woman's City Club

The board of managers of the Woman's City club will hold its first meeting since the annual election of officers at 10:30 this morning. Mrs. Harry M. Mulberry, who succeeds Mrs. John Sharpless Fox as president, will conduct the meeting. The club has its rooms in the Fine Arts building.

Circular Luncheon Doily

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

A crocheted, circular luncheon doily in an eight pointed floral design is a wise choice for summer luncheon sets. It is easy to create, and a complete set may be made in a short time. Each doily measures approximately 11 inches in diameter.

For instructions in crocheting the circular luncheon doily, No. 1275, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Current Events Forum to Hear Sports Editor

Arch Ward, sports editor of THE TRIBUNE, will be guest speaker at the weekly "Interpreting the News" forum at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the C. Y. O. center, 31 East Congress street. Mr. Ward is the fourth Chicago newspaper man to appear as guest speaker before the forum, which is in connection with the Sheil School of Social Studies. The school, a free project in adult education set up at the C. Y. O. under the sponsorship of Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, is in its second 10 week term. Twenty-five courses of study are given and more than 700 persons are attending classes.

Tavern Club Exhibits Prints of '93 World Fair

In observance of the fiftieth anniversary of the World's Columbian exposition in Chicago, the Tavern club announces that a collection of prints of scenes from the famous fair is on exhibit in the club's gallery. Twenty of these are from water colors, including examples of the work of Jules Guerin, F. Hopkinson Smith, H. D. Nichols, and other artists widely known during that period. There is an etching of Louis Sullivan's "Golden Portal," and a photogravure from the sculpture section of the fair's Fine Arts building.

TRIBUNE GOLF SCHOOL SWINGS INTO 2D DECADE

A Tip to Thousands: Be Ready May 10!

Opportunity to learn how to play golf free of charge to all golfers—whether they actually play or merely talk the game and want to play it is presented today with the announcement of The Tribune Golf School.—From THE TRIBUNE of May 12, 1933.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The above statement, published nearly 10 years ago, was the first hint that possibly there might be something to teaching golf in its fundamental sense to large groups.

The announcement of this school created a deal of adverse criticism in many quarters, for most of the knowing parties interested in the game allowed it was too cumbersome a project. Since it was a new idea, never even suggested before, the real purpose was misunderstood by most of its critics. On the face of this, it appeared THE TRIBUNE was attempting to make par-smashers out of folks who never before had been able to break 100.

Such was not the objective of the school, nor is it today. The original thought was to emphasize the sport's simplicity to persons who entertained the idea of taking up the game at one time or another, but were fearful of the results of their untried swings.

Since that opening announcement in 1933, 395,000 men, women, and children of the Chicago area have taken free instructions from the members of the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' Association of America. Of that total, the largest in any group instruction plan in American athletics, 66,000 received lessons last year.

The 10 year aggregate of 395,000 included timid beginners, too conscious of their appearance on the first tee to take up the game, and hundreds who might have played a good game for years but were unmindful of those kinks in their swings which were costing them strokes.

The 11th annual free golf school, conducted by THE TRIBUNE in conjunction with the Illinois section of the P. G. A. and the Chicago park district, will open Monday night, May 10, on the four courses of the park district—Jackson, Marquette, Columbus, and Diversey. Each of the four lessons—next Monday; Friday, May 14; Monday, May 17, and Friday, May 21—will begin promptly at 7:15 p. m.

Bring Your Own Club!

Every pupil is asked to bring a club. If you don't own one, you are asked to borrow one. Students also are requested to appear, if possible, at the course nearest their homes by 7 o'clock, so that the classes may get under way on time.

The convenient locations of the four courses of the park district, all of which have been used for the last seven years of the school, make it easy for any one interested in learning the fundamentals of golf to reach the classrooms.

This accessibility of the four courses is even more valuable during this war year. When the school was started in 1933 the courses of the Chicago Daily Fee Golf association were used for the lessons. These were found to be located too far out for many potential pupils. All of the park courses, made available thru the coöperation of the commissioners of the Chicago park district, are easily reached by rapid transit, bus, and surface lines.

It's Open to Every One.

Columbus—Jackson boulevard and Central avenue.

Marquette—Marquette road and Kedzie avenue.

There are no barriers as to sex, age, or ability. Every one from 8 to 80 is invited to come out and take the free instructions from men who have devoted their lives to the game, and who have earned their membership in the P. G. A. thru a rigorous five years' apprenticeship.

Many a mother since this thing began
When that battered old suitcase came back from some camp,
Could you blame her that mist in her eye,
Only a mother could understand

There in his closet at last they're arranged—
The suit, the hat, the shoes,
And how many times in the days to come,
In a moment of longing for news,
Will mothers thruout the length of this land
And just stand there looking, while from their hearts
A torrent of silent prayer pours!

"Bill's clothes came home today."

True Happiness.

I would not ask for you a life of ease
Or that you never know a moment's pain,
I would not ask you be endowed with wealth
Or that you only meet success and gain.

I would not ask for you a life of fame
Wherein you'd seldom join the lowly throng
I would not ask you be exempt from tears
Upon whatever road you walk along.

But rather would I ask that you will find
The joy that comes in serving fellowmen,
In striving to accomplish hidden dreams—
And sacrificing ever and again.

For then I know that life for you will be
A glorious adventure all the way,
And happiness will live within your heart

BROWNS TAKE FIRST IN 11TH, 3-2, ON HOMER

Humphries Drops 2d Game, 5-1.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The White Sox put in an honest day of labor yesterday afternoon but their industry failed to produce an entry for the victory column in the team ledger. The St. Louis Browns blew 'em down in both ends of a doubleheader in Comiskey park, tho James Dykes' boys hung on doggedly enough to extend the first argument thru 11 innngs. At this point Chet Laabs knocked the supposedly dead ball out of the park for a 3 to 2 St. Louis victory. In the second meeting the Sox handled their business affairs so poorly that they were short changed, 5 to 1.

The opening half of the day's show began as another test for the left arm owned by Thornton Lee, who is trying to substitute his $1 per year contract for a regular one. The veteran, altho yielding only two runs, one tainted, was withdrawn after a six inning stretch when he tired. His removal brought forth the Shreveport rookie, Gordon Maltzberger, and the kid curver did nobly until Laabs dispatched his decisive homer into the left field seats.

Browns Thump Humphries.

The second game provided Johnny Humphries with his maiden start of the season and the Browns quickly convinced him that he was slightly behind on his spring conditioning. They plastered him with five hits in the first two innings and scored four times, but the run damage was partly caused by errors. John gave up, by request of the management, at the end of the eighth, after holding the enemy to three hits and one run in the last six innings.

The Sox hitting was hardly vicious at any time, the grand total for 20 innings being 13 safeties off three Brownie mound toilers. Johnny Niggeling checked the Sox on six hits in nine innings of the first game, whereupon he grew weary and Bob Muncrief took charge, allowing one hit and collecting the decision. The seven hits in the second affair were off the delivery of Steve Sundra, three of the batch falling to Don Kolloway.

FIRST GAME

The Sox provided Lee with a bit of encouragement in the first struggle by scoring on one hit in the opening inning. Thurman Tucker singled to right, went to second on Luke Appling's infield out and to third on Niggeling's wild pitch. About this time Joe Kuhel walked and soon thereafter Tucker hiked home while Julius Solters was being thrown out.

Three innings of hitless pitching by Lee came to an end when Don Gutteridge spanked a double down the left field line and Harlond Clift walked to inaugurate the fourth. Lee thought he saw a chance to pick Gutteridge off second but in his haste heaved the ball into center field, both runners moving up. After Laabs had fouled out, Mike Chartak walked, filling the bases. Then Vernon Stephens hit a long fly on which Gutteridge scored the tying run.

The Browns were out in front for a few moments in the sixth because of an infield hit with which Clift opened the inning. The ball took an unexpected hop just as Appling was about to make a grab. Clift stole second after two were out and scored on a double by Stephens, altho the wallop should have been caught by Solters. The Sox tied it up immediately on Kolloway's single, his steal of second, and Dick Culler's single. Then came Laabs' game wrecking home run in the 11th.

SECOND GAME

After Humphries set down the first Brownie to face him in the second game things began to happen. Clift singled and Appling fumbled Laabs' roller, the two runners working a double steal while Chartak was waving at a third strike. Steph-

Augie Galan of the Dodgers being forced at second base yesterday and making Bill Jurges of the Giants leap to avoid a collision in a fast play watched by the season's record crowd, 47,086, in the Polo Grounds. Augie turns to watch Jurges' throw, which Arky Vaughan beat to first base. Mickey Witek backs up Jurges and the umpire is Tom Dunn. The Dodgers won the first one, 3 to 2, but lost the second, 2 to 1. Jurges and Galan were teammates during the Cubs' pennant winning days. Remember?

47,086, Season's Top Crowd, Watch Giants, Dodgers Split

New York, May 2 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants entertained the season's largest major league crowd, 47,086, at the Polo Grounds today while dividing a double header. Brooklyn, National league leader, took the first game, 3 to 2, to extend its winning streak to six, but the Giants took the second one, 2 to 1, to end a five game losing string.

Whit Wyatt started for the Dodgers in the opener, but retired because of a sore back after three innings. Johnny Allen took over and received credit for the triumph altho he lasted only 2⅓ innings because of wildness. However, Allen touched off a two run outbreak in the fifth with a double and in the sixth singled home Billy Herman, who had doubled.

Buster Maynard hit a homer in the first inning of the second game and drove in New York's other run in the second with a long fly. Rookie Ken Trinkle went the route for the Giants and missed a shutout on Paul Waner's pinch single in the sixth. Scores:

PREAKNESS NEXT OBJECTIVE FOR DERBY WINNER

BY HOWARD BARRY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Louisville, Ky., May 2.—Count Fleet, hero of yesterday's Kentucky Derby, will make Saturday's Preakness stakes his next objective. The thorobred was shipped to Pimlico today. Of the horses which followed him home in the Derby only Blue Swords will be sent against him for that event.

There was a time when victory in the Derby, Preakness, and Belmont stakes was called the triple crown, which assured supremacy among the 3 year olds. In more recent seasons, however, Chicago's two big summer events, the Arlington Classic and the American Derby, have taken on such importance that they have become major points in any prospective champion's campaign. Count Fleet has been nominated for both of these events, and if he has no mishaps it is considered certain his owner will send him into these races.

Ocean Wave to Get Rest.

Trainer Ben Jones, who was forced to withdraw Ocean Wave from the Derby because of an ailing foot, said that he plans to give the Calumet farm colt a rest of from three to five weeks before putting him back into hard training. This means that Ocean Wave, which is considered the No. 1 challenger to Count Fleet's supremacy, will be ready in ample time for a clash between these two during the Chicago season.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hertz were both highly gratified over the victory of their home bred colt. Count Fleet is a son of Reigh Count, winner of the 1928 Derby. Reigh Count and the mare, Quickly, dam of Count Fleet, are owned by Mrs. Hertz. Mr. Hertz, who divides his business interests between New York and Chicago, has a farm in

Barrett Beaten on Unearned Run.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 2.—Kewpie Barrett held Pittsburgh to one hit in seven innings and Lon Warneke pitched a hitless eighth, but that kind of casting wasn't good enough to salvage a victory for the Cubs today. The Chicagoans were shut out by Wally Hebert, 3 to 0, in the first game of the double header and were blanked again, 1 to 0, in the second engagement of the day.

This gave the 35 year old Barrett, making his debut as a National league starting pitcher, something really to put in the scrap book. Bob Klinger blanked the Cubs on four widely spaced singles in the Barrett one hit tragedy.

Use 1942 Ball, Too.

The double shutout brought the total in 10 games to four, and today the helpless Chicago swingers couldn't blame it on the cement ball. The 1942 ball was used. There are no white shirts in center field, even in warm weather, and the lads were dressed in their new baseball uniforms. Thus stripped of two of their long time alibis, there was nothing for the fellows to do but admit they are cheese hitters. They made 10 hits all day, all singles.

Hi Bithorn was the losing pitcher in the opening clash. His string of scoreless innings for 1943 ended at 17 2-13 when the Pirates broke thru in the third inning. A single by Bill Baker, a triple by Jim Russell, and a fly by Jack Barrett netted the Pirates two runs, to which they added one in the sixth on singles by Bob Elliott and Vince DiMaggio and an infield out.

Second Game Run Unearned.

The one run in the second game was unearned and was accomplished with one out in the fourth. Elbie Fletcher walked on four pitches. After Elliott had flied out, DiMaggio lined a safe one to center. Fletcher paused at third as Peanuts Lowrey threw to second with an apparent chance to get DiMaggio going into second. But there was no one at second and the ball rolled thru the infield. As Fletcher saw this development he broke for home as Barrett pursued the ball to the third base line. Kewpie threw to Al Todd at the plate a split second too late to prevent Elbie from scoring.

Had Fletcher been held to third and DiMaggio reached second on the lone Pirate hit, there would have been no score. Kewpie fanned Frankie Gustine and Pete Coscarart lined to Barrett.

Here is the recapitulation of the floundering Cub offense as the boys displayed themselves before 16,491 paying customers, largest crowd before which they have performed this season:

Nicholson Goes Hitless.

Dom Dallessandro got a single his first time up, then was stopped cold. The same was true of Heinz Becker.

Bithorn made two singles in his game, the only hitter to get two safe ones in one contest and one

Mack's Home Run Breaks 2 to 2 Deadlock.

Detroit, Mich., May 2 (AP).—The Cleveland Indians regained second place in the American League today by defeating the Tigers, 5 to 2, before 22,040 spectators. The scheduled second game was postponed because of weather.

Ray Mack's first 1943 hit, a homer off Johnny Gorsica in the fifth inning, provided the winning margin. Mel Harder, leaving 11 Tigers stranded, gained his second victory against one defeat but needed help from Mike Naymick. Score:

RED SOX, ATHLETICS SPLIT.

Boston, Mass., May 2 (AP).—The Red Sox today split with the Philadelphia Athletics, coming from behind to win the opener, 7 to 6, and then collapsing as the A's racked up an 8 to 1 verdict.

Cecil Hughson, Boston pitching ace, sought his third straight victory in the opener but was roughly treated during the five innings he worked. He gave up six runs on six hits and three errors, two of the miscues being committed by himself. Anton Karl relieved him and got credit for the victory when the Red Sox pushed over the tying and winning runs in the eighth on singles by Roy Partee and Pinch Hitter Dee Miles, a base on balls to Bobby Doerr, and an infield roller by Pinch Hitter Johnny Peacock.

In the second game the A's landed on Ken Chase to pile up a lead which the Red Sox were unable to challenge with Knuckle-baller Roger Wolff holding them to six scattered hits. Scores:

MAJORS ENJOY BIG DAY; 165,189 AT EIGHT PARKS

New York, May 2 (AP).—The major leagues enjoyed their best attendance for the spring today with 165,189 fans turning out at eight ball parks.

The largest crowd was 47,086 paying customers at the Polo grounds in New York to see the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Giants in a double header. All the other clubs except the Chicago White Sox also had good crowds.

In Washington, Griffith stadium was packed almost to capacity with an estimated 32,000 present to see the New York Yankees play the Senators. The figures:

| NATIONAL LEAGUE. | |
|---|---|
| Brooklyn at New York | 47,806 |

CALUMET LAKE FISH POPULATION RISES

State Sen. Walker Butler (left) officiates at ceremony at Calumet Boat club yesterday when Calumet lake was restocked with fish. The Illinois department of conservation placed 5,000 fish in each of Calumet and Wolf lakes. Left to right: State Sen. of two who got two hits all afternoon.

The Cubs' best chance of averting a shutout for the day came in the opening inning of the first game. With one down Stanky singled, advancing to second on Dallessandro's single after Nicholson had fanned. Becker then singled, but Stanky was out at the plate, Barrett to Baker.

Farms Asking for Help.

A grotesque feature of the situation is that Pants Rowland, president of the Los Angeles Angels, and President Bill Veeck of the Milwaukee Brewers have been begging the Cubs to send them some help. It is believed that Manager Jim Wilson, as soon as there is a lucid interval in his pathetic slap-happy state, will entreat Rowland and Veeck to rush him somebody who knows something about hitting.

The Cubs straggled home tonight and on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday will be required to face the world champion St. Louis Cardinals in Wrigley field. On the trip now ending they have won one out of six—Bithorn's 4 to 0 shutout of the Cards—since which they have been slapped down four straight. Wilson was so punchy that he couldn't decide on his plans for the Cards. But he promises to have nine men on the field for each of the St. Louis games. Jim is a game guy that way.

Plant 10,000 Fish

Ten thousand fish, including bluegills, croppies, large mouth black bass, yellow bass, and warmouth bass, were put in Calumet and Wolf lakes yesterday by the Illinois department of conservation. Each lake received 5,000. State Senator Walker Butler officiated at a ceremony at the Calumet Boat club at which he said the stocking would enable war workers in the area to supplement their meat diet with the fish.

Yanks Divide With Senators Before 32,000

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—The Senators gained an even break with the New York Yankees today before 32,000, taking the second game, 4 to 1, behind Rookie Ewald Pyle's six hit hurling after dropping the opener, 11 to 3. In the opener, Ernie Bonham scattered Washington's nine hits.

Sox Beaten by Browns, 3-2 and 5-1

The second inning developed three more hits off Humphries, but despite this the production of another pair of St. Louis runs might have been avoided if Tom Turner hadn't suffered a fielding lapse. Frank Hayes singled with one out and Gutteridge did it with two out. Clift aimed a speedy single into right and Wally Moses replied with a perfect throw to the plate, the ball arriving there while Hayes was many steps away. But in his haste Turner permitted the ball to bounce away and Gutteridge followed Hayes across.

Milt Byrnes opened the fourth with a triple and scored on an infield out but the Sox whittled off this run in their half on Kolloway's double, his second hit off Sundra, and a single by Moses. Nothing much was heard from the Sox bats again until the ninth when singles by Solters and Kolloway, and Stephens' fumble on Moses' tap, filled the bases with one out. Guy Curtright batted for Culler and fouled out, and Turner rolled into a force play to end it all.

Bill Dietrich will start against the Indians when the Sox open a four game series today in Cleveland. It will be Dietrich's third start of the season but his mates, so far, haven't scored a run for him and he has worked 17 innings. Jim Bagby probably will serve for the Indians.

The failure of Thornton Lee to go the route for the second time yesterday doesn't mean that his ailing arm isn't going to function properly after more work. He did no throwing to speak of during training and was out of uniform four days because of illness. He also was idle the numerous days in which the weather man failed to cooperate.

Budweiser Star Beats Anderson by 251 Pins

John Small, member of the Budweisers' bowling team, defeated Vern Anderson, south side bowler, by 251 pins in a 10 game match for a stake of $1,000 at Pla Mor alleys last night. Small rolled 2,202 for an average of 220. Anderson shot 1,951.

VILAS DEFEATS HARRY NYE IN DINGHY FINAL

Jack Vilas Jr. won the final frostbite dinghy race of the Chicago Yacht club's spring series yesterday, by a one point margin over Harry Nye Jr. Vilas, who won three of the seven races, scored a total of 40 points. The other four races were taken by Nye, who finished with 39 points. A. D. Dowrie Jr. and Warren Hedden were tied for third with 29 points each. A team race was called off when the dinghy sailed by Robert Cameron was capsized. Nye rescued Cameron and his crew.

UNCOVER YOUNG JOCKEY STAR AT SPORTSMAN'S

Lawrence Barney Leads with 11 Victories.

Sportsman's Park, the half-mile racing plant in Cicero which has been the incubator of a number of leading jockeys, appears to have another comer in young Lawrence Barney, who goes into today's eighth day of racing at the track with a record of 11 victories. Eight of these were scored during the special six-day program sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

In the first three races of Saturday's official opening of the regular Sportsman's Park meeting the Joliet youngster had two mounts, but finished out of the money in both, and it appeared that such of his rivals as Tony Skoronski, Willie Lowe, and Willie Gillespie would overtake him before the day was over. Barney, who rode the first winner of his life at Lincoln Fields last June, then put on the rally which saw him capture three of the last five races. He started by bringing home Epiget, 11 to 1 shot, in the fourth race, and followed that up with triumphs on Bring Me Home in the fifth and Wicked in the eighth.

Mutuels Reflect Enthusiasm.

The enthusiasm of the bettors during the first seven days of the 1943 season in Illinois is convincingly reflected by the handle of the mutuel machines. During the six days of the charity meeting a total of $1,867,316, which was $51,148 in excess of the same six days of the regular 1942 spring meeting, was wagered. On Saturday the handle was $524,131, against $443,464 for the seventh day of the 1942 program. A preliminary audit of the charity meeting indicates that approximately $75,000 will be realized for distribution by Tribune Charities, Inc., among local welfare agencies, including the United, Catholic, and Jewish Charities.

Juveniles Will Race Today.

Racing Secretary Pat Galfiger has prepared an attractive list of assignments for this week's racing. Today's program includes an allowance race for 2 year olds. Sweeping Ahead, which has won three of his five 1943 races, including one at Sportsman's Park last Thursday, is expected to draw the bulk of the betting attention. Two handicaps are scheduled for Wednesday and another for Saturday.

Preakness Is Next Stake for Count Fleet

Count Fleet came out of his race in good condition. His victory was considered a notable training triumph for Don Cameron because he got the colt ready for this difficult race without missing an important workout despite the fact that Count Fleet suffered a bad cut in the Wood Memorial only two weeks previously.

The Crowd Gets There.

The success of the Kentucky Derby, as reflected in attendance and mutuel betting handle, was a tribute to the steadfastness of Matt J. Winn, who said that he wished merely to keep it going during the war regardless of whether any one came to it or not. Despite the barbs leveled against it, Winn leaned over backward to avoid giving either the burocracy or the reformers an excuse for sniping at it. All requests of transportation authorities were more than complied with in both letter and spirit. And still the crowd got there.

CARDINALS BEAT REDS, 7-6, 6-3; M. COOPER AILING

Lou Klein's Hit Wins in Opener.

St. Louis, Mo., May 2 (AP).—Extra base hits enabled the Cardinals to beat the Cincinnati Reds today, 6 to 3 and 7 to 6.

Lou Klein, rookie shortstop, hit two doubles and a single in the opener to lead the Cardinals' attack and drove in three runs, including the winning marker in the ninth.

Combining three consecutive doubles and a triple with an intentional pass, the Cardinals counted four runs in the first inning of the second game, piled up two more in the second inning. Meantime, Howard Pollet held the Reds in check. Scores:

BRAVES, PHILLIES EVEN

Philadelphia, Pa., May 2 (AP).—The Phillies and the Boston Braves divided today before 12,942. Boston won the first game, 3 to 1, while the Phillies took the second, 6 to 5, in 12 innings.

Danny Litwhiler's double off Red Barrett with the bases filled and none out scored two runs in the twelfth and gave the Phillies their second victory of the season. The Braves had tallied one run in the first half of the twelfth. Pitcher Schoolboy Rowe's pinch hit home run with the bases loaded in the sixth inning had tied the score at 4 all.

Joseph Vanko Gets 1,516 Pins in Junior Classic

Joseph N. Vanko's 1,516 was the highest score shot by three squads of 32 bowlers each yesterday in the third annual Junior classic at Archer-35th recreation. Next best was John P. Kelly's 1,501. Clarence Zavodsky led the first squad of the day with 1,463. Rudy Kraft's 1,578, shot a week ago Saturday, leads the field. The tourney will end on May 23, at which time 2,240 bowlers will have competed.

Chartak Finds Home at Last in the Majors

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Mike Chartak.

The feelings of Mike Chartak, currently employed as a fly chaser and hitter by the St. Louis Browns, won't be least bit bruised if his team should happen to finish ahead of the Yankees in the American league race. In fact, big Mike hopes he can do the job single handed. He does not care much about the Joe McCarthy outfit. Joe kept him on a minor league leash for seven years and then suddently turned him out into the cold world, which in his case meant the second division.

Chartak is a Brooklynite born of Russian parents but he remembers nothing of his early environment except that as soon as he was old enough to hold a rattle his parents moved to Carbondale, Pa., where Pa Chartak took to mining hard coal. So did little Mike in due time, but between shifts he managed to get thru grade and high schools and also play a little semi-pro ball.

On the Yankee Merrygoround.

Mike's hitting feats as a semi-pro drew him an early call. In the fall of 1934—he was only 17 at the time—the Wilkes-Barre, Pa., club signed him before the Yankee scouts arrived, but the latter eventually purchased him from Wilkes-Barre. Then he was put aboard the Yankee farm system merrygoround for the long ride that took him almost everywhere except into the big tent on which he had his eye.

The closest the kid came to his goal was the Yanks' spring camp. They had him there in 1939 but shipped him back to Newark. They had him there again in '40 and again he returned to Newark. The Yankees treated him to free camp meals in '41, but later sent him to the Kansas City farm, supposedly to learn the first basing art as future Yankee protection. He played 84 games as such at Kansas City. Then he was called back to the Yanks for the 1942 camp trip. With Outfielder Tom Henrich due to go into service, Mike figured his chance finally had arrived. It arrived all right, but not as Mike had anticipated.

The Long Trail Ends.

In May of 1942 his hopes of becoming a Yankee headliner were blasted by a railroad ticket. The Yanks had exhausted their option rights on the youngster, and either had to retain him or send him away. The ticket led Mike into the ranks of the humble Senators who soon thereafter traded him to St. Louis for Roy Cullenbine and Pitcher Bill Trotter. Strangely enough, Cullenbine then was sent to the Yanks but didn't linger. Last winter he was traded to the Indians.

Chartak now is the heavy man in the Browns' attack and his knack for power drives is one of the reasons some people believe the Luke Sewell entry is the team the Yanks will have to beat before getting into another world series.

SOX HIRED HAND IS BATTERED BY MILWAUKEE CLUB

The White Sox pitchers have not been having any great success this spring, but even so the club probably will not be sending out a hurry up call for Floyd Speer, the former Shreveport hurler whom they sent to the St. Paul club of the American association last week. Floyd was one of four Saint hurlers taken over the bumps by the Milwaukee Brewers in winning the second game of an American association double header, 24 to 3, in St. Paul yesterday.

Speer started the game and shut out the Brewers in the first inning but yielded six runs in the second before he was taken out. Jake Powell, the old Yankee and Senator outfielder, finally was called in to finish the game on the mound and did at least as well as the regular pitchers. The Saints won the first game, 7 to 4, and the two teams made a total of 53 hits off the so-called dead ball in the double header.

FORD FRICK PUTS ON A RAILROAD DOUBLE PLAY

Ford Frick, president of the National league, yesterday had his own transportation problem, which he solved by returning from St. Louis to New York, with Chicago the pivot point of a travel double play. Frick had been unable to get a direct railroad reservation between St. Louis, where he had been visiting, and New York.

It was learned that last week Frick, on his way to deliver a speech at DePauw university, stopped in Chicago and participated in an informal conference on major league baseball with Commissioner K. M. Landis and Will Harridge, president of the American league. Landis went to New York last Friday and is due to return to Chicago today. The nature of his business in the east was not learned.

ST. GEORGE AND DE LA SALLE WIN SOFTBALL GAMES

The St. George High school softball team scored its second victory of the season yesterday by defeating St. Philip, 15 to 14, in 10 innings, on St. Philip field. The winning run was scored on a single and an error. In another Catholic league game De La Salle scored a 10 to 8 triumph over De Paul on the same field. Scores:

St. George.....060 313 001 1—15 22 4
St. Philip.......080 021 111 0—14 20 6

SWEDES, VIKINGS BOOST MARGINS WITH VICTORIES

Schwabens Lose Soccer Match in Milwaukee.

BY OFFSIDE.

Scoring their first goal in less than half a minute and holding a safe lead all the way, the undefeated Swedish-Americans outclassed the Italians, 5 to 1, in an International Soccer league first division match in Smith stadium yesterday.

The game had barely started when Al Waldron scored from 15 yards. The margin was increased to 3 to 0 by the end of the first half. The winners opened the second half in the same spectacular manner, and Billy Fraser scored from 20 yards after 15 seconds of play.

Vikings Beat Kickers.

The Vikings beat the Kickers, 3 to 0, in a major division game in Winnemac park and stretched their lead over their closest rivals, the Spartas and Slovaks, to six points, each of those clubs being held to a tie yesterday.

The Schwabens were beaten by the Milwaukee Croatian Eagles, 1 to 0, in a semi-final game of the national amateur cup series in Milwaukee. The decisive goal was scored on a penalty kick 10 minutes before the finish.

Two Ties in Major Class.

Jimmy McDermott led the league leading Vikings to their victory over the Kickers, getting two goals. The other was made by Al O'Hare. In other major division games the Spartas and Hansas played a 1 to 1 tie, as did the Slovaks and Chicago Sports. Lineup of the Swedes-Italian game:

Brown to Box Beech Tonight at Marigold

Neville Beech, former Memphis sectional Golden Gloves heavyweight winner, will attempt to halt Clarence Brown's string of three straight knockouts when they meet in a 10 round bout tonight in Marigold Gardens, Brodway and Grace street.

Beech, who is 23 years old and a native of Picayune, Miss., appeared to be a promising prospect when opening his professional campaign in 1940. In 10 starts that year, Neville scored seven victories, four by knockouts. He continued his good work early in 1941 by defeating J. D. Turner in a wild 10 round battle in Hot Springs, Ark.

Whether he will return to that form this evening is doubtful since Brown appears to be carrying a horseshoe in his gloves. Clarence scored early knockouts over Al Jordan, Mickey Hayes, and Jack Trammel in recent weeks.

NOTRE DAME'S GOLFERS DEFEAT DETROIT, 18 TO 0

Notre Dame, Ind., May 2 [Special].—The Notre Dame golf team swept its singles and doubles matches with the University of Detroit today, to win 18 to 0. It was the final match of the season for the Irish, who won four out of five. The singles and doubles matches were played off at the same time.

NAVY PIER LOSES TO NOTRE DAME SAILORS IN TRACK

The Notre Dame midshipmen yesterday defeated Navy Pier in a track meet on Stagg field. Notre Dame, led by John Campbell, scored 77 points against Navy Pier's 37. George Lewis was high point man for Navy Pier with 10.

Mineralites Win Final Sweepstakes of Season

The Mineralites scored 2,943 pins to win the final Sunday bowling sweepstakes of the season sponsored by the Classic league last night at Bensinger's Randolph street alleys. The Budweisers finished second with 2,937 and Chapin & Gore third with 2,861.

Refreshed after a week of spring vacation, 26 members of the City High school baseball league will resume their schedules this afternoon. Three sections will swing back into action with 13 games on today's card.

Five of the seven undefeated teams, Lane, Kelvyn Park, Bowen, Calumet, and Fenger, will see action today trying to maintain their perfect records.

Lane Seeks Fifth Straight.

Coach Percy Moore will send Lane Tech against Senn in Winnemac park, expecting to pick up his fifth straight victory of the season and the 85th in a row in north section competition. Lane has not been defeated in the north section for more than five years. Senn has won only once in three attempts.

Kelvyn Park, coached by Phil Brownstein, also will be seeking its fifth straight victory when it meets Tuley in a west section game in Humboldt park. Tuley is tied for second place in the section with Steinmetz, the 1941 league champion, each having two victories and one defeat.

Fenger and Bowen, each with three straight victories, lead the south section race, with Calumet on their heels with two straight triumphs. Fenger engages Chicago Vocational in Fernwood park, Bowen will be host to Morgan Park in Bessemer park, and Calumet meets Harper in Foster park.

Farragut Faces Gage Park.

Farragut and Harrison, undefeated leaders in the central section, resume their schedules tomorrow. Farragut, with three straight victories, encounters Gage Park in Douglas park, while Harrison, the defending league champion with two straight 1943 victories, meets Phillips, also in Douglas park. Gage Park is the dark horse in the central section, having won three of its four games. Gage Park has a hard hitting team but appears to lack pitchers.

The Catholic Softball league will continue play tonight with three games in St. Philip stadium, Van Buren street and Kedzie avenue. The first game begins at 7 o'clock. Tomorrow night the league also will play three games, bringing its schedule up to date. The necessity of playing three straight nights resulted from Friday night's postponements.

PRO-MANAGERS' TOURNEY WILL BE HELD TODAY

The Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' Association of America will open its 1943 tournament program today by joining with members of the Chicago District Club Managers' association in the annual pro-managers' event at Olympia Fields. Members of the P. G. A., of whom Alex Cunningham of North Shore is president, will take up their teaching duties in THE TRIBUNE's 11th annual free golf school next Monday.

The Chicago District Golf association tonight is holding a special meeting in the La Salle hotel in connection with the new workers' tournament, which the C. D. G. A. will hold Aug. 28 and 29. Qualifying rounds will be held at a number of private, daily fee, and park courses for men who can prove that their particular professions or trades are engaged in at least 90 per cent of war work. The site of the final competition, a 54 hole medal play test, is expected to be announced tonight. The meeting, which will begin at 8 p. m., is open to all officials or private, park and fee courses interested in conducting qualifying rounds.

CARDINALS FACE SCHMITZ TODAY AT GREAT LAKES

The Great Lakes Naval Training station baseball team will face its first major league opposition of the year when the St. Louis Cardinals visit the sailors for a game today, starting at 2 p. m. Johnny Schmitz, former Cub southpaw pitcher, will be on the mound for Great Lakes.

The sailors' scheduled game with the University of Wisconsin yesterday was postponed because of weather.

Tag Team Match Tops Tonight's Wrestling Card

Frankie Hart and Ned Taylor will meet Charles [Gorilla] Grubmyer and Ivan Kalmikoff in an Australian tag team match featuring the wrestling program tonight in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue. The match is set for one hour. Gordon Hessell, Marquette, Mich., heavyweight, will meet Pete Bartu, Bill Thornton will encounter Bobby Nelson, and Joe Szabo will meet Mike Markoff.

NEWS OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE

PEAK STEWART WARNER SALES BOOST PROFITS

War Output 3 Times Year Ago Rate.

Record sales and increased profits for the Stewart-Warner corporation in the quarter ended with March were reported yesterday by James S. Knowlson, president, who said the company's war production was three times that of the first quarter a year ago.

Net income of the company, which in peace time is a large producer of automotive parts, radios, refrigerators, and other products, increased to $831,398 in the March quarter from $690,777 a year ago. Earnings per common share, after preferred dividend requirements, were 65 and 54 cents respectively.

Gross Profit Larger.

The first quarter provision for federal and Canadian income and excess profits taxes was $4,365,089, compared with $3,271,834 in the corresponding 1942 period. The taxes were computed on the basis of 1942 rates but without deduction for post-war refund of excess profits tax. Gross profit on sales totaled $6,305,491, compared with $5,045,693 a year earlier.

Knowlson cautioned stockholders that present earnings and future prospects should be considered in the light of the probable effect of such factors as the new tax law and renegotiation of war contracts.

"It should further be borne in mind," he said, "that while sales are running at an all time high, and while our production of war material has increased three fold as compared with the first quarter of last year, there is apparently a tendency at present for the services to readjust both their schedules and their requirements. The effect which these readjustments may have on future production is difficult to determine."

Other Companies Report.

Among other companies reporting earnings yesterday were:

NATIONAL STEEL CORP.—Net income in the first quarter of this year amounted to $2,680,850, equal to $1.21 a share, compared with profit of $2,675,837 in the first quarter of 1941, also equal to $1.21 a share of stock. The figures are subject to year end adjustments, the company said.

PUBLIC SERVICE CO. OF NOR. ILL.—First quarter net income increased to $1,007,969 from $795,461 reported for the first quarter of 1941. The latter figure, however, would have been $869,461 if adjusted to correct excessive tax accruals made during the period, the company said.

CONTINENTAL OIL—Profit was $3,335,475 for the March quarter, compared with $3,544,165 a year ago. Earnings per common share, after preferred dividend requirements, were 71 and 76 cents respectively.

Alleghany Corp. Gets Bank Loan to Pay Off Bond Issue

New York, May 2 [Special].—Alleghany corporation announced today consummation of an agreement with a banking group for a loan of approximately $19,600,000 for six years at 4 per cent for the purpose of paying off, not later than July 6, the outstanding $22,647,000 of Alleghany 5 per cent collateral trust bonds due Feb. 1, 1944. The bonds are callable at 102½ and accrued interest on 60 days' notice. Notice of the call was given today.

Chicago Bank Participates.

Participating in the loan will be the following banks taking the indicated percentages of the total:

Guaranty Trust company, 31; Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company, Chicago, 31; Manufacturers Trust company, 20; J. P. Morgan & Co., Inc., 10; Manufacturers and Traders Trust company, Buffalo, 2½; Central National Bank of Cleveland, 2½; Union Bank of Commerce company, Cleveland, 1¼; State-Planters Bank and Trust company, Richmond, Va., 1¼, and First National Bank in Palm Beach, Palm Beach, Fla., ½ of 1 per cent.

Pledges C. & O. Stock.

Interest on the notes is due quarterly to June 1, 1949. Income from securities pledged will be used to pay such interest and, with other funds, to reduce principal at the quarterly dates, the company said. Securities pledged will include at the outset 40 shares of common stock of Chesapeake and Ohio Railway company for each $1,000 principal amount of the notes. The agreement makes provision for consideration of a reduction in interest rate on the notes when the principal has been reduced below 10 million dollars.

Alleghany corporation retains, under terms of the loan, all voting rights with respect to the pledged C. & O. common stock and other collateral.

2 Big Utilities Issue Reports on '42 Results

Net income of $1,541,187 for 1942, compared with $1,431,227 in 1941, was disclosed yesterday by the Central and South West Utilities company, large public utility holding company, in its annual report mailed to stockholders. The company is controled by the Middle West corporation which owns more than half the preferred and prior lien stocks and 61 per cent of the common stock of Central and South West.

The pamphlet report of another big utility holding company, the Standard Gas and Electric company, Chicago, confirmed the preliminary earnings report which showed 1942 net earnings of $1,135,218 against $1,119,380 in 1941. Leo T. Crowley, head of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation and federal alien property custodian, is chairman of the board and president of Standard.

Delay Annual Meeting.

Standard filed a recapitalization plan with the securities and exchange commission on March 24. The report said that because of hearings to be held on this action the company's annual meeting of stockholders had been postponed to Dec. 1 from the regularly scheduled time of the third Wednesday in May.

Central and South West reported that total income, not consolidated, was $1,707,362 in 1942, derived primarily from dividends paid by subsidiaries, compared with $1,576,221 in 1941 from the same sources.

Operating Expenses Cut.

Operating expenses of the parent company were reduced from $48,919 in 1941 to $40,977 in 1942, largely as a result of decreased legal and other professional services employed in connection with matters pending before the securities and exchange commission, the report said.

Taxes aggregated $120,995 in 1942, compared with $76,663 in 1941. At the end of last year dividends in arrears totaled $3,748,783 on the prior lien preferred stock and $10,136,043 on the preferred stock.

URGE PLANNING TO AVOID STATE BUSINESS RULE

Group Warns Jobs Must Be Ready.

New York, May 2 (AP).—Unless industry and government together solve the problems of post-war employment, the free enterprise system may "give way to a form of state socialism," a report of the post-war economic planning committee said today.

The committee, a unit of the American Business congress, making public results of a questionnaire to its members, termed employment the key problem of the post-war period. Members of the group, totaling 100 and representing virtually every state, were agreed the primary task would be to provide jobs for an unprecedented number, "including both the demobilized forces and the majority of those now engaged in war production."

Wilson Urges a Meeting.

"Preservation of the free enterprise system can be assured, it is generally agreed, only if the industrial forces—labor, capital, technicians and management—find a common basis and are organized to accept the responsibility of full employment and profitable production," the report said.

Charles E. Wilson, vice chairman of the war production board and a member of the committee, was quoted as saying that a "congress of the free enterprise system" should be held as soon as practicable. The committee concurred.

Asks World Industrialization.

"Such a congress," said the report, "is favored as a means of devising formulas for demobilization day and for rebuilding our own nation and the world."

The committee advocated that

POST-WAR WORK SURVEYS PUSHED BY CITY, STATE

New York Gives 3 Million Fund to Planners.

Increasing interest of municipal government officials in post-war planning was reflected in recent actions by New York state and the city of Philadelphia, the American Society of Planning Officials said yesterday.

Public works planning in New York state was stimulated when the legislature extended the life of the state's temporary planning commission and granted it a 3 million dollar fund for use in the preparation of plans. The state expects to provide half the funds spent by cities in planning for public works.

Studying Material Needs.

The commission, which was established last year, has gathered designs prepared by cities. Also 32 state building construction projects have been approved and the designs financed by the commission, which also has begun compiling data on employment possibilities and material needs of the projects.

Philadelphia's commission on city planning was established by the city council to chart the city's growth and draft a financial plan of improvements. The council directed the commission to submit each year before Sept. 15 a report on a six year construction program, including estimates of the projects' costs.

Asks City Master Plan.

The mayor, in appointing the commission, instructed it to draft a comprehensive master plan for the city, coördinating physical improvements with an accompanying financial plan to insure their orderly execution.

The plan is to include corrective measures to halt declines in real estate values; attention to mass transportation facilities as they affect the city's growth; street planning on the assumption of heavy post-war traffic increases; relation of recreational and playground facilities to the housing problem, and preparation for a sewage disposal system that can be started immediately after the war.

ASSERT FIGURES REFUTE BIG WAR PROFIT CHARGES

New York, May 2 (AP).—The National City bank said today in its monthly business survey that 1942 earnings records of major industrial concerns refute charges that the producers of munitions and war materials are making "exorbitant" or "unconscionable" profits out of the war.

Belief that profits were excessive, said the bank's report, was based "upon ignorance of the facts, uncritical acceptance of various misrepresentations, or assumption that a few exceptional instances are typical."

Facts now available, it said, show that the actual average profit on sales after taxes reported by large companies for 1942 was "but little more than 4 per cent." Net income of 40 "large and nationally known manufacturers of war products," said the survey, fell 23 per cent below 1941 and 17 per cent below 1940.

U. S. COTTON LOANS.

The department of agriculture reports that Commodity Credit corporation had made 1,576,722 loans on 3,099,138 bales of 1942 crop cotton thru April 24, 1943. Loans on 1941 crop cotton numbered 381,789 on 683,930 bales as of March 31.

URGE PLANNING TO AVOID STATE BUSINESS RULE

Group Calls Assuring Jobs Imperative.

"this country do all in its power to help industrialize the rest of the world," and said "economic and military imperialism should be outlawed in the era of peace ahead, with such a policy upheld by a united nations police force."

It said adoption of profit sharing plans "meets with wide acceptance by committee members" as a way of "eliminating labor strife, increasing production, reducing costs, and, if lower costs are passed on to the consumer, enlarging markets, thereby insuring continuity of employment."

SERVICE CHARGE.

A short time ago I bought from a security house a bond listed on the New York Stock exchange. When I received my bill there was a charge of $10 marked "service charge" in addition to the $5 commission. When I complained I was told they could have charged $20 if they wanted to. What about this?—H. M.

Answer: We cannot tell whether you were overcharged or not without knowing more details of the transaction. If the house thru which you placed the order furnished you with statistical services or investment counsel it would be entitled to make a charge for that service.

Member firms of the stock exchanges are limited to certain standard commission rates for simply executing buying and selling orders for listed securities. In the case of a bond selling under 1 [$1 per $100 par value], the standard commission is $1.50 for each $1,000 of principal, on orders for 1 or 2 bonds. If the bond sells for more than 1 but less than 10, the commission rate is $2.50, and on bonds selling at 10 or more the rate is $5.

If you will let us have more details on your transaction we may be able to determine whether or not the service charge of $10 was justified.

20 WACKER DRIVE.

Answer: The regular meeting date is the second Monday in March, but this year's meeting has been postponed to June 7 at 11 a. m. The meeting will be held in the Civic Opera building and notices will be sent to stockholders.

LITTLE NON-CMP ALLOTTED STEEL LEFT FOR BUYER

Buyers not already covered by controled materials plan numbers will receive little steel before July, the magazine Steel said yesterday.

"Conversion from the production requirements plan to CMP is practically complete and much tonnage which failed to be validated by CMP has been canceled, clearing mill books on many orders on which delivery was remote and practically impossible," the trade publication added.

Better delivery and quality of steel and iron scrap was reported, but little progress has been made in accumulating reserves.

Steel producers have coal stocks on hand varying from 10 days' supply up to sufficient for several months, Steel estimated.

1 one does it—in Philadelphia

In advertising, in circulation, in coverage of the market, The Evening Bulletin is the leading daily newspaper of Philadelphia. With a circulation of over 600,000, it is the largest evening newspaper in America.

And—

NEW SUB-DESTROYER LAUNCHED IN CHICAGO

Designed for unlimited ocean service, the 827 is larger and more powerfully armed than previous patrol craft and submarine chasers. Since it will do convoy patrol duty anywhere a submersible can go and, with its main armament, will outshoot a surfaced submarine, Navy officers expect that in day time this ocean watchdog will keep U-boats submerged and therefore less formidable against convoys. The 827 is about 180 feet long and is powered with Diesel motors. Its armament will include surface and anti-aircraft guns, depth charges, and other anti-submarine devices. The Pullman Standard shipyard is one of a number at which PCE's are being built or will be built.

WOULD
COSTS ONLY 75c
Quite often $25 in cash is about all it takes to tide a person over until payday

As you can see from the example above the cost on our monthly rate of 3% on balance of $150 or less and 2½% on that part of the unpaid balance over $150, is extremely moderate. Of course, if you need a larger amount, just let us know. Loans $10 to $300.
